MEXICO SOUNDS BELLIGERENT NOTE IN REPLY

Ultimatum.

SURRENDER OF JUAREZ ASKED

Madero Gives Town Day's Grace.

Message Transmitted to Gen. Navarro Through American Consul Edwards.

Federal Commander Scorns to Reply; Turns on Heel and Walks Away.

Forces of Rebel Chief Have Town Surrounded and Are Marching On.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO (Tex.) April 19.—A formal demand was made tonight upon Gen. Juan Navarro for the surrender of Juarez to the insurrecto army of Francisco I. Madero within twenty-four hours. The demand reached Gen. Navarro's headquarters while he was inspecting fortifications for the city's defense.

The above was confirmed by Gonsalez Garza, Secretary-General for the insurrecto party, who said:

"Formal demand of the insurrectos for the surrender of Juarez within twenty-four hours has been made upon Gen. Navarro, commanding the Federal garrison of Juarez. The note was sent from El Paso by a messenger to American Consul Edwards in Juarez to be transmitted by him to Navarro. No reply has been received."

Later it was learned that Consul Edwards delivered the note at Navarro's headquarters while the latter was on a tour of inspection.

At 8 o'clock tonight Gen. Navarro said:

"I have received no notice asking me to surrender."

He turned on his heel and walked away.

"But, general, the insurrecto Secretary says the demand has been made," he was told.

"I have received no such notice," he replied again, and walked away.

Garza was still in his office tonight at 8:30 o'clock and said he did not think he would leave tonight for the field to see Madero.

"Our men are anxious for a fight, and I do not know if we can restrain them," he declared.

CHICAGO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, has set the newest fashion. She sometimes wears five strands of beads of gold, adorned with golden bangles, about her ankle. The anklet is of plain gold. There is not a single jewel in it. It is a style of Mrs. McCormick's own invention. No jewelers have the ornament in stock as yet, so far as could be learned. "Ah, yes, Mrs. McCormick has an anklet," said her secretary. "She has it and wears it."

THE CITY. H. R. Harris, confessed assailant of little girls, was ordered held without bail in the County Jail last night while the police make an investigation of the strong chain of circumstances pointing to him as the so-called Boyle Heights fiend. A blackened eye is an important factor.

The city was restrained yesterday in Judge Dooling's court from enforcing the provisions of the billboard ordinance, in a suit filed by a sign painter, who claimed that it is unconstitutional and will confiscate valuable rights of his.

A government prisoner, who must receive a pardon before he can testify, was brought to this city from the Federal penitentiary, under cover, in the case of Attorney Thompson, who is charged with receiving money that had been embezzled.

A fifteen-year-old girl was rescued yesterday from a rooming-house. Her hands had been tied, and she was a raving maniac. The proprietor of the house was arrested, and confessed he was responsible for her condition.

Attorney George P. Adams forwarded to the Mayor yesterday afternoon a letter asking the removal of Park Commissioner Allen, charging that he is not a qualified doctor of the city. Silent made a denial.

Chicago detectives have arrested in this city three men said to be the ringleaders of a gang that has been looting freight cars in the guise of teamsters.

A violent picket who brutally assaulted a free workingman because he would not quit his job, was convicted and fined $15 by Police Judge Fredericksen yesterday.

On the ground that it was illegally constructed, the city yesterday began proceedings against the Los Angeles Railway Corporation to revoke its franchise on San Pedro street and South Park avenue.

Two pretty young women completed in the city yesterday a remarkable journey, reaching the end of a six months' trip embracing 28,000 miles. They traveled through South America unaccompanied and unchaperoned.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. George Franklin Jewett, a resident of Ventura, and for many years a farmer near Saticoy, died suddenly Tuesday while fishing on Coyote Creek, in the Casitas. He failed to keep an appointment, and a searching party discovered the corpse.

The town of Perris, Riverside county, at a special election held Tuesday, decided by a vote of sixty-eight to thirty-three to incorporate as a city.

Voters of Riverside county yesterday discussed the effect of the amendment which will put the property owned by public service corporations from the county assessment. One Supervisor favored a horizontal raise in the assessment.

The Flower Show, which is to open in Santa Madre today under the auspices of the Women's Club, will continue Friday and Saturday. The queen and her attendants are to appear in a parade Saturday afternoon.

An enthusiastic audience in the Board of Trade rooms in Pasadena last night heard a discussion of the reasons for the proposed city bond issues.

Pasadena society is looking forward to a rare entertainment in the Kiremeti, which will be given tonight and tomorrow night.

For the first time a rather large acreage of Chihuahua in this season being planted to beans. The brown variety and the limas are found in favor with the ranchmen.

Reports that the steam schooner Orient is smuggling Chinese from the Mexican coast, Capt. Aalgeworth left San Diego last night for San Francisco in the hope of securing one of the detached torpedo boats now at Mare Island.

Edward McGuire, a motorman on the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway, has received notice that he has fallen heir to $70,000. He says that he expects for the present to continue to work on the railroad as usual.

The mournful howling of his dogs led to the discovery yesterday of the body of Peter Errance, a shepherd, in a canyon on the Arrambide ranch, five miles east of Whittier. He had apparently lost his life by falling from a trail.

Every man who can find room on the boat is being employed on the new steamer Navajo, at Long Beach, in an effort to get her ready for her maiden trip Saturday.

For the first time in many weeks, burglars entered two stores in Santa Ana, Tuesday night. Attempts were made to enter two other places, but the men were probably frightened away.

PACIFIC SLOPE. Evidence three years old being barred, Frank W. Keltenbach, charged with abstracting money from a bank in Lewiston, Idaho, of which he was president, was set free yesterday.

Noted old-time politician of San Francisco was yesterday examined as to his sanity, his wife being called to testify against him.

A lawyer and a banker were sentenced to serve terms in jail yesterday by a San Francisco judge for complicity in the kidnaping of the Henry children.

The business men of Portland are planning a land show like the one recently held in Los Angeles.

The revenue cutter Manning got orders in Seattle yesterday to make ready to put to sea to head off Japanese seal poachers.

Richard A. Ballinger, former Secretary of the Interior, said in Seattle yesterday that President Taft will not make a visit to the Pacific Coast this year.

GENERAL EASTERN. James Speyer will today take the place of Paul M. Warburg on the directorate of the Missouri Pacific. His banking house is closely allied with the Deutsche Bank.

Eden Goodrich, who was Nat Goodwin's fourth wife, has written the manuscript of a novel that is said to tell the story of her own divorce experiences.

Newly-elected socialist Mayor of Illinois town declares his first official act will be to get on the water wagon and fire the entire police force of the town.

The grand jury in Danville, Ill., hearing of a plot to indict former Speaker Cannon on mere fictions adjourned yesterday.

Testifying in Pittsburgh, yesterday in a case of alleged restraint of trade makers of enameled ware admitted they were in an agreement and blamed the plumber for high prices.

A New York woman hearing that the common law wife of her father is living in Los Angeles, announced yesterday that she intends to sue for half of the $300,000 estate left by him.

FOREIGN. Mexican Federals annihilated the rebel forces at Tamaxula. William Collins, American leader of the insurrectos, was killed.

Secretary MacVeagh, addressing the bankers of South Carolina, yesterday, said the time had come for the South to break away from the one party system.

Deep resentment has been aroused in Japan by the discovery that China has pledged the revenue of Manchurian provinces as security for a $50,000,000 loan.

Eight of the 800 passengers on the Portuguese mail steamer Lusitania were drowned off Capetown yesterday in transferring from the steamer which is on the rocks to a British warship.

Small force of Federals yesterday left Agua Prieta with orders to attack Juan Cabral's band of rebels near Naco.

WASHINGTON. Former Speaker Cannon yesterday led the attack upon Canadian reciprocity in the National House of Representatives, and declared his intention of voting against the measure.

Mexican insurrecto representative yesterday declares negotiations were under way for an armistice; Mexican Ambassador and President Taft exchanged expressions of good will; distinct note of hopefulness over situation apparent.

Bitter denunciation of newspaper influence on print paper legislation was made by Former Speaker Cannon yesterday in his address on reciprocity.

FINANCIAL. Though Wall street was a bit confused yesterday by Missouri Pacific developments the stock of that railway was not much affected.

Plenty of wheat was offered for sale on the Chicago board of trade yesterday and

NAZAS FALLS TO INSURRECTOS.

Little Town in State of Coahuila Surrenders After Valiant Defense by Handful of Federals.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TORREON (Mex.) April 19.—Nazas, a town near Pedricena, in the State of Coahuila, was captured by the rebels Monday, after a fight with Federals which began Sunday morning, according to reports received today. The town was defended by thirty men while the insurrecto force is placed at eighty-six under Cipriano Fuentes.

The fighting continued until 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when the attacking forces withdrew. The assault was renewed Monday and after a short and valiant defense the town fell. On both sides the number of dead

PROPOSITIONS FOR ARMISTICE SPEEDING ON WAY TO MADERO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Considerable progress was made today in the negotiations for an armistice between the Mexican government and the revolutionists. Dr. Vasquez Gomez, head of the confidential agency of the revolutionists here, who is conducting the negotiations, received word that his message, setting forth the armistice proposition and requesting definite instructions as to the code used had its way to Gen. Francisco I. Madero, Jr., who is encamped several miles south of Juarez, Mex.

Dr. Gomez also was informed that his first message of last week, sent by way of Chihuahua City, and outlining the preliminary peace negotiations in which he had engaged, has been received by Gen. Madero, but that a confusion as to the code used had

AMERICA BLAMED BY MEXICO FOR DEATH OF AMERICANS.

Diaz Government Prepares Note Which Contains Hostile Sound.

Minister De la Barra Drafts Answer to Protest of the United States Which Will Be Submitted to Mexican Congress at Secret Meeting This Afternoon—Tenor of Reply Far From Being Conciliatory.

BY STEPHEN BONSAL.

[Copyright, 1911, by the Los Angeles Times, the New York Times, and the Chicago Record-Herald.]

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An extraordinary misunderstanding is responsible for the erroneous impression prevailing in the United States concerning both the form and the contents of the Mexican government's note in reply to the protest of the United States government.

President Diaz, far from promising satisfactory restrictive measures in border operations, such as are demanded by Washington, merely states that he has repeated to the Federal commanders the orders which had previously been issued by the Mexican government on its own initiative, and before the Washington note was received. Under these orders, which have not been changed, it was possible for American citizens, on American soil, going about their daily occupation, to meet death or serious injury.

The Mexican note states, categorically, that the Diaz government is not liable for damages of any kind because of these occurrences.

It is rumored, though I cannot positively vouch for this, that the regrettable misconception as to the tenor of the note arose in this wise:

The Mexican foreign office is naturally heavily burdened with worn at this moment, and, to excuse the delay while the actual note was being drafted, a high official of the Department of Foreign Affairs telephoned or conveyed verbal assurances to the American Embassy of what the delayed note would contain.

It is now clear that the official formal note anything but lives up to these assurances. The actual reply well-nigh ignores the American representations and demands. Four-fifths of it is occupied with counter-charges and recriminations which sometimes pass the border of what is permissible in diplomatic procedure.

The contents of this note cannot but have an untoward effect on the relations between the two governments and will certainly tend to exasperate the people here, who are naturally excited by the fact that many Americans are serving with the insurgents—a fact that is magnified here by the official press until the casual reader comes to believe that the great majority of the insurgents are Americans.

CONTENTS OF MEXICAN NOTE.

The contents of the Mexican reply came into my possession today because one group, at least, of government officials are proposing to publish it here, perhaps tomorrow, for the purpose of obtaining the popularity which undoubtedly a stalwart policy against the United States would enjoy.

The Mexican note begins by saying that the American government is mistaken in stating that Mexican Federal troops fired on the town of Douglas. This is an occurrence, runs the note, which the Mexican government regrets, but, in view of official and other information received, they are confident that not the Federals but the revolutionists, especially American citizens, were responsible for the firing, resulting in casualties. These American citizens, runs the note, are taking a punishable part in the Mexican affairs, and will be punished as they should be by the Mexican government. To support this contention the note cites the testimony of John Dean, a citizen of Douglas, who in a sworn statement, says the company of "Red" Lopez was largely composed of Americans who did the slaughtering.

"It was these Americans who caused the deadly or dangerous wounds which Your Excellency justly laments," says Minister de la Barra.

The note then runs on as follows:

"But, supposing your statement of the occurrence to be correct; the matter is not deserving of the importance attached to it, because it is well known that the Mexican government wishes to avoid a conflict. Indeed, these fatal incidents should be counted among those occurrences which Your Excellency's government, with so much judgment and experience, should realize are inevitable under the circumstances existing on the border.

BLAMES AMERICANS FOR CASUALTIES.

"The Mexican government continues to note and deplores in the extreme, that the American government is misinformed as to the facts, or is interpreting them incorrectly. No one could think for one moment that Federal troops had the intention or desire to inflict damage to American lives or property. As a matter of fact, they only defended themselves from strangers (extranos) who were attacking them in a town that had been entrusted to their custody. These same strangers are tireless in endeavoring to create difficulties between the United States and Mexican governments.

"While on this point the President requests me to say that he is surprised and pained to learn, by information which has reached this Ministry, that individuals undoubtedly passed from the American army to the Mexican side, and, not content with this flagrant violation of neutrality, which may be attributed to the confusion that exists regarding the line, dissuaded the Federals from continuing themselves, indeed, even disarmed them (the Federals) and handed their arms over to the revolutionists, all of which was done at the instigation of the seditious factions.

"I have to complain," continues the Minister of Foreign Affairs, "of another very clear case of violation of neutrality, which I are certain the government of the United States will know how to punish in proper form. A rifle of one of the revolutionists, having gotten out of order while the battle was in progress, this man crossed the line, had his rifle fixed by the American police, and returned to the Mexican side and took his place.

"We also claim that Lieut. Troncoso of the Federal army was wounded by a shot from the American customhouse, from which shots came constantly during the struggle, without it being perfectly plain whether the shots came from the revolutionists who had taken possession of the customhouse or from Americans who sympathize with the revolution and who were present in that United States building."

Referring again to the casualties in Douglas, the note reads:

"While, of course, deplorable, these misfortunes should not be imputed to the malevolence of Mexican soldiers; these unfortunate people are the victims of a struggle which is going on upon Mexican territory between the Federal troops and the seditious rebels, who have called foreigners to their assistance."

COMPLAINT AGAINST AMERICAN.

After imputing many of the casualties to carelessness and unbridled curiosity on the part of the citizens of Douglas the note concludes with a formal complaint against Maj. Gardner, who, while in command of American troops opposite Agua Prieta, would not allow the Federal troops to entrench themselves in desirable positions.

"To avoid a conflict, and while awaiting instructions from higher authorities," it is declared, "the Federal troops did not take up these positions, but

Mexican Chamber Opposes Secret Negotiations.

Rush Is Indicated.

DECISIVE FIGHT FOR OJINAGA.

Battle Is Expected There in Twenty-four Hours.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PRESIDIO (Tex.) April 19.—(Via Marfa, Tex.) A decisive battle for possession of Ojinaga, across the border from Presidio, is expected within twenty-four hours.

With the arrival today of 300 insurrectos under Antonio Villareal, bringing with them two twelve-pound cannon and one machine gun, preparations began that indicate a rush on the Federal garrison is in prospect.

Villareal's forces include sixty-two Americans who are under the leadership of "Death Valley Slim."

The army of Gen. Cruz Sanchez, insurrecto commander, now numbers about 300 men.

The famous McFinnity gun, stolen from El Paso, fired the first shot today, announcing the opening of the day's activities against the city.

CAVALRY STARTS OUT TO RELIEVE OJINAGA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) April 19.—One thousand Federal cavalry left here today for the relief of Ojinaga. They will proceed by train to Paloma, thence ninety miles overland to Ojinaga. The insurrecto activity in the north found most of the available Federal troops here. Now there is a general outward movement to meet the insurrectos.

Word from the interior of participation of Francisco I. Madero, the insurrecto elader, in the fight makes it less probable he will change his movements to confer with his father on peace proposals. It is possible the father may be able to place himself in touch with the leader. Peace possibilities, as viewed here, are growing more remote. It developed today the fourteen American prisoners on their last day's march to Chihuahua had had nothing to eat. For thirty-six hours they were without food as they marched on the hot desert through blinding sandstorms. This was due entirely to the exigencies of war and not to any neglect. All the prisons were in excellent health and they arrived here in good spirits.

United States Consul Letcher interviewed the men individually and saw that they obtained all necessary supplies. The first things the prisoners asked for were soap, matches and tobacco. Owing to the excellent climate here, the prisoners have plenty of air and light in their cells.

AMERICAN TROOPS AT DOUGLAS REINFORCED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DOUGLAS, April 19.—American cavalry is now strung out along the border for a distance of four miles east and four miles west of Douglas. The troops to the west are to keep under inspection territory for a distance of several miles beyond the point to which their patrol extends. These orders have been issued by Col. F. W. Sibley, Fourteenth Cavalry, now commanding officer here. Two of the six troops are constantly kept on patrol, the other four being held in reserve.

Col. Sibley was notified today that the Sixth Cavalry had entrained at Des Moines, Iowa, for the border; the first squadron will be stationed in Douglas; the second at Nogales; and the third at Fort Huachuca. Col. Charles O'Connor, commander of the Sixth, will probably relieve Col. Sibley, who is under orders to join his regiment in the Philippines.

Robert Harrington, the American switchman killed in Thursday's battle, was buried today. The authorities were unable to get trace of any of his relatives.

GOV. SLOAN APPEALS TO DOUGLAS CITIZENS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PHOENIX, April 19.—As the result of information received by Gov. Sloan of the arrest in Douglas of Pedro Uriguis, secretary to the Mexican Consul there, and G. C. Lellivier, editor of a pro-rebel paper, following a fist fight between them, the Governor has sent this message to the Douglas papers:

"Have learned that the secretary to the Mexican Consul was assaulted on the streets of Douglas today and subsequently arrested. The situation all along the border is such that such occurrences tend to aggravate international difficulties. In the present emergency any one who willfully aggravates the situation dishonors his country, and puts our government at a disadvantage with Mexico. Such acts cannot be too strongly condemned, and I call upon all the citizens of Douglas to assist in every way possible in preventing repitition. Thus far the conduct of the people of Douglas has been admirable, so that I have reason to believe this appeal will be effective and meet with acquiescence. Particularly, I trust that all officers of the law will see to it that neutrality is observed, so far as may lie in their power to maintain it. Good citizens should be more concerned in upholding the honor of their own country than in showing their sympathies for or against the government of a neighboring country."

[Signed] "RICHARD E. SLOAN,
"Governor of Arizona."

REBELS FIGHT BY TELEPHONE

Threatens Ensenada Thrice a Day—"Come and Take It," Vega's Answer.

SAN DIEGO, April 19.—Three times a day Gen. Simon Berthold, in command of the rebel forces at Alamo, telephones to Gov. Vega at Ensenada, commanding him to surrender the capital of the territory, and three times a day Gov. Vega tells the insurgent leader to come and take it.

The situation is causing considerable amusement in Ensenada. No attempt has been made to cut the telephone wires between the two points and in perfect security both forces can communicate with each other.

"We are going to take Ensenada," Berthold is reported to have telephoned a few days ago, "but we don't like to kill any one. If you will kindly agree to surrender we will occupy the capital peacefully, but if not you must stand the consequences."

Gov. Vega finally lost his temper, and when Berthold sent his third message yesterday, the Governor is reported to have used stronger language than is usually employed over a telephone.

AGUA PRIETA PEOPLE MOVE ACROSS BORDER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) April 19.—An exodus of families living in Agua Prieta into Douglas has been a feature of the day. The refugees say they have been advised to get out of the town by the Federal authorities, as they are expecting an attack from the rebels. The Federals have been keeping their field glasses trained upon the surrounding country during the day, and they report that the rebel army is in Cenizas Springs.

Francisco Chiapa, prefect of Moctezuma, is probably in command of the detachment which left Agua Prieta this afternoon, presumably to offer Cabral battle.

TELLS OF AN OFFER.

Warren Says Madero Rejected a Proposition to Lay Down Arms for Eight Million Pesos.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chester Warren of Monterey and a friend of Madero, the insurrecto, who reached Del Rio, Tex., today, is authority for the statement that the party in Mexico, composed of the financiers backing Diaz, offered Madero 8,000,000 pesos to lay down arms.

"The offer was made to Madero ten days ago," said Warren, "and with it the government promised that they would grant the reforms asked for in less than six months. Madero replied that he was not a Judas and he could not be bought either with money, threats, or promises, and that he would cease fighting only when the reforms were in effect, or death claimed him. In substance, this was his reply and I was at Madero's headquarters when he received the offer."

Alarmed.

MEXICANS BEGIN TO FEAR ACTION.

Chamber of Deputies Insists on Full Information.

Direct Negotiations Looming Up as Possibility.

Secrecy No Longer Considered as Good Policy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICO CITY, April 19.—At the request of the Chamber of Deputies, Minister De la Barra will make to that body tomorrow a full report regarding the negotiations for peace and the relations of Mexico with the United States. Last night it was announced that the Minister proposed to render a report to the Senate on the subject of the controversy between the two countries as the result of the revolution, but when the chamber convened at 4 o'clock this afternoon it became evident that many of its members were not at all satisfied with this arrangement. They demanded all information available.

So far the negotiations for peace have been carried out largely by agents unofficially representing the government, but it is no secret that the Minister of Foreign Affairs is the man who has been most instrumental in their direction.

In asking for the reports the Chamber of Deputies is bringing into the open not only the question of the relations with the United States fast becoming a bugaboo, but the negotiations for peace.

The reports will be made in open session, and all Mexico is to know just what is being done to end the war.

DEEP SIGNIFICANCE.

A still deeper significance is that by their act the Deputies have practically placed their country in a position where it can deal frankly and openly with the rebels, something which up to this time has been impossible for the unofficial agents to do.

It is not at all improbable that after having heard the Minister's reports the deputies may take an active part in the settlement of the revolution by assisting in the negotiations for peace. Officially the chamber has not been asked to assist. Indeed, officially, it has known nothing of negotiations for peace and could not, inasmuch as the government has not recognized the existence of a revolutionary army of sufficient power to justify it in treating with its emissaries.

The action of the Chamber of Deputies was taken in executive session, which lasted two hours. A number of speeches were made, but when the vote was taken it was evident that but a small part of the body was in favor of continuing the methods that have prevailed for so many years. The vote stood 117 for the measure and thirty-two against it.

Immediately after the closing of the session a committee called upon Minister De la Barra at the foreign office and informed him of the action taken.

DE LA BARRA FRANK.

Instead of being annoyed by the action of the deputies, as doubtless would have been many a member of the President's family under the old system, the Minister was well pleased.

Since his acceptance of the portfolio his work has been characterized by frankness, and it is known that if given his own way it would be still more frank.

He is anxious that all Mexicans should know what is being done, believing that with the removal of secrecy much more rapid progress can be made and that much of the nervousness and pessimism now displayed by the Mexicans will be removed.

There is no doubt that now the Mexicans believe American intervention is imminent and a large part of them ignorant of just what is being done, consider it inevitable. In a letter from the Presidente re-electionist clubs of the country, the organization formed for the support of Gen. Diaz during the last political campaign, Rosendo Pineda, the leader of the group, issues a warning based on the possibility of United States intervention.

Mr. Pineda recently returned from New York. As he was there when the permanent committee of Congress adopted the famous measure for the suspension of guarantees, he took no part in that move, although president of the committee. In his letter Mr. Pineda urges all members of these clubs to stand together to avert "a terrible and imminent danger to the honor and the autonomy of the country, United States intervention."

Before going into executive session the second reading was given the Bulnes measure, providing for the non-re-election of a President, Vice-president or any State Governor. This measure should come up for discussion tomorrow and it is expected many members of the chamber will claim the right of speech.

The bill has been altered by the committee so that in addition it carries the provision that a Vice-President immediately be elected to the presidency immediately following his term as Vice-President; that a Minister of Foreign Affairs shall not go directly from the Cabinet to the Presidency; that no relative of either that of President or Vice-President shall be eligible for those offices until one term shall have elapsed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOLUCA (Mex.) April 19.—Hard pressed by Gen. Leyva's troops in Morelos, a band of 300 rebels yesterday crossed into this State and today four detachments of troops, numbering about 400, are attempting to surround them in the hills near Santiago Tianguistengo. The rebels yesterday entered Jalatlaco, where for some hours they burned public records and committed other depredations. Leaving the town, they started for Santiago Tianguistengo, but learning that volunteers were garrisoned there, they changed their course and spent last night in the hills. The company of volunteers from Santiago Tianguistengo, another body of volunteers from Ixtlahuaca, a detachment of troops from Toluca and Matlazo, a company [illegible]

DARING LITTLE FEDERAL FORCE LEAVES FOR ATTACK ON CABRAL.

Less Than Three Hundred Strong the Government Troops March Out of Agua Prieta to Engage Strong Rebel Band Encamped Near Naco—Railroad Station Burned by Insurrectos Who Make Bold Dash.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

AGUA PRIETA (Mex.) April 19.—A detachment of 278 Federals, 235 infantry and forty mounted, left Agua Prieta this afternoon, under orders, it is believed, to give battle to Juan Cabral's band, which is reported south of Naco and preparing to attack that town. The Federal column marched directly west, following the international line closely. Fear of a renewal of insurgent efforts to capture Agua Prieta is probably responsible for the failure to send forward a larger force.

That the rebels have not moved far from the town was indicated this morning, when a small band of them made their way through the Federal lines, and set fire to the Nacozari Railroad station, which was destroyed, together with the skirmish which resulted from this bold raid, there were several killed, reported to be rebels.

Col. Diaz, commanding the Federal garrison, has issued an order permitting the resumption of trade relations between this city and Douglas.

Owen Savage, a member of Troop K, First United States Cavalry, is a prisoner in the bull ring. His eagerness to get into the fight was too great for his loyalty and he deserted, taking with him an army pistol, to fight with the rebels. Tied and roped, he was brought today before American Consul Dye of Nogales, together with Tim K. Sullivan, an American from Bridgeport, Ct., the consul having requested to see them. The Federals had kept Sullivan for several hours so tied with knotted ropes that he was unable to either lie down or stand up. Sullivan saw service with the Boers in Africa. Savage asked

MEXICO BLAMES AMERICA.

Maj. Gardner permitted the revolutionists to do so, greatly to the disadvantage of the Federal forces and their cause."

The Mexican note then reads:

"This ministry does not believe for a moment that such things are happening at the wish of, and with the cognizance of, the American government, but it is certain that many departments of the American government are at times being badly served by minor officials who are notoriously partial to the revolutionists and most anxious to give them all possible aid.

"In conclusion, I request Your Excellency to communicate the contents of this note as speedily as possible to your government, especially those points illustrating the abuses committed on the frontier and illustrating the actions of the persons of whom we complain, so that your government may procure as soon as possible a remedy to an abnormal situation."

I nthe version of the note of the Mexican government the highest American official attacked is spoken of as Maj. Gardner, who seemed to command the American troops at Douglas. It is not known hero whether this has reference to Capt. Gaujot and is a misprint of his name and rank, or is a reference to the Mayor of Douglas, whom the Mexican authorities may have mistakenly concluded wa sl ncommand of the American troops at that point.

The semi-official newspaper, Imperial, in a nite edition today, states that in the Mexican note a formal complaint of many minor American officials on the border and further states that De La Barra's answer to the request of the Senate would make a statement concerning the relations between the Unitd States and Mexico.

This afternoon, however, the Senate met at the national palace at 3 o'clock, and was adjourned six minutes later without a word said on the subject, and without the Minister of Foreign Affairs appearing.

In the meantime the newspaper, Diario, announced by broadsides circulated through the streets, that it would publish in several hours, in a special edition, the informal report which De La Barra [illegible] for a time at least, had proposed reading to the Senate. However, a few minutes later the broadsides were recalled and Diario formally announced it would not publish the text today.

It is obvious that efforts are still being made to prevent, or at least postpone the publication of De La Barra's note, which cannot fail to exert a disturbing influence here and perhaps arrest the efforts which Washington is making at this moment to bring about peace between Diaz and Madero.

In the meantime you may attach implicit confidence to the version of the note cabled by me, though in view of the serious charges brought against the American authorities by the highest official authority here, it is to be hoped the note will not be printed here, where exciting influences are already numerous enough. One symptom of the situation is the number of new fugitive newspapers which are coming into existence here every day. They are read largely by peons, and are much read aloud in street corners to peons who cannot read for themselves in these sheets.

The rebels are always referred to exclusively as strangers or foreigners, and the peons would have to have more information and clearer heads than is the case not to believe that the Federal army in the north is combatting a lawless invasion of gringoes from Texas.

More than on any previous day the air was filled with rumors that at last an arrangement has been made satisfactory to Diaz and Madero, but no member in high standing in either party will openly assume the responsibility of the good news.

Fighting still is in progress, however, ignoring the news that the rebels are again attacking Agua Prieta, of which we here have no positive knowledge. American Consul Dorango reports that the rebels have captured an important strategic point, though an insignificant town near there, called Paoasquiaro. He states that the Federal troops, though greatly outnumbered, fought most gallantly and did not surrender until all the officers above the rank of sergeant, had been killed.

Late this afternoon Congress met in a secret session and after a stormy debate, which lasted two hours, appointed a committee to call upon De la Barra, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and inform him it was the wish of the house to receive a statement from him and from the Tribune of the Chamber regarding the state of the country, both as regards the interior situation and the relations with the outside powers.

The Minister received the delegation of Congressmen very cordially and afterwards was kind enough to grant me an audience. He said it would be impossible for him to discuss with me the recent exchange of notes between the United States and Mexico because all the information he had on the subject, and everything that could be made public without detriment to public interest, would be contained in a declaration he would make in a public session of Congress tomorrow afternoon.

"In regard to the interior situation," continued the Minister of Foreign Affairs, "my position will be, if possible, still more difficult. I shall have to speak of peace negotiations. Now to tell the plain truth, there are strictly speaking no peace negotiations. I had an interview with Dr. Vasquez Gomez in Washington and told him my government wished to represent the whole people and that if the terms of settlement he proposed were compatible with national honor and welfare I would communicate them to Gen. Diaz and the ministry.

"Since then Vazquez Gomez has written me and I have written him. This correspondence continues, of course, with the cognisance and approval of Gen. Diaz. I can only say that I have great hope that tomorrow will see the solution of some if not all of our troubles.

"So far as my opposing the wish of Congress, nothing could be more agreeable to me and the government than the patriotic action taken by that body today. When I first reached here from Washington, I suggested to the President that owing to the critical situation in the country, we should take Congress and consequently the people more into our confidence, and thereby gain strength and power, and the President warmly approved the idea.

"It was thought then that, according to our custom, such a declaration would have to be made in the Senate according to the law or precedent. I am not quite sure about this. It would have to be made to the Senate while in secret session, as my most ardent wish is that the great mass of our patriotic people should know the way we are seeking to defend their interests in the face of foreign difficulties and discord is. I am indeed happy that I am to-day able to [illegible] Congress and that my wish in the matter is about to be realized, though I had never spoken made it impossible for the rebel leader to read it.

A messenger therefore, according to advices here, was dispatched from El Paso, Tex. He will pass through the Federal lines without molestation and will explain to Gen. Madero not only the initial messages concerning the peace proposals, but the fact that Dr. Gomez is waiting orders from his chief for the armistice agreement.

The armistice idea was suggested simultaneously to the Mexican government and to the head of the revolutionists here by a friend of both sides, and thus far the Mexican government and Dr. Gomez have been in communication only through a third party.

ACTION EXPECTED SOON.

It is believed that with the approval of the Mexican government, reported from Mexico City last night, and the favorable attitude of the revolutionist agency here, direct communication will be instituted as soon as Dr. Gomez receives instructions from his chief.

Developments today indicated to President Taft that peace in Mexico may not be a dream and there is reason to believe the Mexican authorities will adopt a "definite, restrictive policy along the border" to prevent conflicts.

Senor Manuel De Zamacons, the new Mexican ambassador, was presented to the President and declarations of friendship were exchanged. Information was given out at the White House that the rough drafts of Mexico's formal note in reply to the State Department's demand that American border towns be not endangered by Mexican battles has been placed in the hands of Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City.

Wilson reported that the note as drafted was satisfactory and it is expected to reach the State Department in final form soon.

AMBASSADOR HOPEFUL.

Peace in Mexico will soon be restored, according to Senor Manuel de Zamacona, the new Ambassador of Mexico to the United States, who was presented to President Taft today.

The Ambassador made this prediction in a formal speech to the President.

In reply, President Taft said the people of the United States hoped fervently that harmony would soon prevail.

"Peace, momentarily broken in Mexico, will soon be restored," said the Ambassador, "when the effect of the frank and patriotic declarations of the President of the republic, which carry effective guarantee for all legitimate interests linked, with the maintenance of order, is felt. The relations of friendship between the two republics are in every way so constituted as to continue in the state of frankness and cordiality by which they happily have long been characterized."

President Taft in reply, said, in part:

"The government of the United States, having none but the best wishes for the happiness of the Mexican people, cannot feel but the liviest interest in their peace and prosperity. It is therefore the fervent hope of the United States that harmony may soon prevail and that the Mexican people, in full concord, and with a unanimity of purpose, will proceed toward their great destiny."

The President asked the Ambassador to convey to President Diaz an appreciation of his good wishes and a hope for his personal happiness.

OPPORTUNE ACTION.

With the receipt at the State Department of advices confirming the report that negotiations for an armistice between the Federal and rebel forces are in progress, the opinion was expressed here today that opportune action had been taken by both sides in the Mexican revolution to prevent complications with the United States. It was rumored here today that with the setting forth of definite proposals from the revolutionists the possibility of an agreement for the abdication of President Diaz within a certain period was not at all unlikely. The proposals, it is known, are to be received by the Mexican Cabinet and laid before President Diaz himself.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs today appointed a sub-committee to confer with President Taft and the Secretary of State as to the situation on the Mexican border. The committee consists of Representatives Garner of Texas; Sharpe of Ohio, and Foster of Vermont.

The capture by the revolutionists of San Diegos Papasquiaro, in the State of Durango, was reported to the State Department today. The total losses on both sides exceeded 100, including a Federal captain, two lieutenants and twenty-five soldiers.

Body of Mail Clerk Is Taken From the Side of Dead Fiancee to Learn Cause of Demise.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] To determine the cause of death of Henry Casnatt, a railway mail clerk, formerly employed on the Great Northern Railway between this city and Miles City, Mont., who died in Sacred Heart Hospital, February 2, his body has been taken from the side of his bride that was to be, in the cemetery at Brownsville, Or., brought here and a post mortem examination held.

The question at issue was whether death resulted from a broken rib or from other causes. Intertwined in the case is the claim of Dr. H. D. Casnatt, brother of the former railway mail clerk, for $3000 insurance carried in the Railway Mail Clerk's Beneficiary Association. The autopsy was held by Drs. R. J. Kearns, D. Lebau, Frank Hinman and H. E. Wheeler. No report has been made as to the cause of death.

The parents of the girl of his choice, who died a year ago, took his body, at their expense, to Brownsville, Or., to be buried by her side in accordance with her dying wish. They pleaded with the officers here against the removal, but in vain.

SALEM (Or.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first evidence that Mrs. Daisy Davenport, wife of Homer Davenport has taken any notice of the proceedings started by her husband to obtain a divorce was received by the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Marion county yesterday. It was in the shape of a telegram requesting that certified copies of the complaint filed by Homer Davenport in court here recently be forwarded to her at Morris Plains, N. J. Time for answer in the case will expire May 19. Court attaches here take Mrs. Davenport's request as an indication that she will contest the suit. Up to the present it was thought that she would let the San Francisco Judge Spares the Mother of the Babies Abducted Because He Believes Her Conduct Was Determined by the Maternal Instinct and the Chauffeurs Involved Are Released Because They Obeyed Orders.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Five days in the County Jail was the sentence meted out today by Judge Mogan to Attorney James W. Cochrane and Banker S. Foster Kelley of Seattle for their share in the plot which resulted in the kidnaping of Anita and Albert B. Henry from the custody of Miss Pearl M. Wyckoff, their nurse, April 3. Mrs. Henry, the mother of the children, was also found guilty of contempt of court for taking part in the abduction of the babies, but she was released on a suspended sentence, the court attributing her actions to maternal feeling.

Before pronouncing sentence upon the two defendants, Judge Mogan bitterly arraigned them for their actions. The judge dealt severely with Cochrane because, he declared, the latter being an officer of the court, should have known better than to over-ride its orders. Kelley came in for a tongue-lashing because of his alleged desertion of his wife and children in Seattle. The four chauffeurs were found "not guilty" of contempt of court, the court announcing that they had evidently acted merely under the orders of the people who had engaged them. Peter W. Deen, who told so many contradictory stories on the witness stand, was also given his freedom, Judge Mogan declaring he had at the last endeavored to rectify matters by telling the truth as far as was in his power.

Cochrane secured a stay of judgment for twenty-four hours. Cochrane said he would apply in the morning to the Supreme Court for a writ of certiorari, which would result in a rehearing of the matter by the higher tribunal. He had already obtained from the Supreme Court a writ of habeas corpus for the children, returnable next Wednesday morning. Meantime, the children will remain in the cusotdy of the probation officer.

HOW FIGURES DIFFER.

Government Appraisers Place Value of $150,000 on Postoffice Site in Portland Owner Asks $250,000.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Far lower than the figures offered the government were estimates on the proposed postoffice site in Portland made in the Federal Court here yesterday in the case wherein the government is condemning land for its building. The suit today was for only half of the full block that will be used.

Dr. A. C. Smith and the Security Savings and Trust Company, which own the property, wanted $250,000 for it, while the government believes it is worth only $150,000.

The largest group of prominent real estate men ever brought together by a local court attended the hearing. Ten of them, the government's witnesses, said the half block was worth from $140,000 to $200,000. The only witness for the property owners to testify put his figures at $267,900. Other witnesses will be called tomorrow.

RENO (Nev.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George S. Geddes, son of Peter Geddes, a retired capitalist of Brooklyn, N. Y., met his match today in Miss Amy Bishop, who struck him in the jaw with her fist and then heaved a stone that landed full upon the other jaw. A second stone felled him before he could get away.

Following this attack Miss Bishop called at the Police Station and swore to a complaint charging Geddes with disturbing the peace. Geddes is here for a divorce and roomed in the Bishop home. However, he had only paid $5, and when he called at the house today to get his clothes he met with a warm reception. Miss Bishop says he crawled out the window a few nights ago to g away after a dispute following a request for the payment of the board. bill.

FIRST COUSINS CANNOT WED.

Neither May They Live Together As Man and Wife Unwed, Says Decision of Washington State Court.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evasion of the State law forbidding the marriage of first cousins has evoked a decision from the State Supreme Court that brands such marriages, though performed in another country, as illegal in this State and the parties to it subject to criminal charges. This has driven many couples unwillingly to the divorce courts state attorneys who now have six or more such cases in preparations.

In passing upon the appeal of the State in the case of Masaji Nakashima and Tama Kawamura, who were discharged from a criminal charge by the Superior Court of King county, the Supreme Court reversed the judgment of dismissal in the lower court and adopted the views of the Ohio court in a similar case.

"We hold," says the court, "that the sharing of a home as man and wife between a man and a woman as near of kin as first cousins is prohibited, whether they have gone through the form of marriage or not; nor is it material that the marriage was celebrated in a country where it was valid."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tomorrow will be a busy day in the government quarantine and customs service. Five vessels from foreign ports are due. They are the Pacific Mail liner, Siberia, from the Orient and the Kosmos line steamer, Sisak, from Hamburg; the Pacific Mail steamers City of Sidney, from San Blas, and City of Para, from Ancon. The Standard Oil steamer, Tamarac, from Singapore is also due. It will be the first time this big steamer will have poked her nose inside the Golden Gate. She is coming with ballast and will take oil. In addition to the "foreigners," eight "coasters" are due.

The customs and quarantine officers will not be the only ones busy. Mike Fitzgerald, manager of the Merchants' Exchange, will have to do considerable legging up and down "Jacob's Ladder."

Before leaving here on their regular outward trips to Ancon and Mexican ports the steamers City of Sydney and City of Para will be equipped with wireless apparatus.

According to wireless advices from the Siberia, she should reach port early tomorrow forenoon. She has 120 cabin and 200 Asiatic passengers and an unusually large and valuable cargo.

LAZY HUSBAND SENTENCED.

Man Must Work in the Chain Gang While Community Supports His Children.

SACRAMENTO, April 19.—Two years of hard work on the county chain gang during which time Sacramento is to pay $1.50 daily wages for the support of his three children in an orphans' home, is the punishment meted out to Frank Young, by Superior Judge Hughes.

Young is the first in the State to be punished under the "lazy husband" law, which was passed by the last Legislature. He has been placed in the custody of the Sheriff, who is to see that he works.

The punishment of Young came only after all hope of forcing him to support his children in the Sacramento Orphanage was exhausted. He was taken in charge by the Juvenile Court in December two years ago, and has refused to live up to the provisions of his parole.

When told by the judge of the manner in which he had reared his offspring, and of his criminal neglect, Young broke down and wept.

SENSATIONAL RENO CASE.

April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Wallace, a member of the firm of Wallace & Comwest of Reno, on the California border, Wallace was one of the fourteen men who chartered a special train to make the run on Sunday afternoon, and soon after his arrival there he discovery of rich gold pockets in the Fort Sage Mountain, fifty miles northbecame so enthusiastic over what he pany, Wall street brokers, today filed suit for divorce against Susie Hasbrouck Wallace, formerly Miss Hasbrouck, a Brooklyn society girl. The complaint is sealed. During the recent excitement following an alleged believed to be a great find, that he invested considerable money in buying up claims. Wallace is a son of Dr. Wallace, the well-known surgeon and physician of Brooklyn.

UNLIKE THE DOMESTIC CAT.

Nevada Cattle That Stray Into Earth Crevices in Jack's Valley Never Came Back.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ELY (Nev.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dame Nature is acting in very aggravating fashion in Jack's Valley, not far from this city, resulting in heavy losses.

A year ago subterranean rumblings were heard in that locality and immediately afterward fissures were found to have opened in the earth. They were from two to six feet in width and water came to within a short distance of the surface.

The stock men in the vicinity feared that their cattle would stray into these crevices and their fears seem to have been well based.

Recently the crevices formed by some mysterious force have widened and have become retreats for a considerable number of beeves which never regained terra firma.

W. O. Morman, a cattle owner, lost 2300 head of stock in the crevices a year ago and this spring his losses have been even heavier. He has applied to the government for permission to fence in the district, but has been refused as the land is withdrawn from entry.

MINISTER WON'T RESIGN.
LADIES PRESS REQUEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ELKO (Nev.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rev. George Greenfield, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this city, has been requested to resign his position. A committee consisting of Mesdames R. S. Steele, John Wright, J. L. Kierery and others made the request, and the minister refused to comply. Now they have requested the bishop to remove him. They have also circulated petitions to the convention of the church at Bishop, Cal., asking for his removal. It is stated by those opposed to Rev. Greenfield that he has acted in a manner unbecoming a minister of the gospel.

WRONGED A GIRL.
PROFESSOR GOES TO PRISON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, April 19.—The sentence of F. C. Richardson, business college professor at Santa Rosa, Sonoma county, to three years in the penitentiary, must now be served, the Third District Court of Appeal today refusing to grant him a new trial on his appeal from the order of the Superior Court. The opinion was written by Justice Hart, and it is concurred in by the other members of the court.

Richardson wronged a girl student of the school which he conducted, and then purchased drugs for her. It was on the charge of purchasing and giving her drugs against the law, that he was convicted. He is a married man.

STOCKTON WANTS BANK.
LIKES POSTAL SAVINGS IDEA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stockton banks in the Clearing House Association have endorsed postal savings banks. Yesterday they sent a request to Washington asking that such an institution be established here. The bankers saw at once that it is for the interest of any community to encourage such institutions, for they are educational to the people on lines of economy and prudence and are helpful to banks in keeping money in the United States which would otherwise go to foreign lands. It w brought out in the conference t during the period of financial unr several years ago foreigners sent fr Stockton to their home countries much as $1000 a week for safe kee ing, showing their confidence in f eign banks. That money would kept here, bankers believe, if fo eigners could make deposits in a go ernment bank in which they have co fidence. As showing the confider foreigners have in the government, was recalled that during the last se son of financial depression many f eign-born persons paid 30 cents a hu dred dollars for money orders paya to themselves, leaving the money deposit with the Postal Departme and feeling safer.

CENSUS INVESTIGATION.
WASHINGTONIANS SUMMONED

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An investigation census padding in the Federal Distri for eastern Washington crystalliz today when citizens from a numbe of towns, including Walla Walla a Spokane, were summoned before t grand jury, now in session. The char grows out of the alleged padding census figures resulting in the loppi off from Spokane's reported populatio 110,725 of approximately 6000 names a the slashing of the returns on Wal Walla and other cities. The prese investigation has nothing to do wi the official figures as they now stan but is directed to the enumerators wh are alleged to have made the previo erroneous returns. Special Agents M Kenzie and Newton have called upo at least twenty citizens of Walla Wall to appear before the grand jury an give testimony tomorrow.

WIFE BELIEVES SPOUSE INSANE.

SAN FRANCISCO POLITICIAN IN ASYLUM SHADOW.

Noted Old-Timer and Former Henchman of Chris Buckley Examined As to Mental Poise—Has Twice Tried to End His Life and Made Attempt to Slay Friend.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Anna Rudolph, wife of Jacob Rudolph, a noted old-time politician and henchman of Chris Buckley, was compelled to give evidence tending to restrain her husband of his liberty before Judge Van Nostrand today.

She testified he was subject to fits of violence, and from her statements it would appear that, though usually of normal mind, he was not at all times safe to be at large. The court will decide tomorrow whether or not to take this view—which is also that of several experts called in the case. Should Judge Van Nostrand adjudge Rudolph insane, the latter has yet recourse to a jury trial.

Rudolph lives at No. 1105 O'Farrell street, and the records show that he has been confined in institutions on various occasions for vagaries supposed to indicate an irresponsible intellect. Seventeen years ago the vagary was so serious as to result in a shooting, which nearly caused the death of an acquaintance. Rudolph was confined last January, and attempted suicide by cutting his throat and by taking carbolic acid.

On one occasion Mrs. Rudolph said, her husband thought he saw "Billy" Harrison, a nephew of Chris Buckley, passing by on the street, and wanted to shoot him. It turned out to be a stranger, however, and no violence was attempted.

Many friends, among them Police Commissioner Sullivan, testified that they thought Rudolph perfectly sane.

Rudolph himself took the stand, and was subjected to a long cross-examination. He denied most of the evidence against him and his answers were clear.

Limitations.

BANKER'S TRIAL SUDDENLY ENDS.

JUDGE BARS FROM CASE EVIDENCE THREE YEARS OLD.

President of the Lewiston National Accused of Abstracting a Fortune From the Institutions Set Free—Other Indictments Against Kettenbach Will Come Up Soon.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOISE (Idaho) April 19.—On motion of counsel for the government, the case of Frank W. Kettenbach, former president of the Lewiston National Bank of Lewiston, Idaho, on trial here on the charge of abstracting $137,000, was dismissed by the District Court today. This unexpected action came at the conclusion of the introduction of evidence by the prosecution, and after attorneys for the defense had asked for a recess, in which to prepare for the opening statement to the jury.

In making his motion for a dismissal of the case, Fletcher Dobyns, special assistant to the Attorney-General, stated the action was taken because of the rulings of Judge Rash, of the Montana district, who presided at the trial, prohibiting the presentation of evidence relating to transactions three years prior to the time of returning the indictments.

Judge Rash held the statute of limitations made such evidence inadmissible. There are three indictments still standing against Kettenbach, but by agreement the trial of these cases went over to the June term of court.

Early in the trial the government caused a dismissal of the case against

LUCKY FALL A LONG ONE.

A Man Drops Seven Stories Through Inch Boards and Still Lives.

[Associated Press Night Report.]

TACOMA (Wash.) April 19.—L. Knutson, aged 25, fell seven stories today to the concrete basement of the new Tacoma Building, in course of construction. He was near the material elevator shaft with a wheelbarrow, when he fell down the shaft. At the first floor he crashed through some inch boards to the concrete basement. Workmen rushed to his assistance, but he rolled over, got up and smiled as he remarked: "Gee, that was a lucky fall."

A Strong Norther.

SWIFT WIND FROM THE NORTH SWEEPS THE SACRAMENTO VALLEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sacramento was at the mercy today of one of the most severe northers ever known at this time of year. From an early hour in the morning and all night the wind blew at a terrific gale, drawing the moisture from the air and sending dust clouds through the streets and over the open country. The wind reached a velocity of thirty-nine miles an hour at 1:35 p.m. Its average velocity was twenty-six miles per hour. The humidity was 59 per cent.

While the norther was the most severe windstorm of the year, it was not the worst in the history of the valley. In May of 1892 a norther was recorded with a velocity of forty-five miles an hour. This is the most severe windstorm recorded by the local weather bureau.

The wind developed in a high barometic pressure over the North Pacific Coast near Oregon. It swept down the Coast laden with moisture. As it rose over the Siskiyou Mountains it lost most of its moisture and descended on the valley almost devoid of moisture.

That the damage inflicted upon the growing fruit crops of the Sacramento Valley by the high north wind that prevailed today will be nominal was the opinion expressed by fruit shippers. Reports were received from many localities, but in each case no harm of a serious nature was

YOUR BEST FRIENDS ARE YOUR EYES

Treat them well and they remain as treat them poorly and they work poorly for you. They deserve the best there for their welfare.

The new Toric lenses are better for the eyes than the flat lenses. What they do for the eyesight was described by a man the other day who said:

"Looking through my deep curve lenses is just like looking out of a bay window, as compared with the ordinary flat lens." That just expresses it. It costs a bit more to build a bay window and it costs a bit more to build a deep curve lens than it does the flat kind, but they are worth much more to you—more in wider visual angle — and worth the small difference in price.

The KRYPTOK (double vision) lenses are the best thing obtainable for those who need two pairs of glasses.

They are a solid lens, perfectly smooth, with no lines to catch dirt; just the same in appearance as a one-vision lens.

Remember, that we take care of your eyes in the way of lens changes for one year from date of purchase without extra charge.

SUCCESSOR OF WARBURG.

Speyer Takes His Place on Missouri Pacific.

Closely Allied With the Deutsche Bank.

Gates Is Glad That Bush Is President.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April. 19.—James Speyer tomorrow will take the place of Paul Warburg, resigned, in the directorate of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and the house of Speyer & Co., closely allied with the Deutsche Bank, will fill the vacancy left by the retirement yesterday of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., as bankers for the road. Mr. Speyer admitted this much to friends today, but did not talk for publication, he said, until after his election."

Frederick Gates, representing John D. Rockefeller on the board; Edgar L. Marston, representing Blair & Co., and Edward D. Adams, representing the Deutsche Bank, have decided to keep their positions.

The same interests have worked harmoniously in the past and the supposition in Wall street today was that Speyer had taken their lead from Mr. Rockefeller, who as the second largest stockholder in the property, and a commanding influence in the banking community, may now be said to control the financial policy of the railroad. Mr. Gates said the Rockefeller interests were entirely friendly to George Gould, who, with Mr. Rockefeller's aid, yesterday dictated the nomination of the newly-elected president, B. F. Bush.

Continuing, Gates said: "The Rockefeller interests are not opposed to Mr. Bush as president of the Missouri Pacific. Mr. Bush has made good in every position he has occupied. Our management throughout has been to secure a man upon whom all could unite. We did not wish to see Mr. Bush leave the Western Maryland, where he has been successful. We were ready to spare him, however, if all could unite on him for the Missouri Pacific."

ORDER FOR STEEL CARS.

TWO THOUSAND FOR LAKE ERIE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad has placed an order for 2000 all-steel cars, representing a cost of $2,000,000, with the Pressed Steel Car Company, and the American Car and Foundry Company. The order calls for two types of freight cars. They are known as gondolas and coke cars, and in their construction will be required 24,000 tons of steel plates and shapes, besides 16,000 car wheels and 2000 sets of airbrakes. It is said to be one of the largest orders placed for new railroad equipment this season.

WILL DEVELOP INDUSTRIES.

RAILROADS AS PROMOTERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) April 19.—Under orders of President Mellen, of the New Haven Railroad, a bureau for the industrial development of New England will be opened at Boston on the first of May. It will be under the joint control of the New Haven, the Boston and Maine and the Maine Central Railroad systems. The object of the bureau is the promotion of every form of industrial development in New England, notably farming, fruit culture, dairy interests, factory industries, forestry and forest preservation. The expense of the enterprise will be paid by the three railroad corporations.

Prominent Harvard Man Wins Heart and Hand of Daughter of Bishop of Episcopal Diocese in the Islands.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The marriage of Paul Wilhington, prominent in many branches of athletics while at Harvard, and now assistant graduate manager of Harvard athletics, to Miss Constance Restarick, daughter of Bishop Restarick of the Episcopal diocese of Honolulu, was celebrated at Emmanuel Church yesterday. Bishop William Lawrence performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. Elwood Worcester, pastor of Emmanuel Church. Miss Restarick was attended by Miss Leila Burnham of San Diego, and Lothrop Wilhington, Jr., captain of last year's Harvard football team, a brother of the groom, was best man. Frederick Wilhington and William Richards were the only ushers.

After the ceremony there was a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Tuckman, whose guest Miss Restarick has been since she arrived from San Francisco last Saturday. The wedding trip of the couple will not extend beyond a few days. They will make their home in Cambridge.

TEN-HOUR LAW EXTENDED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 19.—The Senate passed the bill amending the women's ten-hour law, extending the present law to laundries, hotels, lodging houses, restaurants, telegraph, telephone and express companies, places of amusement, transportation on any common carrier, or public institution. In the House so few votes were cast for the Lee O'Neil Browne's so-called English Sabbel bill that, before the votes could be announced, Browne moved that further consideration be postponed.

ICE CREAM CONDEMNED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—Three Chicago ice cream companies were indicted by the Federal grand jury today, charged with shipping impure cream. They were the Thompson-Reid Ice Cream Company, McBride Brothers, Knobbe & Ross and Woodhull Ice Cream Company. It is declared that samples taken from shipments by the indicted companies were full of "filthy animal substance," and "unfit for human consumption." The government chemist reported 500,000,000 bacteria to approximately one-eighth of a cubic inch of the cream.

ACCUSED OF LAND FRAUDS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—Five men were placed on trial before Judge Trieber in the Federal Court today on land fraud charges. They are Henry S. Whitman, Gilbert V. Whitman, George B. Gale, George M. London and James A. London, Jr. The allegations are that the defendants are interested in a trust company at Fredrickstown, Mo., and attempted to evade the law which prohibits any corporation or any association of men from acquiring more than 160 acres of land.

BANKER ACCUSED OF SHORTAGE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) April 19.—J. P. Dolly, State Bank Commissioner, gave notice to the State's Attorney of Shawnee county to issue a warrant for the arrest of E. N. Burns, cashier of Automobiles and fast horses were blamed for the shortage of $10,257 found in Burns's accounts yesterday. Burns and his relatives made good the shortage and officials of the bank refuse to prosecute.

EXONERATED BY CORONER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PEORIA (Ill.) April 19.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the death of Prof. Winifred, the palmist, who died as a result of injuries received in a brawl on election night, for which Frank J. Biggins, Alderman from the Sixth Ward, was arrested, returned a verdict today exonerating Biggins. Biggins surrendered to the Sheriff yesterday. Strong evidence for the defense was brought out at the inquest, which showed that instead of being the aggressor, Biggins at all times was on the defensive, with three men as his assailants.

BIG CONSPIRACY CHARGED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—Discovery of a conspiracy to defraud the Chicago shippers by a system of forging records in which employees of steaming contractors have played an important part, has brought about a secret investigation by Chicago and Northwestern Railroad officials that is expected to result in numerous arrests within a few days, according to the Record-Herald. Already business houses sending big consignments of spring goods to out-of-town customers have discovered that the goods have been stolen and that they are out vast sums of money—possibly hundreds of thousands of dollars. One of the many incidents of the investigation was the finding of a complete stock of shoes and dress-goods, valued at $10,000, in the hands of a representative of the gang, in Boone, Iowa. The goods, it is believed, were consigned to a firm in southern Illinois, but never were nearer the man who expected to pay for them than the Chicago house from which he purchased them. W. D. Cantillion, general manager of the road, admitted a general knowledge of the matter, but said the entire investigation was in the hands of W. F. Riley, chief of the road's special agents.

FIGHT STARTED ON RECIPROCITY.

Cannon Leads Speakers Aiming to Defeat Bill.

Sees Nothing But Evil to the Country in Treaty.

Says It Will Result in Harm to Farming Class.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Former Speaker Cannon, Representatives Hanna of North Dakota, Nelson of Wisconsin and Sloan of Nebraska attacked the Canadian reciprocity agreement in the debate on the reciprocity bill in the House today. Representative Hubbard of Iowa spoke in favor of reciprocity.

Rapid-fire speeches were made by Republicans in reply to Democratic and Republican supporters of that measure, headed by Representatives Underwood and McCall.

Speaker Cannon discussed the fight in the last national campaign over the free-print paper bill. Mr. Sloan referred to the House supporters of the reciprocity bill as "A Tammany and Dixie combination against the welfare of the country."

The general debate upon the measure will continue tomorrow, but Chairman Underwood of the Ways and Means Committee will endeavor to get the bill before the House under the five-minute rule before adjournment.

CANNON AS TEACHER.

Aided by a large map of the United States and Canada, former Speaker Cannon played the role of school teacher to a crowded floor and filled galleries. His remarks followed those of Representative Gudger.

Mr. Cannon assailed the proposed agreement as dangerous to American trade, inimical to the best interests of American farmers and certain to result in depreciation of American farm lands.

"Not since the war with Spain and all that followed it, has there been considered by the House of Representatives so important a bill as the one now pending," he declared. "On the action of the House rests the well-being and the prosperity of all the people of the United States. Is it proper, on slight consideration, to vitalise into law an agreement that affects the prosperity of every home in the land?"

Mr. Cannon declared the treaty had been in secret. The country, the Senate and the House had actually nothing to do with the preparation of the agreement with Canada, he said.

RAISES A LAUGH.

"No member of this House," declared Mr. Cannon, "had opportunity to know anything about it until the House received notice in the President's message, accompanied by the bill itself, that it was expected to pass the measure."

Mr. Cannon reviewed the development of idle and western America during the last century.

"Our population," he said, amid the laughter of the House, "but I can remember when this country had but seventeen million inhabitants. Now it has close to a hundred million."

Immigration and development had brought rich new lands into cultivation, he said; railroads had, by cheap freight rates, placed them in touch with the great eastern markets, and the value of New England and New York farm lands had gone steadily down, unable to meet the competition. The opening of new Canadian lands, with American markets open to their product, would have today the same effect on the West, he believed.

Mr. Cannon declared the influence of the cheaper Canadian lands would be felt as keenly in the South as elsewhere if the tariff restrictions on farm products were removed.

DECLARES INDEPENDENCE.

"What is this bill going to do to us?" he asked. "They say there's no danger to our wheat from a market open to Canada. The President says it will reduce the cost of living without impairing the farmers' market. The President is a great man; I have great respect for him. I voted for him, and I apprehend I will vote for him again, but I should like to see him demonstrate how it will not impair the farmers' prices and yet will reduce the cost of living."

As to reciprocity, Mr. Cannon said he would act on his own judgment.

"The President's duty is to veto my action, not to dictate it," he declared, and continued:

"The practice has grown through many administrations of the President 'having Congress on his hands,' but I propose to walk in the shadow of my own judgment.

"It is up to us to say whether we shall continue to develop our own country from East to West; or, without compensation, throw open our markets to all the additional products of a great new country."

Canada, Mr. Cannon said, had always been knocking at the gates of the United States for entry, without tax, into American markets.

TARIFF BOARD REPORT.

PRELIMINARY READY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The tariff is preparing a supplementary report of its investigations of the wood pulp and paper schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff. It probably will be presented to Congress in two weeks. When this is finished, the investigators will begin work on the cotton and wool schedules.

TRUST-BUSTER NAMED.

SEATTLE MAN FOR JOB.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Clark McKlercher, formerly of Seattle, Wash., and connected with the Attorney-General's office in the prosecution of cases, has been appointed special assistant to the Attorney-General with "trust-busting" duties. He has been connected with the government's work in the New York cotton pool case, in the crude petroleum pipe line investigation, and in the inquiry into various trade associations in the lumber and steel industries.

MINTS MAY CLOSE DOWN.

PLENTY GOLD ENOUGH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Whether the government will close some of its mints is before the treasury officials. Secretary MacVeagh is ready to instruct the assay offices and mints to begin issuing gold certificates against soon as this begins, the coining of gold practically will stop. Nothing but the smaller silver coins and pennies will be made hereafter, unless there is unusual demand for gold coins, and it is estimated that the mints in San Francisco and Philadelphia will fill the treasury's needs. A saving of several hundred thousand dollars a year will be effected.

PROPOSE A STATUE.

Sons of the Revolution Take Steps to Honor Memory of a Count Who Helped Our Fathers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—General officers of the Sons of the Revolution to serve for three years were elected at the triennial convention of the order here today. Edward Wetmore of New York was chosen president. William Libber of New Jersey, secretary, Richard M. Cadwallader of Pennsylvania treasurer, George E. Pomeroy of Ohio registrar.

A committee will be appointed to consider erecting here a statue to Francois Marquis de Grasse Artulley, who fought in the American revolution.

AND THERE ARE OTHERS.

Baltimore Woman Who Contributes to Conscience Fund Urges Invitations to Inspire Wrongdoers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A woman smuggler, conscience-stricken, today sent Secretary MacVeagh a ten dollar bill and suggested that the treasury invite contributions of that sort and relieve many a restless soul. The woman wrote from Baltimore saying she had smuggled some dutiable goods.

"You can help many 'born smugglers' to atone for misdeeds if you will show them how to refund," she wrote.

Contributions to the "conscience fund," begun in 1811, now total $420,000.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

More Acres Set Aside.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Taft has signed a proclamation setting aside 301,380 acres of land in Humboldt county, Nev., as the Santa Rosa National Forest.

To Prevent Duplication.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—State geologists from almost every State met here today with the officials of the Geological Survey. The conference was for the purpose of mapping out a programme for next year, and to prevent duplication of work.

Socialist on the Constitution.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Representative Berger, socialist, wants Congress to have power to call a constitutional convention. Today he introduced a resolution proposing that authority, and characterized the Constitution as "obsolete and antique."

SCHOONER TRITON SINKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—The schooner Triton, which sailed from this port yesterday for the South Seas, struck a drifting log off Pigeon Point last night, and sank. Her captain and crew took to the small boats and landed at Pescadero. The Triton had come up from the islands for an overhauling and was returning with a cargo of supplies. She was commanded by Capt. Herman Othman, and carried a crew

Agreeable Surprise.

KNOX WANTS THE UNITED STATES TO HELP THE SAN DIEGO FAIR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the committee appointed to call on Secretary Knox today to urge his kind consideration of the San Diego Exposition explained their mission to him they were very agreeably surprised to find that he was heartily, almost enthusiastically, in favor of it.

Congressman Julius Kahn of San Francisco suggested almost timidly that a request for a national exhibit might, in view of the protests made last winter that San Francisco would not ask, nor even accept, government aid, be considered a display of bad faith. Secretary Knox declared that it would not. He showed great interest when it was explained to him that San Diego had raised $1,000,000 by subscription, another $1,000,000 by a bond issue and that the State had made a generous appropriation; also that the best talent had been engaged to plan buildings and grounds and to manage the exposition, and that its scope was to cover conservation, irrigation, reclamation and forestation. "If the government did not make an exhibit at an exhibition of those subjects," said the secretary, "it would be a great mistake. Both the Interior and Agricultural Departments should have exhibits there. If they lack money for the purpose we will ask Congress for more."

Senator Works, who headed the delegation calling on Secretary Knox, was greatly pleased with the reception accorded him and his associates.

"I was surprised," said he, "to learn how much San Diego has done and Secretary Knox was surprised also."

There was an agreement between San Francisco and San Diego and the delegation in Congress from California, that if San Diego would give way to San Francisco in its ambition to hold the great national exhibition there, the Congressional delegation and the San Franciscans would do all they could to induce the President and Congress and the State Department to issue an official invitation to the Spanish-American countries to exhibit at San Diego. It is right that this pledge should be observed.

Congressmen Stephens, Baker and Kahn, and Col. D. C. Collier, director-general of the Panama Canal Exposition, completed the committee calling on the Secretary of State.

Recapitulation.

CANNON THRESHES OUT FIGHT ON FREE PRINT PAPER LEGISLATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A bitter denunciation of newspaper influence in connection with the fight over free print paper legislation in the last national campaign was made by former Speaker Cannon in a speech in the House today, in connection with his opposition to the Canadian reciprocity bill.

"There has been a good deal of talk about the price of print paper—a good deal of talk that has run over several years," said Cannon. "The Committee on Ways and Means of the Sixtieth Congress, when John Sharp Williams introduced his free print paper bill and it went to that committee by unanimous vote, I am informed, postponed action for that session of Congress, and did not even hold a hearing on it.

"I was Speaker. They unloaded it on me. We had a stormy time. Newspaper publishers through their representatives—one of whom I shall name, Herman Ridder—demanded that I should do what never had been done before in the history of the republic—that I should recognize Williams, or somebody else to rise in his place, and move to discharge the committee from further consideration of that bill, which they had postponed for that session, and by the time the next session would come, the Presidential election would be over."

THEN WHAT?

Cannon said he replied he could not do it; that it would not be just to his party.

"What happened?" he continued, "that if the Republican party did not promptly put print paper on the free list that great and good man, who headed the Publishers' Association, Mr. Herman Ridder, would support Mr. Bryan for the presidency, and contribute $100,000 to his election.

"We did not pass it. When the time came, Mr. Ridder was made treasurer of the Democratic committee and I guess he gave you boys on the Democratic side $50,000, did he not? The newspapers say so, and I have never seen it denied."

Mr. Cannon said he introduced a bill creating a special committee to investigate the print paper question. "I appointed that committee and Mr. Mann headed it. The criticism from one end of the country to the other, by resolutions passed by the Associated Press, by denunciations in the newspapers, was wholly against me for that action.

CHANGE OF FRONT.

"The committee made an honest investigation. They found a difference of $3 a ton between the cost of production in Canada and the United States. It was a unanimous report, the Democrats on the committee concurring."

Mr. Cannon said the House adopted the report. It went to the Senate where there was a compromise at $3.75 between $6, which was the law, and $2, the amount in the House bill. The difference between the tariff board and the Mann special committee was that Mann said $2 would represent the difference, and the tariff board said $4.14 would represent the difference.

"In this bill you reject both of them under this treaty [illegible]

San Francisco Official Points Out the Danger in That City of Gas Explosions and Fires.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Laying the charge of criminal neglect upon the gas companies, Stephen Byrne, light and water inspector for the Board of Public Works, warns the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors that San Francisco is threatened daily with a disaster equal to the New York Triangle shirtwaist holocaust that cost 145 lives. In a report that reveals the danger of gas explosion, Byrne denounces in bitter language what he calls the corporate greed which skimps on material and rushes its men in order to cut down expenses.

"Tin meters and lead connections" are Byrne's chief complaint against the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company. Their promiscuous installation anywhere and everywhere, even in wooden buildings, threaten destruction, he says, and a ghastly fire horror in some crowded apartment or tenement building. In the burned district between Powell street and Van Ness avenue, the inspector points out twenty-three apartment houses where a great catastrophe may result from the cheap connections of the gas companies.

The report is submitted at the instance of the Board of Supervisors and is the most vitriolic public record deal-

Bigger.

LARGE MERGER OF FINANCES.

Citizens' National Takes In Two Other Banks.

Means a New Trust Company and Great Block.

Broadway Trust and Home Savings Included.

One of the most important consolidations of large financial institutions ever consummated in Los Angeles was brought to a successful issue yesterday through the efforts of Hon. R. J. Waters, president of the Citizens' National Bank. The amalgamation has been in process of fruition for several months, and, like most matters of this nature, has proved a tedious task. It means the addition of another great trust company to local financial institutions.

About three months ago, a syndicate, composed of large stockholders of the Citizens' National Bank, secured control of the majority of the stock of the Broadway Bank and Trust Company, and Waters was elected president of the institution.

Yesterday the books showed that the Citizens' National has secured a controlling interest in the Home Savings Bank, located in the Alexandria Hotel building, Fifth and Spring streets. Waters has been a stockholder in the Home Savings Bank for some time, and is the present president of the concern.

When seen at the Citizens' National yesterday President Waters admitted that control of the Home Savings has come into possession of himself and associates, and announced the plans contemplated under the consolidation. The first essential is the increasing of the capital stock of the Citizens'-National from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. The application for the increase has already been made to the Comptroller of the Treasury, and it will become effective on July 1, 1911. This added capital will be utilized in taking over the stock of the two banks mentioned above.

The idea back of the purchase of control of the Broadway Bank and Trust Company and the Home Savings Bank, according to the statement of President Waters, is to merge them into a trust and savings company that will be operated as an adjunct of the Citizens' National Bank. It is expected that the consolidated institution will rapidly take its place among the biggest concerns of the kind in Los Angeles, nurtured as it will be by the Citizens' National, which, after July 1, will have capital equal to any bank in the city.

TO REAR GREAT BUILDING.

For the present it is planned to have the Broadway Bank and Trust Company and the Home Savings Bank continue to do business in their old locations. Within a year, however, the new trust company will have a home of its own on a site that has already been selected in the business section of the city. A great building will be erected for the new institution, and its appointments will be thoroughly up-to-date. In the meantime, the two banks now controlled by the Citizens' National will be liquidated in preparation for their consolidation into a trust and savings bank.

The Citizens' National will remain in its present location at Third and Main, where its great growth has been made. The present capital is $1,000,000, but this will be increased, as stated, to $1,500,000. The last statement showed surplus of $500,000, undivided profits of $118,951.14 and deposits of $8,500,000.

The Home Savings Bank has a paid up capital of $400,000, a surplus of $40,000 and deposits of $1,800,000.

The Broadway Bank and Trust Company has a paid up capital of $250,000, surplus and profits of $272,000 and deposits of $2,523,769.61.

It will be seen by the foregoing figures that the consolidation just effected is bringing under one control three of the notable financial concerns of Los Angeles, and will add to the city's financial bulwarks a trust company of great strength and large capital. The idea is also in line with the latest developments in sound banking in the great centers of wealth.

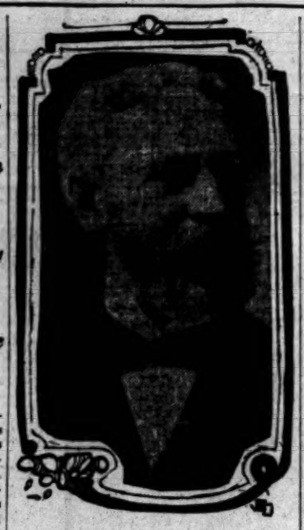
PAVERS OF THE WAY.

The officers of the Citizens' National Bank, composing the group of Los Angeles capitalists that is paving the way for bigger things, are: President, R. J. Waters; vice-presidents, A. J. Waters, J. Ross Clark and M. J. Monnette; cashier, W. W. Woods; assistant cashiers, George E. F. Duffet, E. T. Pettigrew and George Bughee; directors, R. J. Waters, J. Ross Clark, E. W. Blinn, J. M. Hale, E. L. Doheny, M. J. Connell, W. J. Hale, M. J. Monnette, Frank C. Bolt, C. A. Canfield, L. J. Christopher, Robert Hale, John J. Fay, Jr., A. J. Waters, F. X. Pfaffinger and Orra J. Monnette.

In the nature of things, President R. J. Waters has taken a leading role in the planning of the consolidation of the Broadway Bank and Trust Company and the Home Savings Bank into a trust company auxiliary of the Citizens' National, and his long experience in the banking business not only in this city but elsewhere, ably fitted him for the task.

Mr. Waters came to California from Chicago a good many years ago, and was instrumental in building up the city of Redlands. There he was engaged in banking and other enterprises. Before taking up his residence in Los Angeles he became a stockholder in the Citizens' Bank, later served as vice-president, and about twelve years ago was induced to accept the presidency of the institution. He has continued in that capacity ever since, and is a stockholder in several other of the city's banking concerns. He has been a stockholder in, and president of, the Home Savings Bank for some time, and was recently elected president of the Broadway Bank and Trust Company.

While the matter has been under consideration, it has not been definitely decided yet what name the new trust and savings bank, controlled by the Citizens' National will carry. By the time the two institutions are liquidated, however, and the new home is in readiness, an appropriate name will have been found.



Hon. R. J. Waters,

president of the Citizens' National Bank, who has successfully engineered one of the largest financial consolidations in the city's history. The Broadway Bank and Trust Company and the Home Savings Bank will be merged in one trust company, to occupy a new home, and be controlled by the Citizens' National.

NEW MEN CONTROL HIBERNIAN SAVINGS BANK.

The control of the Los Angeles Hibernian Savings Bank, one of the new institutions, has passed into the hands of Robert Hill, president, and George A. J. Howard, the cashier. They secured the interest of John P. Coyne, Thomas J. Cunningham, D. F. McCarty, George W. Lichtenberger and John R. Grant, five of the directors and the original organizers of the institution.

These men have severed all connection with the bank. The bank has a capital of $250,000, and the directors named and their friends disposed of stock worth $128,000 to the new owners.

Fun-Makers.

MINSTREL SHOW HAD 'EM GOING.

PRODUCE DEALERS SING, DANCE AND SPRING JOKES.

Hits Are Peculiar to the Commission Business Which the Initiated Appreciated, But There Was no Discount on the Songs Which Were Near Tear Producers.

"Getting Even" or "Doing Them Brown" would have been appropriate titles for the Produce Dealers' Minstrel Show, held in the Gamut Club Auditorium last evening, when one-half of the dealers stood on the stage and made fun not only of each other but of the other half seated in the audience.

The programme was a continuous laugh for those familiar with the ins and outs of the market world. There were jokes at the expense, not only of the dealers, but they went through the entire families, right down to the kitty, which the son of one commission merchant shook to death in trying to find $3 which he claimed had been swallowed the night before.

The rise of the first curtain showed seated on the stage H. C. Stone as interlocutor, surrounded by "Busted" A. Holmes, "Duke" Peipers, "Burnt" Bryant, "Tender" Lamb, "Hank" Zrotz, "Tabasco" Hudson, "Cutie" Phillips, "P. T." Barnum, "Billiken" Hudson, "Gussie" Franklin, "Always" Russell, "Hot Water" Stanley and "Bailey" Parker.

The entire company opened with an air that started every auditor to keeping time, and this was followed with an incessant run of jokes about the men who sell the things consumed on the tables of every household.

Lamm sang 'Is Everybody Happy?;" "High" Phillips trolled "Anyway to Cook Chicken?;" Krotz, "I Wish I Had My Old Girl Back;" Peipers, "When the Hammer on the Anvil Rings;" Franklin, "Where the River Shannon Flows;" Bryant, "Stop, Stop, Stop;" Russell, "I Apologize;" Parker, "A Song of the Soul;" Holmes, "You Can Never Tell by the Label." A grand finale ended it.

The scene of the olio was on a steamboat levee and opened with a quartette. Parker showed that bones can produce harmony, and Harry W. Krotz cut several dashes with his clever buck-and-wing work, which was also indulged in by Glenn Phillips and Parker. Paul Peipers, in German dialect, related dramatically the capture of Watsonville by the Los Angeles delegation, and was followed by Frank Russell and Bud Holmes in a tramp skit, introducing a song medley and clever nonsense.

Tom Hudson sold Hebrew dialect stories and Paul Phillips and Bailey Parker produced a skit entitled "Mandy," in which Phillips appeared as a handsome colored lady.

Probably the best number of the olio was that presented by Arthur Barnum, whose facial contortions earned him the sobriquet of rubber face. His dancing was also eccentric and taking.

The musical direction of the show was in the hands of George P. Towle, and the lyrics were prepared by Frank Russell.

Every seat in the auditorium was taken, and standing room was worth the price of admission. The show will be repeated on May 20, at the Royal Casino, at Santa Cruz, when the commission men of the northern part of the State will entertain the dealers of the southern section, and be entertained in turn.

COULDN'T IDENTIFY HIM.

Canvasser, Accused of Chloroforming and Robbing Inglewood Woman, Is Released From Court of Justice.

Because Mrs. F. H. Hitchcock of Inglewood could not identify him as her assailant, Allen Lane was allowed to go out of Justice Summerfield's court yesterday a free man.

In a complaint recently attested to by, Marshal McGarvin of Inglewood, Mrs. Hitchcock is said to have been ironing one afternoon when a man came to her door and tried to induce her to buy a bottle of cleaning compound. When she refused to do so, he tossed into her face a fluid that she claims caused her to swoon.

During the three hours she was unconscious, she stated on the stand, the man rummaged the house. Lane was arrested on suspicion.

ORGANIZER GETS GIFT.

Silver Pieces Presented to Man Active in Establishing Local Moose Lodge—Many New Members.

A feature of the monthly meeting of Los Angeles Lodge No. 386, Loyal Order of Moose, which was held in the lodge hall, Levy Cafe building, last night, was the presentation of a handsome solid silver service of 168 pieces to Col. Bert B. Bloom, who organized the local lodge. Frank B. Smith, prelate of the lodge, made the presentation speeche.

Mr. Smith announced that a solid gold life membership card had been purchased and that will be sent to Col. Roosevelt this morning, who had signed an application blank during his recent visit to Los Angeles.

There was taken into membership 446 new candidates. The Mayor and Rev. Baker P. Lee headed the list.

TO FIGHT MORMONISM.

LONDON, April 19.—In order to bring to a focus as rapidly as possible the growing agitation against Mormonism, a demonstration representing all religious denominations will be held in Holborn Hall, London, April 28. The Rt. Rev. James Cowell Weldon, dean of Manchester and formerly Bishop of Calcutta and Metropolitan of India, will preside. Addresses will be made by leading members of the clergy and the laity, and the government will be urged to take measures to prevent the luring of British girls to Utah.

GREAT CATHEDRAL DEDICATED.

Bishop Greer Preaches a Sermon on Value of the Edifice As Force for Righteousness.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—With solemn ceremony and in the presence of a notable gathering of clergy and laity, the completed portions of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Morningside Heights, were consecrated today according to the rites of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The impressive offices were presided over by the Rt. Rev. David H. Greer, bishop of the diocese of New York.

Among the guests invited to witness the function were Archbishop Farley, representing the Roman Catholic Church Archbishop Laton of the Greek Church, and the representatives of many other communions, presidents of universities and officers of city, State and nation.

The ceremonial was begun with the procession of ecclesiastics, preceded by the vested choir of boys across the walk from the synod house to the huge mass of gray stone, still outwardly crude, but representing an important step in the work of making the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, the fourth largest cathedral in the world.

Within the structure where many beauties of the decorative scheme already have been worked out, the procession proceeded under the great dome and with impressive ceremonies the presentations of the chapel of St. Saviour and St. Columbia and of the altar organ and choir were formally made and the consecration ceremonies performed. Music from the great organ and choir played a notable part in the ceremonial.

Bishop Greer preached the sermon of the day, dwelling on the value of the present day cathedral as a force for righteousness in modern life.

Paris retains its position as the world's third largest city, the census taken last month showing a population of 2,846,386, an increase of 124,255 over the figures of 1906.

SURRENDER OF JUAREZ.

dera, Chihuahua, Mex.) April 19.—Francisco I. Madero, Jr., is marching on the city of Juarez at the head of 1940 insurgents, divided into five columns, one under the direct command of Madero and the others under the rebel generals Orozco, Blanco, Villa and Salazaza.

Abraham Gonzales, so-called provincial Governor of Chihuahua, received a report from the insurrecto chief today reporting twenty-eight Federals killed in a brush between the advance guard of the forces moving on Juarez and a detail of troops sent south by Gen. Navarro at Juarez.

At Bauche on Sunday seven of the 160 insurrectos were killed, it is reported here.

Francisco I. Madero, Sr., heading a peace mission, spent last night here, the delegation proceeding north this morning, hoping to reach the younger Madero Thursday. A gap of seventy-five miles in the railroad will be covered on horses.

EARLIER REPORTS SAY JUAREZ NOT ALARMED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO, April 19.—Excitable El Pasoans had Juarez attacked several times today, but the town continued in its usual quiet way. Gen. Navarro spent most of the day chatting with friends on the streets, or in his office, and Col. Tamborel, second in command, after he had completed the fortifications, walked about town calmly. Gen. Navarro rode out to inspect the lines this evening.

The insurrectos have been drawing in closer to the city; this is known, but they were not in sight at dusk tonight. The mountains and ravines, however, could obscure them until they were close to the besieged town.

El Pasoans with nothing else to do spent most of the day on top of tall buildings with field glasses, and every time a whirlwind carried the dust skyward on Mexican soil they called down to friends that the battle had opened.

They could even point out the glitter of bayonets and sabres and saw everything pertaining to a battle except the bullets. Still Juarez ate its three meals undismayed and not a shot was fired, except some practice shots by soldiers in the trenches.

TOWN WELL FORTIFIED.

The town is now fortified inside and out. Stretching around the city are trenches, the most important being near the cemetery. In some of these are masked batteries commanding the approaches to the town. On top of the priest's house adjoining the old mission in the center of the city, is a mortar that will sweep the main street. Across the railroad yards, which were cleared today of boxcars and locomotives, lumber fortifications have been built. Loopholes have been cut in the walls of Cowboy Park commanding several streets.

Gonzales Garza, secretary-general of the insurrecto party, and in charge of the El Paso junta, received passports during the day, he declared this evening, permitting him to cross the line to visit Francisco I. Madero and lay before him the plans of Dr. Gomez at Washington for an armistice to discuss peace terms. Garza declared at 5 o'clock that he did not know whether he would go or not, as he did not know exactly where Madero was at this time.

An Associated Press representative left El Paso in an automobile this afternoon in an attempt to locate Madero and get his views on the peace proposals. He found that the entire army had left Bauche and Sapello. Garza declared when asked about the troops:

JUAREZ SURROUNDED.

"Everybody knows that the insurrecto forces have Juarez surrounded. I do not know when they will attack. Yes, I have delivered the messages from Dr. Gomez to Mr. Madero. No, I have no orders from Gomez to Madero to cease fighting. Mr. Madero himself is the only man who can give orders to stop the fighting. I have received information from Mr. Madero that the message of Dr. Gomez will be delivered to him. Mr. Madero is somewhere in the vicinity of Juarez, but I do not know his exact location at present. I may, and I may not go to discuss these peace terms with him. I am kept very busy here."

Mayor Kelly this afternoon gave orders to El Paso police to hold themselves in readiness to report at police headquarters on two blasts of the fire whistle in case their services are needed.

At Bauche the Associated Press man found twelve insurrectos guarding a train of thirty cars with a locomotive, steam up, ready to depart if necessary. The insurrectos said that the entire rebel army had passed north and was in the ravines and mountains west and southwest of Juarez between that point and the border city. As Bauche is only twelve miles out from Juarez, the insurrectos are therefore bound to be close in.

Marines Go to Border.

VALLEJO, April 19.—Telegraphic orders from Washington received this morning started 100 marines for San Diego and the Mexican border late today. They were under command of Capt. Fred A. Ramsey, who has just returned from the Hawaiian Islands.

Rebels Menace Atlixco.

ATLIXCO (State of Puebla, Mex.) April 19.—A body of rebels said to number 1000, are reported preparing to attack this town which is now well garrisoned. The main body of the rebels is said to be in the hills near Tepeojuma.

Baker Electrics

The Important Thing

The strength of the Baker chassis is to correct structural design rather than to mere weight of material. It is lighter and stronger than any other. Consider what this elimination of dead weight means in the saving of batteries and current, of tires and repairs. The Baker stands for refinement in every detail. Hence its low cost of upkeep and extraordinary mileage capacity.

These statements are not mere advertising bombast, for the Manufacturer's confidence as well as our own speaks for itself in the following guarantee. The 1911 Baker Electric is guaranteed for one year free from all repairs, including batteries.

Baker Electrics equipped with Lead Plate, Iron-Clad or Edison batteries.

TAMAZULA RECAPTURED.

Federals Annihilate the Rebels and Proceed to Culiacan—American Leader of Insurrectos Killed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MAZATLAN (Sin.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a two days' battle before Tamazula, Federal forces killed sixty-nine rebels and wounded 150, recapturing the city which had been strongly fortified by the insurrectos.

William Collins, an American who was in command of the insurgents, was killed during the fight, while Ramon Iturbe, another rebel leader, donned woman's clothes and made his escape. The rebels were greatly outnumbered by the Federal force which consisted of 400 men of the Seventh Battalion, the national guard and rurales.

Lieut.-Col. Morelos in command of the Federals, immediately abandoned Tamazula, the rebel band having been practically annihilated, and returned to the defense of Culiacan.

CULIACAN THREATENED.

ATTACK EXPECTED HOURLY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CULIACAN (Sin.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Culiacan, the capital of the State, is hourly expecting an attack by the insurrectos and business is suspended. Outlying towns are nearly all in the hands of the insurrectos. A score of bands continue operating in the State, receiving arms, ammunition and other contributions.

The State Congress is in session considering reforms demanded by the rebels, but these may come too late to avert an attack on the capital.

The term of office of the Governor has been changed to four years and limited to one term.

Separation.

DIVORCE STATE FROM CHURCH.

PORTUGUESE WILL PROMULGATE DECREE THIS WEEK.

In It the Government Will Concede the Liberty of All Creeds in the New Republic and Priests Wearing the Garb of Their Orders Will Be Barred From the Streets.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LISBON, April 19.—The cabinet has finished the decree of separation of church and State. This will be promulgated Friday or Saturday. The State concedes liberty of all creeds, the Catholic creed ceasing to be the State religion from the date of the promulgation. Henceforth all churches will be maintained by the faithful.

The beneficed clergy will continue to receive stipends until July 1, after which they will be paid pensions. The property necessary to the celebration of public worship will be ceded to the clergy free of cost. All the Portuguese and foreign clergy engaged in religious work will continue as hitherto, but all others must obtain authorization.

All the religious property which is proved to belong to private individuals, either Portuguese or foreign will be respected. British and other foreign seminaries will be allowed to remain, but persons connected with the seminaries will not be allowed in the streets in clerical garb. As the Catholic will no longer be the State religion, priests may marry. In case of death, pensions will revert to the parents, widow or children.

NEW TRIAL FOR MRS. STREIGHT.

Appellate Judges in Texas Critise the Lower Courts for Being Too Severe on Murderess.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WACO (Tex.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Minnie Lee Streight, convicted last June and given a life term for the murder of her husband, S. T. E. Streight, editor of the McGregor Mirror, today received advices from Austin that her case has been reversed and remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The trial of Mrs. Streight last October was one of the most sensational ever held in Texas. The State alleged she shot her husband while he was asleep in bed. Witnesses were put on the stand to show that Streight at various times was most cruel, and then kind to his wife, while other witnesses declared Mrs. Streight was both faithful and faithless. Sentiment here was so strong against her that it permeated the court. She was denied bail, habeas corpus, change of venue, continuance and new trial by Judge Munro, which is contrary to the Texas custom of leniency toward women when tried for murder.

The higher court today severely criticised the District Court for this, especially because Mrs. Streight was forced to attend trial daily lying sick upon a cot. A change of venue was also granted by the higher court.

During the trial the defendant collapsed frequently from hysterical weeping. Today she was overcome with joy when she learned a new trial had been granted.

Indicative of the sentiment of the people when Appellate Judge Davidson allowed her bail before the trial commenced he was burned in effigy. The lower court blocked her getting bail by setting the main trial immediately.

SPINSTER SUES TWICE.

Oregon Miss of Fifty Years Says That a Wealthy Lumberman Promised to Marry Her.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EUGENE (Or.) April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Mary Briggs, a spinster, aged 50 years, residing at Nicolas, has sued Fred Fischer, a wealthy lumberman, aged 64 years, for $5000, alleging breach of promise. This is the second suit of this nature which Miss Briggs has filed against Fischer during the last year. Last fall she instituted a similar action, but this was stopped the suit when he agreed to marry her, and they planned to go to Europe on their wedding tour. She now alleges he failed again to keep his promise.

A suit has also been instituted against Fischer by F. H. Greenman of this city to recover $500 on a promissory note, given by Fischer to Miss Briggs, the lady assigning the note to Greenman.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—A verdict of not guilty in the Hornet filibustering case was rendered by a jury in the Federal Circuit Court late today in the trial of J. W. Beer, former second cigarette fiends, Y.M.C.A., Emp. Dept. S. Hope st.

CUNNINGHAM, SHIRK & COMPANY,
Suite 714, Central Bldg.
Orange grove, in bearing, 70 acres, trees average 8 years. Adjoins city, in San Bernardino county, on avenues and electric lines. Abundant water, on sale. Worth $1200 per acre. City lots can be sold from it at $600 each. I mean business and offer it for immediate sale at $1100 an acre. Terms, $35,000 cash. Trade good Los Angeles property up to $?5,000; balance in mortgages. Make me a good offer if these terms do not suit.
Alfalfa ranch, 247 acres, on railroad, near city and high school, in Riverside county, 140 acres ready to cut now. Steel pipe irrigation throughout. Worth $250 an acre at least. If you can let me have $30,000 this week, I will sell for $?50 per acre and give time for balance. Can not do it afterward.
Vineyard land, near Cucamonga, suitable also for eucalyptus and alfalfa. 200 acres already planted to grapes. Between two railroads and vineyards. 400 acres sold lately for $200 an acre. To clear in one lot the remaining 1200 acres will take $85 an acre, $35,000 cash and balance on terms. Good subdivision proposition.

$10 MONTHLY BUYS THIS SPLENDID ACRE.
What on earth induces the wage earner, the mechanic, the clerk, the stenographer—or any one of that great multitude of people with limited incomes—to live here in town—where the rents are so high and the cost of living so great? Can't get ahead much, can you? Your balance in the savings bank, sometimes looks as though a cyclone had struck it.
The thing for you to do is to get an acre of ground somewhere close to the city, put up a little house on it, have a garden, chickens, fruit trees—and any number of the little money-savers that a suburban citizen can have. IT DOESN'T TAKE MUCH MONEY.
I'll sell you one of the few remaining acres at Somerset, 20 minutes away by trolley. Near enough to go back and forth to your work. Far enough so that you can have all the joys of suburban life and fresh air, and effect all those little economies that roll up into such a sum every month. The soil is a real sandy loam, and I furnish abundant water free. Go and see the place. Excursions every hour daily and up to 2 p.m. Sundays. Immediate action is necessary.

SECOND FLOOR, TRUST & SAVINGS BLDG., SIXTH & SPRING.

FOR SALE—
We are authorized to offer to the investing public what we consider one of the best realty investments in this city. Our client owns the northwest corner of Olive and Hoover sts., 118 feet on Hoover and 100 feet on 24th. We can deliver this large piece of ground for $5000 less than the appraisement of a conservative bank in this city. This is the only corner in Union Square which is not improved with brick buildings paying from 10 to 15 per cent. net on the investment. We respectfully invite inspection, and will be glad to show you facts and figures as to why this is one of the best realty investments in this city.
CUNNINGHAM, SHIRK & CO.,
Suite 714 Central Bldg.,

OWENS RIVER LANDS—

FOR SALE—
ADVERTISEMENT
PRACTICAL FARMER.
I want that man to come in and talk to me about Owens Valley Lands. I want him to allow a good big percentage for my well-satisfied enthusiasm over these lands and then I want him to settle back in his chair and make me prove to him that I am not exaggerating one little particle when I claim that there is no land in all California which is the equal of mine, in the quality of the apples, alfalfa, corn, potatoes, etc., which it will produce.
I want him to make me prove to him, by letters from people already making money on Owens Valley, folks who have gone there after investigating every other section of the State, and who would live nowhere else, that there is the location for his farm, whether he intends to go into apple culture, stock raising or diversified farming.
I want him to make me show him just where our water supply comes from, just why it is inexhaustible, just wherein our gravity, concrete and steel irrigation system is the best that can be devised.
I want him to make me prove, beyond all doubt, from the Weather Bureau's records that in Owens Valley summer is always comfortable and winter never colder than 10 degrees above zero.
And when he has got all through, when I have taken every point that he has raised and answered it to his entire satisfaction, and when I have shown him right here in these offices I have sample crops from the Owens Valley that are really fair samples, and that are merely exceptional examples, then I want him to admit to me that this district is fertile, accessible by the S. P. R.R., well watered and proven productive—is the place for him to make home.
Then, if he is interested, I'd like to take him. If he is not interested, I'd like to take him to see Owens Valley. If he's not sufficiently interested, all right. There'll be no hard feelings. But I want to talk to him. I wonder if he'll come.

is reported along automobile row that the old-hand market for automobiles has fallen out. We realize this as fully as any in town. It is said that there are only or three second-hand cars sold a week. are calling attention to our cars to those three buyers, for as you probably know quitting the automobile business, and sooner we get rid of the few cars that we so hand the better it will be for us; before, for the rest of the month we are to cut the prices on the following cars where they must sell and sell quick:
6-cylinder Briarcliff Lozier, 1911 model.
7-passenger Lozier touring car, 1909 model.
Thomas 7-passenger touring car.

TALK ON BONDS DRAWS CROWD

Enthusiastic Audience Hears Reasons Stated.

City Much Worked Up on the Proposed Issues.

Country Club Buys Land for Golf Course.

(Office of The Times, 28 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, April 20.—The Board of Trade rooms were filled last night with an enthusiastic audience of voters anxious to hear the reasons why the city should be bonded for $316,000 for various public improvements including the city's half for building the Arroyo Seco bridge.

A number of short speeches were made by those most interested in the proposition and many questions were asked by those who came to learn. Never has the city been so thoroughly worked up over a bond issue as it is this time. There was much excitement preceding the recent school bond issue for $550,000 which is given as the principal reason why the bonds carried by a very large majority. The various questions which will be voted on a week from Friday are somewhat different, but it is generally conceded of as much importance as the school bonds.

Section of Marsovian Dance

The first talk, last night, was given by W. F. Knight, chairman of the Board of Trade Committee appointed to work out the details of getting the bridge built across the Arroyo Seco. He explained the tedious job he and his committee has had in getting the matter down to a business basis; the vital importance to the growth of the city; and the very small cost which will be assessed against the individual taxpayers if the bonds carry.

"Just think," he said, "the man whose property is assessed at $1000 will only have to pay fifteen cents in any one year to secure one of the finest bridges in the country. That will be the most he will have to pay and the amount will decrease from year to year for forty years.

"We here in Pasadena are asleep regarding public improvements. We are five years behind the times in comparison with the surrounding cities and we must wake up and keep abreast with the times."

C. D. Daggett explained the necessity of buying Carmelita Gardens for a public playground and Monk Hill for a natural scenic park. He stated that Riverside, Redlands, Pomona and other cities have public grounds from which the grandeur of the surrounding country can be seen and that Pasadena can have the same advantages by securing Monk Hill now while it is not so costly. He explained that all of the grounds which it is proposed to buy are very cheap and can never be purchased for the price now asked the city.

Mayor Earley made a strong address favoring the bonds. He stated that the proposition to buy fire apparatus for the Menter-street firehouse has been practically overlooked by the workers for the bonds but that the people living on East Colorado street and in Oak Knoll are entitled to fire protection which they cannot have under the present system. He also stated that the building adjoining the City Hall which it is proposed to buy for the use of the offices of the municipal lighting plant is optioned to the city at a very reasonable price.

George W. Swarthout, superintendent of the city's playgrounds, also spoke on the necessity for the city buying grounds for municipal playgrounds if Pasadena is to keep abreast with the times in this matter. He said that there on an average of about 3000 children use the Carmenita playgrounds every month.

BUY GOLF GROUNDS.

At a meeting of the directors of the Pasadena Country Club held yesterday afternoon it was decided to buy 150 acres near Alhambra on which to lay out an up-to-date golf course for the use of the members of the club. The grounds which are to be bought belong to H. E. Huntington and are excellently adapted for golf. The consideration was not given out, but it is understood to run about $1000 per acre.

The Pasadena Country Club is the original golf club of Pasadena. Several years ago the club bought a beautiful tract in what is now the edge of Oak Knoll. A golf course was laid out and used for many years, until H. E. Huntington decided that he wanted the grounds to add to his big estate adjoining his new palatial home. He offered the club a handsome profit over its investment and took the grounds. For the past two seasons the club has had no golf. The old clubhouses and the tennis courts were retained.

The new grounds will make four golf courses for Pasadena; Annandale, Altadena, which will be ready by next fall; Raymond, adjoining the Raymond Hotel, and the new Pasadena Country Club grounds, which will also be ready by next fall.

WILL DODGE LICENSE LAW.

Manager Plumer of Hotel Green, who spent several sleepless nights following the recently enacted transient merchants license law which imposes a heavy tax on all transient merchants, has found a way around the law. He has rented the entire arcade, of the east building of the Green to Brock & Feagans of Los Angeles, who will use the room for merchandising purposes. The lessees have taken the arcade for a period of ten years and will sublease the booths to various migratory merchants who desire to sell their goods in Pasadena for short periods during the tourist season.

AWAITING THE KIRMESS.

All Pasadena is awaiting the first performance of Kirmess, which is to be given at the Hotel Maryland amphitheater tonight and tomorrow night by the elite of Pasadena's exclusive society.

The 300 performers constitute some of the best of the Crown City's society women and men. It is all for sweet charity's sake, because the entire proceeds will go toward swelling the fund for the maintenance of the Pasadena Children's Training School.

Never has Pasadena society before attempted a theatrical enterprise of such magnitude. For weeks dainty misses and comely matrons have vied with one another in perfecting the many difficult dances which are scheduled for the performance. There are eighteen numbers in all, each attractive in itself, but the numbers have been so arranged that the performance is practically one continuous round of music and dancing; thrilling, inspiring, pleasing.

The great auditorium will seat 3000 people, including forty boxes, all of which, together with most of the seats, have been engaged for both nights. It will be the biggest affair of the kind ever given in Pasadena and already the school fund gives promise of being increased by many thousands of dollars.

The programme opens with a grand march and tableaux by the entire cast which is followed by an address of welcome by Mayor Earley, the only person on the great stage who will not be in fancy costume. The Mayor will turn the keys of the city over to King Kirmess (C. C. Perkins,) who with his subjects and revelers will take complete charge of the city of roses, winter tourists and bond elections.

The King will be coroneted, after which he will deliver an address. This will be followed by "A Night in Japan," which will be chaperoned by Miss French. This will be a scene in Japan with the Mikado (Thad Lowe,) Empress of Japan (Mrs. Tod Ford,) Knee Pan, a court jester, and four gentlemen of Japan (Messrs. John Coffeen, Henry Mehan, C. Smith, William Wright.) The first scene will be a national dance of Japan by seventy-five young women. The second scene will be entitled "Forty Funny Fellows," given by forty of Pasadena's swell young men.

The next number will be "The Spanish Dance," chaperoned by Mrs Charles C. Perkins and participated in by eleven young women and eleven young men.

This is followed by "The Garland and Wood Nymphs of Rome," chaperoned by Mrs. D. M. Linnard. Miss Jean French and Mrs. Frank G. Hogan.

One of the interesting numbers will be the "Bohemians and Gypsies," chaperoned by Mrs. E. H. Groenendyke. This will be followed by "The Italian Romances," chaperoned by Mrs. A. A. Libby and Mrs. C. C. Perkins. The first part will be closed by "The Gainsborough Double Sextette," chaperoned by Mrs. Tod Ford.

Perhaps the most interesting of all the dances will be "La Carmencita." This one act takes twenty minutes and is filled with action. "La Carmencita, the cigarette girl," Miss Hemmingway; Michaela, Miss Vera Grauert; Don Jose, Frank Hogan; Toreador, P. L. Litwood.

Another of the numbers is "The National Dance of Marsovia," chaperoned by Mrs. H. I. Drummond.

NEWS BREVITIES.

Mayor-elect Thum announced, yesterday, at the City Hall that, for the present he intends to make but few changes in the various appointive offices of the city. He says that he wants to get thoroughly "broken in" before he begins the beheading act. However, the new mayor's statements do not agree exactly with the various rumors which are being circulated about the city. Several of the official heads about the city are said to be tottering and expect to be decapitated soon after May 1. There is no doubt, according to the knowing ones, regarding the jobs of the City Attorney, his assistant, or the City Engineer. There is much discussion, however, as to whether the Chief of Police, Superintendent of Streets, Auditor and Building and Plumbing Inspector, will be able to hold on.

The Chief of Police has issued an embargo against young men, or older ones for that matter, who seem to have a habit of standing about the streets "making eyes" at women as they pass. The police have been instructed to keep a close watch over this matter and to promptly arrest any attempts made at "mashing."

Dr. Lee Deming, yesterday, sold his beautiful black 7-year-old saddle mare, "Black Belle," to William Burnstein of Hanford for $1000.

A charming affair of yesterday was the five hundred party given by Mrs. E. R. Braly at her home, on North Raymond avenue. The hostess was assisted by her daughters, the Misses Ruth and Ruby Braly.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thayer were given a dinner last night at the Christian Church by the members of the Girl's Culture Club, of which Mrs. Thayer was president for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Thayer leave this morning for their future home in Tulare.

One of the affairs of yesterday was the bridge and five hundred party given in the afternoon by Mrs. George P. Cary at her home on South Holliston avenue. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Mrs. E. W. Edminson and Miss Edith Edminson. Mrs. R. R. Stone of Evanston, Ill., Miss Nellie McLaughlin of Los Angeles and Miss Louise Sherman.

It was announced yesterday by the Executive Committee of the national Kappa Alpha Theta College sorority that the national convention of the sorority will be held in Pasadena in July of this year. The exact date has not been announced. It is stated there will be about four hundred delegates in attendance.

SMOKER IDEA POPULAR.

Monthly Feature, Designed to Draw Out Membership of Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce.

OCEAN PARK, April 19.—The idea of holding a smoker once each month, with a view to attracting a full attendance of the membership of the Chamber of Commerce, is one of the hobbies of Secretary W. H. Chatten. The first meeting of this kind proved such a success that plans are already under way for the next one. On these occasions the programme will be strictly informal, refreshments being served on a go-as-you-please order, with all toasts held within a limit of five minutes.

FUNERAL OF SAILOR HELD.

Remains of C. Hendrickson, Which Were Found at Sea, Are Given Interment at Redondo.

REDONDO BEACH, April 19.—Funeral services were held yesterday at Belvidere Cemetery over the remains of C. Hendrickson, the sailor whose body was recovered from the sea day before yesterday. The services were held under the auspices of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, and Rev. W. P. Hardy officiated. Fourteen sailors from San Pedro attended the obsequies.

Hendrickson was reported missing from a lumber vessel in port at San Pedro two weeks ago.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has made it a favorite everywhere. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.—[Adv.

HOWLING DOGS LOCATE CORPSE.

SHEPHERD FALLS TO DEATH IN RANCH CANYON.

Faithful Canines Keep Lonely Vigil Over Body of Their Master for Two Nights and a Day—First Shipment of Valencia Oranges Is Sent Out Six Weeks Earlier.

WHITTIER, April 19.—The mournful howling of his faithful shepherd dogs led to the discovery of the body of Peter Errance at the bottom of a canon on the Arrambide ranch, about five miles east of here this morning. For two nights and a day the dogs kept watch over the lifeless form of their master, protecting it from the wolves and coyotes, while his herd wandered here and there over the hills.

Errance came here from France last September and was employed on the Arrambide ranch as a shepherd, tending his flock on the hills of the big ranch and living in a cabin in a lonely canon about two miles from the ranch house.

It had been his custom to come to the ranch house twice a week for provisions and when he failed to report this morning a search was instituted and it was the barking of his dogs that led to his discovery. Errance had slipped on the trail and had fallen about thirty feet.

Evidently death had been instantaneous, as there was every indication that he had struck upon his head. The body was brought to Whittier today by Constable Way and Undertaker White. Funeral services will be held at the Catholic Church tomorrow.

HADLEY FUNERAL.

The funeral of Albert Hadley, president of the First National Bank, was conducted at the home, No. 133 North Comstock avenue, this afternoon.

Mr. Hadley was at one time cashier of the Bank of Lawrence, Lawrence, Kan., of which institution he and his father were the founders, and also cashier of the National Bank of California in Los Angeles several years.

FIRST VALENCIAS GO.

The first shipment of Valencia oranges this season was sent out by the Edmund-Peycke Company today. Another car will be shipped tomorrow.

The car sent out today was consigned to a buyer in Burlington, Iowa. The fruit was sold f. o. b. Whittier. The Valencia season has opened about six weeks earlier this season than last owing to the poor condition of the navels and the fact that the fruit is coloring earlier than last year. The company will continue shipments from now on through the summer.

The Whittier Citrus Association will not begin its Valencia shipments until the last of May, when the navels will be entirely gone.

WINDFALL FOR A MOTORMAN.

HEIR TO THOUSANDS STICKS TO THE CONTROLLER.

Finding of Deeds Long Sought in Vain Makes Him the Owner of a Large Interest in Extensive Lands Left by His Father in the Middle West—Man Drowned Identified.

REDONDO BEACH, April 19.—Edward McGuire, a motorman on the Los Angeles and Redondo line of the Pacific Electric, was notified yesterday that he has fallen heir to $70,000. The news of his fortune did not prevent the young man appearing for motorman on the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway, who has received word that he has fallen heir to $70,000, but who stays by his post as if he had no such property to look after.

duty on his run today just as promptly as in the past and from running his car in the same care-free manner just as if he hadn't a fortune to look after.

McGuire's fortune comes to him from his father, Mitchell McGuire's estate, which consists of tracts of coal and timber lands in Arkansas, Mississippi, Kentucky and Virginia, valued at about $280,000. The land will be divided among McGuire and three older brothers who live in the East, making each one's share about $70,000.

The elder McGuire died eight years ago in Omaha, and though his sons knew he left a large amount of land in different States they were not able to locate the deeds.

Yesterday Motorman McGuire received a letter from his brother, Andrew McGuire of South Omaha, a detective, that he had been notified by Attorney N. A. Crawford of Council Bluffs, Iowa, that trust deeds of the elder McGuire had been found in his office. The deeds cover tracts totaling 7000 acres.

Mitchell McGuire in his early days worked in the timber lands and about saw mills and lumber camps, when he acquired most of the land that today makes his sons wealthy.

Although Motorman McGuire expects a message from Omaha to call him back there on business pertaining to the settling of the estate, he says he expects to continue to work on the railroad for the present and ring fares or run his car as usual.

McGuire, who is 28 years old, lives in a modest little cottage on Guadalupe street, with his wife and small 5-year-old son. He and his family came here from Omaha three years ago.

His brothers are Joseph of Omaha, Andrew of South Omaha, and Francis of Oshkosh, Wis., who is deaf and dumb.

ESTABLISH IDENTITY.

Letters found in the baggage of the man drowned here Sunday, who was supposed to be Frank Bell of San Francisco, have established his identity as that of George G. Mahoney of Oakland. Undertaker George Cate found letters in his grip last night addressed to George G. Mahoney, written by his brother, James Mahoney of No. 772 Eighth street, Oakland. The letters were not discovered before, as the baggage was in the Los Angeles and Redondo freight office.

In response to a telegraphic night letter from Mr. Cate regarding the body, James Mahoney wired this afternoon to hold it and that he will arrive here tomorrow morning. Mahoney evidently registered at the Vogel, where he stopped on his arrival from San Francisco, under the assumed name of Frank Bell. From the letters from his brother, it appears that the unfortunate man had been working in a camp in Merced county before coming to Los Angeles, although he sailed from San Francisco on the President the 10th inst.

WILL GREET EDITORS.

Southern California Association of Them to Be Welcomed to Pomona for Opening of the New City Hall.

POMONA, April 19.—The Executive Committee of the Southern California Editorial Association has accepted the invitation of the Board of Trade, the Business Men's Association and the Realty Board to pass Friday of next week here. This is the day set apart for celebrating the opening of the new City Hall and the occasion will be made memorable. The editors and their families will reach here in the morning and remain until the middle of the afternoon. A programme of entertainment is being arranged, which will include a formal welcome to the city at the new municipal building, automobile rides about the city and a basket picnic at Ganesha Park. Then the visitors will be taken to Ontario via Claremont and Upland, where they will pass several hours. They will then go to Riverside and pass the night at the Glenwood Tavern. The following morning, the editorial party will go to Redlands to be guests of the Redlands Chamber of Commerce. After drives and luncheon in that city, the party will return to Los Angeles for a banquet in the evening.

TATE-MESCHER.

Miss Amelia Mescher and Albert E. Tate were married at noon yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Rev. F. U. Bugbee officiating, in the presence of only the closest friends of bride and groom. A wedding breakfast was served at the tavern following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Tate will soon be at home at No. 651 East Holt avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Potter of 543 North Gordon street left for Albuquerque, N. M., today for the benefit of Mr. Potter's health.

Mrs. J. T. Brady will entertain the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian Church, at her home, No. 286 East Holt avenue tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Mark Hugunin Potter entertained the Music and Art section of the Ebell Club at her attractive new residence on Lincoln avenue this afternoon. The programme was in charge of Mrs. J. W. Fulton. Mrs. B. L. Olds spoke on Current Events, Mrs. J. W. Joos read a paper on "Mural and Portrait Painting," Mrs. J. E. Patterson told of "American Cathedrals" and Mrs. Frank Smith of "Opera in America."

The women of Pomona Rebekah lodge, who are arranging for a picnic and bazaar, the first to be held on April the 26th inst., and the latter in May, met this afternoon at Odd Fellows Hall for a sewing and fancy article bee. Another meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon.

VENICE.

OCEAN PARK, April 19.—As soon as the required notice can be given publication the citizens of Ocean Park will vote on the question of changing the name of the city to Venice. Abbot Kinney and his following want the town called Venice, while other interests quite as large prefer the old name. The campaign will be only another chapter in the virulent war which has been going on in one form or another since the town was built.

The Doctor's Answers on Health and Beauty Questions

By DR. LEWIS BAKER.

The questions answered below are general in character; the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Building, College-Ellwood sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Sufferer: Asthma has been conquered by careful regard to diet, exercise and general health when the following treatment has been persistently and regularly used for from two to six months.

Try it, and if it gives relief you can rest assured that it will be most effective as a cure in your case, as it has in many others.

Oil Eucalyptus 1 dram, Terebene 1 dram, Essence Mentho-Laxene 2½ ozs., Glycerine, pure, 6 ounces. Mix, shake the bottle and take a teaspoonful every hour or two during attacks, and 4 doses daily at other times.

Grace M.:—Your distress is due to a complication of ills due in a great measure to poor circulation which affects the delicate organs of your sex, causing the usual abnormal symptoms of pain; griping, headache, and soreness in the chest and under the shoulder blades. Your weight is 20 pounds below normal and your blood is in poor condition. Have this prescription filled and use regularly for several months:

Viburnum Prunifolium 1 oz., Tincture Cadomene Comp. 1 oz., Comp. Syrup Hypophosphites 6 ozs. Mix, and take a teaspoonful every three hours during the day, followed by a glass of water.

Also obtain 3-Grain Hypo-Nucleane Tablets and take as per directions accompanying sealed package.

Discouraged Mechanic:—The trouble with your feet will require a long course of treatment to correct, but by patience and persistency the following treatment will do it. This also will relieve and cure tired, aching, sweaty and calloused feet, as it is a local tonic and stimulant to the muscles, ligaments and cells. To a gallon of hot water add a teaspoonful of Vilane Powder and a teaspoonful of alum. Immerse the feet 15 to 20 minutes each night. Then bathe the feet in cold water and dry.

Anna E.:—Your acute indigestion, accompanied by constipation, has brought on rheumatism through mal-assimilation or a constant absorption of poisons which should have been eliminated. You must first regulate your diet. Discontinue coffee and tea. Omit meat almost entirely; also starchy foods such as fresh bread, pastry and potatoes, except baked. Always eat less than your appetite craves. For the indigestion, take Tablets Tripeptine; pink after breakfast, white after dinner, blue after supper. Also use ½ to 1 teaspoonful of the following to correct liver and bowels: Fl. Ext. Mandrake drams, Aromatic Fl. Cascara 1 oz., Glycerine Essence Cardiol 1 oz., Aromatic Syrup Rhubarb 4 ozs. Mix three or four doses first. After three weeks alternate and take the following as a powerful tonic to improve the circulation: Comp. Syrup Hypophosphites ozs., Tincture Cadomene Comp. 1 oz. (or Cardamon.)

This course of treatment should be continued until entirely relieved.

Reader:—Excessive perspiration under the arms can be relieved by washing them at night with a pint of warm water in which has been added a level teaspoonful of Antiseptic Vilane Powder; but, to cure, the only sure method is to bathe the entire body once daily and keep the bowels active. The perspiration should not be checked altogether.

Mrs. E. F.:—Your stomach trouble is due to an excess of acid causing much gas, rumbling, headache, sour risings, etc., especially after eating acid fruits, etc. Take Tablets Tripeptine as per directions accompanying sealed package. Also take ½ teaspoonful of Sodium Phosphate in water after each meal. If constipated take 2-grain Tablets Sulphur put up in sealed tubes. Never take a substitute for anything I prescribe.

Rose:—I do not know the formula to which you refer to. An excellent and reliable giant for the hair which is not harmful, but beneficial as a hair tonic, follows: Take six heaping tablespoonfuls of coffee and boil it in 1 pint of water until reduced by evaporation to 1 quart. Strain thoroughly, let cool and then add one ounce of Vilane Powder. Shake well and dampen the hair twice daily. By making the coffee stronger or weaker, you can secure any shade you desire. The odor of coffee is lost by long boiling.

Mabel:—Use same treatment as "Anna E."

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Riverside.

HORIZONTAL TAX LIFT PLANNED.

COUNTY AUTHORITIES DISCUSS THE NEW SYSTEM.

Auditor Says Operation of Amendment Means the Taking Away of $5,500,000 of the $27,000,000 Total Assessment—Supervisor Favors Fixed Rate of Increase.

RIVERSIDE, April 19.—The Board of Supervisors in session today called into the chamber for consultation the County Auditor and the County Assessor to consider with them some of the problems of taxation arising from the new law, which takes from the assessed valuation of the county all of the property owned by public service corporations.

The auditor stated that the operations of the amendment mean the taking away from this county $5,500,000 of the assessed valuation of $27,000,000, or one-fifth of the property on which taxes were collected in the past year. How the assessor should assess the property by increasing the taxable valuation or by making a horizontal raise was discussed by the board. It was stated in the course of the discussion that the property in Riverside county, generally, is experiencing a natural advance all the while, and Chairman Carlton suggested that a 10 per cent. advance would approximately meet the decrease in revenue, which will result from the State taking out the railroad property in this county, as provided for by the amendment.

Supervisor Holmes brought the matter to the attention of the board, stating that the assessments are too low for the property in the county, as a rule, and believed that the assessor should take his regular assessments and make a fixed rate per cent. of increase on them to meet the shortage, which must be experienced in the revenues of the county.

GETS FIVE YEARS.

Judge Densmore today sentenced Francisco Gandara to five years in the penitentiary for robbery, of which he was convicted by a jury on Monday. The crime, for which the Mexican was sent up, was committed on the night of March 1, when he went, in a semi-drunken condition, to the home of Felicita Mendoza at Casa Blanca and frightened the woman into giving him all the money she had, a $5 gold piece. This was the second time Gandara has been before the Superior Court of this county, he having been convicted and sentenced to two years in 1908 for burglary. He then went under the name of Antonio Ramires, but was at once recognized as the same man when he was arrested recently on the charge made against him by the Casa Blanca woman.

STATE HUMANE BODY.

The local committee is making preparations for the semi-annual meeting of the State Humane Association, which is to be held in the music-room of the Glenwood Mission Inn, commencing Friday morning and continuing three days. This will be the first time such a meeting of the State organization in the interest of humanity shall have been held in this city, and considerable interest is being manifested in it.

The local committee consists of DeWitt Hutchings, W. R. Hale, H. M. May and Geoffrey F. Morgan, all of them active men engaged in public affairs in the city. The regular sessions of Friday and Saturday will be held in the cloister of the inn, and on Friday afternoon the public schools will be addressed by visiting delegates. For Sunday there is planned in connection with the convention what is known as "Mercy Day" programmes, which will be given in all of the churches and Sunday-schools. Dr. E. L. Conger of Pasadena, president of the State organization, will be present and open the sessions. Rev. Charles Blaisdell of Joslands; Josephine Clifford McCracken of Santa Cruz; Christopher Ruess, probation officer of Alameda county, and many others are on the programme for talks. The sessions of the convention will be made more interesting by the introduction of illustrations of humane work.

MEXICAN SCRATCHED BY WIRE.

Recovers from Four Bullet Wounds, But the Modern Fence Came Near Getting Him.

CORONA, April 19.—Antonacio Bicerra who just recovered from a recent shooting fracas which left four bullets in his body, is again in trouble.

Sunday afternoon while drunk he fell onto a barbed-wire fence severing an artery in the temple. He almost bled to death before a doctor arrived and sewed up the wound.

CUPID BUSY.

George Orthman Lawson and Miss Audrey Adcock were united in marriage Monday afternoon at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Mary Lawson, at Eighth and Howard streets, Rev. T. J. Cucaran of the Catholic Church officiating. The bride wore a plum-colored traveling suit. Her bridesmaid, Miss Helen Hitt, was in blue. L. V. Corella attended the groom. After a trip they will live in Corona, the groom being employed by the Growers' Fruit Company. Both bride and groom are minors, the former being an orphan, her guardian, George Ferguson, gave his consent.

Frank Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hancock, arrived last evening from Chico, accompanied by his bride, who was Miss Erma Dyer of Butte City, until two months ago, when the young couple were quietly married in Chico. The bride and groom were met in Los Angeles by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas, the latter being the groom's sister.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A triple deal has been made here by S. E. French in which C. D. McNeil purchases the eleven-room mission home with eighty foot frontage on the boulevard, and formerly known as the Lyman property; W. L. Peeler gets the Southworth cottage home and two lots on West Sixth street; James Wallace comes into possession of the McNeil home on the boulevard which he built and lived in years ago.

Another case of buying back property is that of one and one-half acres on upper Main street formerly owned by Ed Davis, who now buys it from J. H. Huyck at a considerable advance in price. The land is now in alfalfa and deciduous trees.

J. H. Huyck has bought of Mrs. Nellie Summers, a six-room house on West Seventh street, for $1500.

Rosario Sainz,

Mexican desperado brought from Ensenada for Sheriff Ruddick of Santa Ana. Sainz is wanted for murder and jail-breaking.

Santa Ana.

JIMMY MEN STEAL GUNS.

STORE ENTERED BY BREAKING REAR DOOR GLASS.

Purse Taken From Beneath Scales on Counter and Ostrich Plumes Removed From Another Shop. Will of Daniel H. Thomas, Who Died at His Supper Table Is Filed.

SANTA ANA, April 19.—Last night for the first time in many weeks, burglars operated in the business portion of Santa Ana. Two stores were entered, and attempts were made to enter two other stores.

By breaking the glass in the rear door of A. E. Hawley's gun store at No. 215 West Fourth street, the thieves gained entrance, and made away with eight revolvers, worth $120, three knives worth $8.50, and $15.95. The purse was hidden beneath a scales on the counter. At first this morning Hawley thought a burglar bumped against the scales and dislodged the purse. Experiments showed that a bump would not dislodge it, and Hawley is convinced some one saw him place the money there.

The place occupied by Marigold Brothers Curio Store and Miss Ruth Taylor's millinery store at No. 309 North Main street was entered through the basement, a door being pried off its hinges. Ostrich plumes worth $100 were taken from the millinery shop and 75 cents from the Merigold cash drawer. A screen was pried off the rear of John McFadden's hardware store and a window at the rear of Uttley and Mead's clothing store. The burglars were probably scared away.

THOMAS WILL FILED.

The will of Daniel H. Thomas, who died suddenly at his supper table on the 11th inst., was filed for probate today. The estate of $100,000 is divided largely among three daughters, Mrs. Addie E. Raugh and Mrs. Marian Monaghan, both of Los Angeles, and Miss Shirley Thomas of Santa Ana. A clause of the will states that no provision is made for the widow, Mrs. Jennie E. Thomas, because of a prenuptial contract between her when she was Mrs. Jennie Merrill of Long Beach, and Thomas. The contract was to the effect that in the event of the death of either party the other should have none of the estate.

SAINZ TRIAL SET.

The trial of Rosario Sainz, the Mexican desperado, returned here yesterday from Ensenada by Sheriff Ruddock, has been set for June 2. Sainz is charged with the murder of Jose Machado.

Alcaldeo Nede, a shoplifter, was sentenced to six months in jail today by Justice Cox. Martin Guerrero, an accomplice, was given thirty days.

The Santa Ana Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association is planning an excursion of merchants to Mt. Lowe. The date has not been set.

The new Board of Education organized last night by electing W. L. Duggan, president, and Mrs. W. M. Smart secretary.

Evangelist Brown and Singer Curry are to begin union revival services in Santa Ana next Sunday afternoon. A huge tent has been erected to hold the crowds. The evangelistic team has just completed a revival at Fresno.

Marriage licenses issued yesterday and today: Louis Rich, 34, and Ruth E. Rhoads, 27, both of Redlands; Harry M. Botton, 32, and Alice V. Law, 35, both of Santa Monica; Charles L. Woods, 25, of Pasadena, and Jessie Williamson, 24, of Fullerton; Wesley W. Warner, 22, of Fullerton and Alice Eichler, 19, of Anaheim; John W. Scott, 19, and Ada F. Homer, 30, both of Los Angeles; Harlow L. Minkler, 44, of San Francisco, and Ella Todd, 47, of Los Angeles; Vance Knight, 21, and Ivah Kimmell, 17, both of Los Angeles.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, April 19.—The management of the Lakeview Inn has changed hands, G. A. Covey and R. J. Patchel taking over the lease held by Charles Sutherland, who has been manager for some time.

The new managers have been connected with hotels in Buffalo, N. Y., Cleveland, O., and Barstow, Tex., from which latter place they come here. They are accompanied by their wives. Mr. Covey has a sister with him, who will have charge of the bath-house.

Ventura.

FIND FISHER DEAD BY CREEK.

SUDDEN DEATH OF RESIDENT OF COUNTY SEAT.

He Fails to Be at an Agreed Place at Noon and a Companion Goes in Search of Him—Pioneers Plan to Hold Basket Picnic About the Middle of May.

VENTURA, April 19.—George Franklin Jewett, a resident of this city, but for many years a farmer near Saticoy, died suddenly yesterday while fishing on Coyote creek, in the Casitas. Mr. Jewett started out for the Casitas in the morning in company with W. R. Adams. They started fishing and then separated, agreeing to meet at a stated place at noon for luncheon.

Mr. Adams kept the appointment, but Jewett failed to appear. Hours passed and Adams started out to hunt for his companion enlisting the aid of some residents of the section. The remains were found at about 7 o'clock in the evening near the creek where Jewett had evidently lain down to rest and expired. He was found stretched out with his head resting on his fish basket. Life had been extinct several hours. The place were the body was found was about three-quarters of a mile from the first steep grade in Foster park. The remains were brought to this city by the Coroner and an autopsy held last night showing that death had come from rupture of an aneurism of the aorta, or largest blood vessel. Mr. Jewett was 67 years of age. He leaves three grown children, H. R. Jewett, Ed. Jewett and Mrs. Will Cook.

PIONEERS PLAN GATHERING.

Arrangements are being made by the pioneers of this county to hold a grand basket picnic at Foster Park about the middle of May. The Ventura County Pioneer Society was founded by the late Dr. C. L. Bard, but there has been no general meeting of the society since his funeral. It is now proposed to get as many as possible of the pioneers together in an attempt to revive the association into an active body and have regular meetings.

Byron DeNure of Santa Paula was yesterday appointed by the Supervisors as Justice of the Peace to succeed the late Justice Titus. There were four candidates for the place, A. W. Elliott, F. A. Titus, Byron DeNure and J. F. Johnson.

Diggers are busy here in great numbers taking clams from the beds near the outlet of the city sewers. The clams are sent to the Los Angeles market. The health officer here has reported that the clams taken there produce typhoid fever and has asked the authorities to have digging cease

COLTON.

COLTON, April 19.—Edward Jones, the cattleman injured at El Casco yesterday and operated upon by Dr. Champion of this city, was taken to Los Angeles this morning, where he will remain until able to return to his home in Phoenix.

The Juvenile Band was out boosting today for the Merchants' Carnival. The towns visited by the lads included Rialto, Cucamonga, Upland, Ontario and Pomona. The Colton Citizens Band was boosting last night by playing on the streets, previous to another promotion meeting held in the City Hall.

George A. Fisher, superintendent of the cement plant here, has returned from Los Angeles, where, it is reported here, a consultation was held in regard to the decision rendered by Judge Bledsoe in regard to the cement dust nuisance. The Colton citizens are divided in their opinions about the decision, while some of the merchants are in sympathy with the cement company, others with the orange growers.

HIGHLAND.

HIGHLAND, April 19.—The Southern California State Hospital at Patton is to have its own plant for the manufacture of gas and generation of electricity. The southern institution fared well at the hands of the last Legislature, receiving appropriations aggregating $666,000. Of this amount $43,000 is for the erection of a gas and electricity building, to be equipped at an expense of $12,000 from the contingent fund of the hospital. Plans for the building are being prepared in the office of the State engineer. Other appropriations are $343,000 for support, $220,000 for salaries, and $60,000 for new cottages. The institution now cares for more than 1400 patients.

ESCONDIDO.

ESCONDIDO, April 19.—Prof. J. Elit Coit of Whittier delivered an address here last evening on "Beautifying Home Grounds," under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association, at the High School auditorium.

The Escondido Development Company, which owns Winona Park, is building its streets eighty feet wide, with a forty-foot roadway and leaving twenty feet at either side of the thoroughfare for sidewalking and parkings. The width of the cement sidewalks is to be five feet, and the space between the curb and the inner edge of the walk ten feet. The trees are planted at the corners of the fifty-foot lots.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, April 19.—At an "at home," given yesterday afternoon by her sister, Mrs. H. J. Frothingham, at the manse, Miss Ella E. Drake of New York City gave an exhibition of her paintings in oil and water and on china, made in the Italian and other foreign galleries, together with a number of the beauty spots of Elsinore, made in the past month. More than one hundred pictures and other works of art were exhibited.

PLACENTIA.

PLACENTIA, April 19.—A twenty-room hotel is under construction. It is being erected by B. M. Baker of San Pedro. Three store buildings are going up, which will be occupied by a drug firm, hardware house and furniture dealer. A garage is also being built. Four new dwellings are being erected in the residence action.

YORBA.

YORBA, April 19.—E. Isaacs and son George, old-time residents of Compton, have each bought ten acres, at the Yorba Linda tract, where they will build themselves a home and also plant deciduous fruits of different varieties.

SWIFTER BOAT WANTED THERE.

HOPE TO SECURE DETACHED TORPEDO VESSEL.

Steam Schooner Orient Is Found to Be Not Fast Enough to Overtake the Gasoline Launches Supposed to Be Engaged in Smuggling Chinese From the Mexican Coast.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Finding that the steam schooner Orient is not fast enough to overtake the swift gasoline launches supposed to be engaged in smuggling Chinese from the Mexican coast to points along the American coast, Capt. Ainsworth left tonight for San Francisco for the purpose of securing one of the detached torpedo boats now at Mare Island.

For the last two months local immigration officials have used the Orient, which is considered the fastest steam schooner in southern waters, in endeavors to head off or capture the smugglers and their contraband cargoes, but so far they have been unsuccessful.

After a week's vigil along the Coast without trophies of the chase, Capt. Ainsworth this morning brought the Orient to port. According to reports brought here, a lot of 500 Chinese, known to be at Ensenada two weeks ago, is said to have dwindled to 350. That a large number have been landed on United States soil is believed to be true. Capt. Ainsworth suggested that a torpedo boat with its speed and armament would prove to be a more available smuggleh chaser.

He was advised to go to San Francisco and present his plans to the chief of the Immigration Bureau. He is of the opinion that he will be successful and that the War Department will allow the use of one of the detached boats.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Thanking the court for a decree of final divorce, with the remark that she hoped to be more successful in her second matrimonial venture, Mrs. Susan M. Burnett, 59, walked out of the courtroom on the arm of David Johnson, 73, today, and together they visited the office of the County Clerk, where a marriage license was issued to them. A few minutes later they were married by a justice of the peace.

LOOKING FOR SWINDLER.

The old saying that a new sucker is born every day fits F. W. Klett's case. Answering an advertisement by which the applicant was to be paid a handsome salary with the requirement that as evidence of good faith he must deposit $250, Klett did so, to his sorrow. When Klett awakened to the fact that he was the lamb so easily shorn he told his story to the police. Officers throughout Southern California are now searching for a suave young man known to Klett as D. Green.

According to Klett he was one of many who called on Green in a well-appointed office. Green's proposition was that he and his applicants would enter the real estate business. According to this agreement with Klett the latter was to run the office while Green was to "boost" on the outside. Upon receiving Klett's $250 Green disappeared. After waiting two days for his return Klett realized he had been victimized.

TO ENTERTAIN SOLDIERS.

The Chamber of Commerce is working out plans for a series of entertainments for the officers and sailors of the Pacific cruiser fleet. For the officers there will be dinners and balls. The first will take place at Hotel del Coronado, the next at the U. S. Grant hotel and a third at Lakeside. A committee is now in conference with Admiral Thomas and his staff as to suitable dates. On account of the uncertainty as to the length of the stay of the ship in local waters the entertainments must necessarily be arranged for with haste. The committee intends to arrange for one big entertainment for the sailors, with special privileges. The plan is to begin with a regatta Saturday and Sunday.

TROOPS RETURN.

The provisional brigade, comprising the Eighth and Thirtieth regiments, arrived in camp at Point Loma today. The troops reached Grossmont yesterday from a three-day march. They left Alpine Monday, camped that night at Rattlesnake Buttes, known as Twin Springs, returned to Grossmont yesterday, broke camp there this morning and reached Point Loma at 2 o'clock this afternoon. What the next movement of the brigade will be is unknown. Gen. Bliss anticipates that maneuvers on a smaller scale will take place at the Point Loma camp.

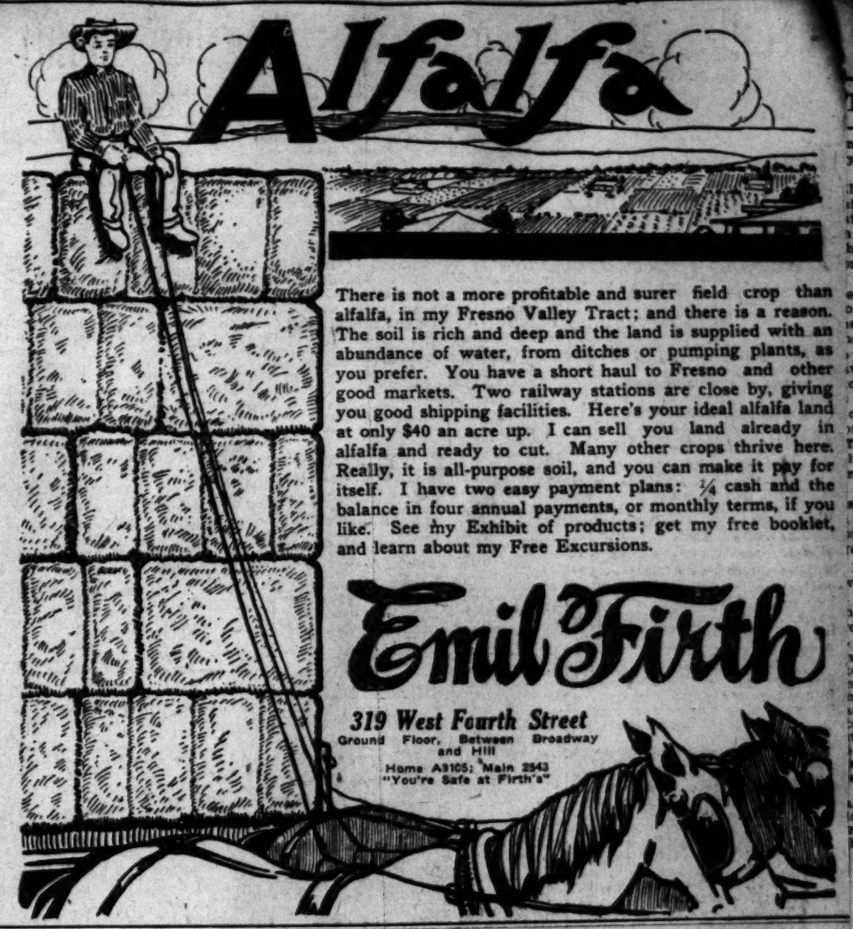
FULLERTON.

FULLERTON, April 19.—A proposition for the building of a new commercial hotel in Fullerton has been taken up by the local Chamber of Commerce, following the offer of P. A. Schumacher to sell a site on North Spadra street and take a large amount of stock in a hotel company.

The new Christian Church will be dedicated next Sunday. Mrs. Princess Long of Long Beach, a singer, will take part in the services, which will be held morning, afternoon and evening.

BARN DANCE AND PARTY.

The Pythian Sisters of Miramonte Temple will give a barn dance and card party at Wood's Hall, No. 5721 Pasadena avenue, one week from tonight, April 27.



There is not a more profitable and surer field crop than alfalfa, in my Fresno Valley Tract; and there is a reason. The soil is rich and deep and the land is supplied with an abundance of water, from ditches or pumping plants, as you prefer. You have a short haul to Fresno and other good markets. Two railway stations are close by, giving you good shipping facilities. Here's your ideal alfalfa land at only $40 an acre up. I can sell you land already in alfalfa and ready to cut. Many other crops thrive here. Really, it is all-purpose soil, and you can make it pay for itself. I have two easy payment plans: ¼ cash and the balance in four annual payments, or monthly terms, if you like. See my Exhibit of products; get my free booklet, and learn about my Free Excursions.

Gas Talks

CHAPTER 41

Never a Break in "Perfect Service"

HOW often has your gas service failed in the last year?

When has it been that you have turned the valve and failed to obtain light or heat at the touch of a match?

Run these questions over in your mind and recall, if possible, any lapse on the part of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation in filling your wants.

Has any other utility been so surely and promptly at your command? Has the butcher, baker, laundryman, tailor, been as dependable as the gas service?

At breakfast, lunch or dinner, in darkness or in daylight; in cloudy weather or fair, gas is at your call—as infallible as the tides and infinitely more regular.

Like clock-work in its adjustment is the operation of this system. Vigilance is exercised in every department to insure a constant and an abundant supply of gas for every one of our nearly 100,000 consumers.

Failure at any point of consumption should be reported immediately. Quick action follows every complaint.

CUPID HAS TO HUSTLE.

Chubby God Up Against It With Nineteen Divorce Actions in One Day—Wins by One Couple.

Reno's reputation as the divorce center of the universe was endangered yesterday when all records for filing such actions in the Los Angeles County Clerk's office were shattered. If the rate at which lawyers filed the preliminary steps for the severance of matrimonial bonds is continued, the center of the divorce world will soon be established here.

Cupid grabbed his bow and arrow in alarm and fled in search of recruits shortly after noon, when one attorney filed eight divorce suits in one bunch. The little god had a hard run to keep ahead of the divorce mill and had only one couple to the good when the Courthouse was closed last night.

Twenty couples took out licenses to wed. Eighteen suits for divorce and one petition for an annulment of a marriage were filed. The largest number of suits of this character ever recorded before was sixteen. The officials at that time spread the alarm that race suicide was gaining prestige, but their terror of this dread evil was even more manifest yesterday.

Volumes of domestic woes are doubtless told in the complaints. Some of them were thin and some were bulky. Some had yellow covers, some had brown and others were enclosed in sickly blue. There is a law which prevents anyone outside of the officials from perusing the pages, but the faces of the clerks as they read through the papers were tell-tales.

TALKS ON EXERCISE.

At the regular monthly meeting of the L.A.P. Educational Association held last night in the rooms of the Y.W.C.A., Prof. Clark Heatherington of the University of Wisconsin, was the principal speaker. He is an advocate of systematized exercise and playground work in all of its branches.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION,
Times Office, No. 531 South Spring street.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Los Angeles Bidder Wins.

A telegram from Washington says the Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles is the lowest bidder on the elevator for the public building at Fort Dodge, Iowa. The price is $6945.

University Club.

Tonight will be ladies' night at the University Club. Members will bring guests, and a special table d'hote dinner will be served from 6 to 7:30. This will be followed by a musicale and dancing.

Celts Meet Tonight.

The Los Angeles Celts will have a banquet tonight at the club-rooms, No. 551 South Broadway. It will be ladies' night and a large turn-out of Scotch, Irish, Welsh, Manx and Corpuish is expected.

Arroyo Chamber Meets.

The Arroyo Seco Chamber of Commerce will hold a mass meeting at the Presbyterian Church, Pasadena avenue and Avenue Fifty-three, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. This meeting will be under the guidance of the Highland Park Ebell, which will furnish all the speakers and entertainment. The High School and library question will be discussed.

Death Accidental.

Mrs. C. F. Gaffney, a manicurist living at No. 316 1-2 South Spring street, was overcome by gas early yesterday morning and died before medical assistance could be given her. Although the windows of her room were wide open, the ventilation was not sufficient to overcome the poison. The gas cock was found to be loose. Coroner Hartwell signed a certificate of accidental death.

Blast Uncovers Fossil Fish.

Employees of the Los Angeles Brick Company, while blasting in the quarry in the Chavez ravine yesterday, unearthed a fossil fish measuring fifteen inches in length. The fossil is so perfect that the fins, backbone and even the scales can be readily seen. The bank from which the specimen was secured is 125 feet below the street grade. The fossil has been offered to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce for preservation.

Old Soldiers' Picnic.

The old soldiers will hold an all-day basket picnic at Sycamore Grove Saturday, with the Veteran Drum Corps, music, addresses, etc., as attractions. The speaker of the day will be Col. J. Steadman, and J. M. Guinn will preside. Capt. Thomas J. Shea will read Lincoln's first call for troops. The celebration is in honor of the semi-centennial of the call for the three-months' men by President Lincoln.

Assemblyman Divorce Defendant.

Henry H. Lyon, Assemblyman from the Seventy-third District, who lives at No. 732 Crocker street, was made defendant in a petition for divorce, filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Nadie A. Lyon. She charges extreme cruelty and infidelity. The Lyons have been married nine years, and have no children. Several years ago they separated, and the wife began suit for divorce, but a reconciliation was effected.

Lyon is an insurance and real estate dealer. In former years he was a member of the City Council from the old Seventh Ward. Mrs. Lyon is represented by Attorneys Parker & Stoots, who refuse to discuss the case.

Take Other Positions.

Thomas McCaffrey, superintendent of the southern division, and J. B. Rowray, superintendent of the northern lines of the Pacific Electric Railway, have tendered their resignations, to become effective May 1.

McCaffrey will become general manager of the Automatic Dies Distributing Company, while Rowray takes the position of general superintendent of the Northern Traction Company, with headquarters at Sacramento.

The latter company is the new third-rail system that operates through the Marysville, Chico and Oroville district. It is not yet known who will take the places left open by these two resignations, but it is probable that local officials will be given the positions.

BREVITIES.

Philip H. Goldberg and Mrs. Ida M. Conley will form an adult beginners class in dancing Monday evening, April 24, Flower street, corner 16th. References required.

THEODORE WELCH FUNERAL.

Body of Yale Man Who Has Been Identified With California Interests Is Sent East.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 19.—The funeral services of Theodore Frelinghuysen Welch were held yesterday at his late residence, No. 929 Buena Vista street, and the body was shipped to Newcomb, N. Y., for burial, his native town and State.

Mr. Welch graduated from Yale University in 1869, and subsequently, and until 1890, practiced law in Buffalo, N. Y. He was also for many years interested with his brothers in extensive lumber operations in Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Since coming to South Pasadena he has practiced his profession in Los Angeles, acting for the greater portion of the time as attorney for the Union Oil Company of California, and other large corporations. He possessed unusual mental attainments, was a man of high character and ability, and of exceeding gentle disposition. Mr. Welch is survived by a widow, two sons and a daughter.

NEWS BRIEFS.

J. P. Whitmore, No. 1143 Fairview avenue, has gone on a five weeks' eastern trip. He expects to visit Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and New York city before his return.

A. B. Clay, president of the Los Angeles Home Telephone Company, is the authority for the statement that within six months a power plant and distributing station will be built in this city at a cost of $50,000, when all the people who wish the service will then be supplied. At Present only a limited number can be served. He said they were doing their best to make extensions, but were badly handicaped by the non-shipment of automatic equipment from Chicago.

WRENCHES HIS ARM.

Deputy Manning, who is in charge of the Sheriff's office, says that there is no deep significance attaching to the absence from the city of Under Sheriff Robert T. Brain. The latter wrenched his arm at the beach on Sunday, and is now in the country, taking a rest—the office has it. He is said to telephone in every day, and he will be on duty in a short time.

Line of Circumstances.

BLACK EYE MAY BE KEY TO MYSTERY OF TERROR.

Man Believed by Officers to Be the Boyle Heights Fiend, Assailant of Women and Slayer of Messer in Westlake Park, Held Without Bail in County Jail Pending Police Investigation.

OUT of the maze of coincidence and contradiction that for many months has proved a baffling puzzle to the authorities, circumstances came to light yesterday which are believed to point to the Boyle Heights fiend.

As the result of those findings, H. R. Harris, confessed author of atrocities upon little girls, was last night ordered held without bail, on suspicion of identity with the man who terrorized the eastern part of the city last fall and is believed to have slain Russell M. Messer in Westlake Park on the night of March 29.

The no-bail order communicated to the Sheriff by Police Judge Frederickson last nigth, is looked upon as a move of the greatest significance as indicating the new direction of the grim finger of circumstance.

The accused man was held, at his hearing during the afternoon, on the comparatively nominal bond of $1000. Hours afterward the links of the circumstantial chain welded into the coherence to justify the sudden alteration.

Perhaps the facts of greatest single importance, aside from a coincidence of description declared by the police to be practically perfect, turns upon the whereabouts of the suspect on the night of the Messer killing, and that he admittedly received, on that night, such injuries as might well have been inflicted in the desperate struggle with the man fighting for his life, and for the honor of his promised wife. Upon that night Harris is asserted to have returned to his home after an unexplained absence, nursing severe bruises on his head and face and an eye blackened. The eye, he asserted, was damaged in a boxing bout at a South Broadway address. A shoe shop is located at the number given by Harris.

WHERE WAS HE?

Harris was employed as a train dispatcher for the Salt Lake railroad, and, at that time, was on the night shift. He reported for duty on that date at 11 o'clock, one hour and thirty minutes after the stunned, broken and bleeding body of Messer was carried from the park in the arms of his sweetheart. Where he was in the earlier part of the evening cannot be ascertained. That he was not in the apartment house on South Hope street, where he and his sad faced wife then lived, is certain.

It was not, according to the results of yesterday's investigation, by any means the first example of these unexplained absences. During the period that the Boyle Heights fiend wrought nightly terror to women on the streets of Los Angeles, Harris was employed on the day shift in the train dispatcher's office his hours being from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The last of the outrages, preceding the Messer crime, was committed on the night of October 30, stated last night to be approximately the date of Harris's change from the day to the night shift.

Although he never reported for his board at the dispatcher's office until 11 o'clock at night during the past five months, he had a habit of leaving home early, telling his wife that he was going to his key. Frequently Mrs. Harris would have telephone inquiries for Harris, and when she would reply that he was at work, she would be told that it was the dispatcher's office that wanted him. One such occurrence is given as having transpired on or about the night of the killing.

DESCRIPTIONS TALLY.

The description given by the nine woman victims of the fiend who operated here last fall corresponds exactly with the description of Harris. Every one of those women who obtained any glimpse of their assailant say that he was about five feet eight inches in height, probably weighed between 140 and 150 pounds, was of dark complexion, with brown eyes and a large nose, and that he was good looking. Harris, as he stands in his cell today, is five feet nine inches tall, weighs 145 pounds, is of dark complexion, has a peculiarly prominent nose, and eye sthat vary from orange to green, and that might easily be taken for brown in the dark by an excited person. Expert criminologists who are studying the vicious assailant of little girls say that he is perhaps 25 per cent. abnormal and that his hands, especially, display a predilection to crime. He is not a nervous man, and although he accounts for his inhuman acts by the statement that he was drinking, he was never known to be intoxicated.

"There is the most unhappy woman in Los Angeles," said a woman who until a week ago had adjoining apartments to the Harris family. She was talking about Mrs. Harris, and her words were uttered before Harris was put behind the bars.

She added an explanation sufficient to place Harris under the strongest suspicion of perversion. The testimony was the more condemning because it purported to come from the mother of Mrs. Harris. Someone commented on the fact that Mrs. Harris never joined the other women of the hotel at their gatherings in the parlors, where it is the habit of all the occupants of the house to pass their evenings.

"The poor child has no heart to join us," the speaker explained. "Her mother told me that she expected to have to take her from Harris at any time. She said that Harris drank incessantly, and while never drunk, he is always vicious and makes life a hell for his wife by his abuses."

THE BLACKENED EYE.

Later, when the screams of one of the children he attacked had brought a number of women to the babies' rescue, one of the women said that it would not surprise her to learn that Harris was the slayer of Messer, and the Boyle Heights fiend. This took such a deep hold upon the minds of others that a dozen persons discussed Harris and his conduct, and every one recalled the incident of the blackened eye.

Boyle Heights Fiend?

Two views of H. R. Harris, against whom circumstances point so strongly that he is held without bail pending further police investigation. Satisfactory explanation of his peculiar movements, and of his black eye the day after the fatal attack on Messer in Westlake Park, has not been forthcoming.

THIEVES' TRAIL REACHES HERE.

Railroad Freight Robbers Are Specialists in Line.

Arrested in This City After Lengthy Chase.

Thought to Be Ringleaders of Clever Gang.

Investigation of railroad freight robberies in Chicago has been followed by a grand jury investigation in that city, as a result of which indictments are promised against three men traced to and arrested in this city.

The indictments will be against three "teamsters" accused of being the ringleaders, if not the entire membership of a gang of thieves that specialized in stealing valuables from railroad freight houses, using every subterfuge to gain entrance as men delivering or removing freight.

Testimony produced by Chicago detectives who traced them half way across the continent, revealed the fact that the men had left a trail of complaints reaching from Chicago to this city.

The special charge under which State's Attorney Wayman believes the men may be successfully prosecuted, however, is that of stealing tires valued at between $4000 and $5000 from a Wabash-avenue concern. Acting Chief of Police Schuettler of Chicago, who has interested himself in the case, said he believed the thefts will amount to nearer $100,000 than the figure named in the complaint.

FIND THEM HERE.

The three men, John Flynn, an alleged teaming contractor; John Miller, alias John Bush, said to possess a police record, and Frank Goodell, a supposed teamster, were arrested in this city after a search of the country that lasted several weeks.

William Egan and Joseph Cahill, detectives attached to Acting Chief of Police Schuettler's staff, were sent here to arrest them. They were taken back to Chicago March 22, sweated by the detectives, and finally taken before the grand jury.

Attention was attracted to the supposed wholesale thefts of the trio when the police began a search for the robbers, who backed a dray up to the rear of the Consolidated Rubber Tire Company's store, at No. 447 Wabash avenue, Chicago, and hauled away a stock of tires. This was about two months ago.

Several detectives were sent out to make a store-to-store canvass of Chicago's automobile row, in an effort to find the stolen tires. The result was the discovery of the thieves' "fence" in Sixteenth street. The man found in the place was cross-examined several times, and finally prevailed upon to tell where his stock of tires came from.

DISCOVER THIEVES' FENCE.

He named Flynn, Goodell and Miller, or Bush. But when the police went to the address that had been given to the man in their custody, they learned the alleged teamster had left Chicago without making known their future plans.

Further investigation of the methods of the men resulted in the detectives connecting them with the disappearance of valuable boxes and bales stored in local freight houses. The men had gone to the freight houses, the detectives say, showed that they had authority to take out certain boxes of little value, then made use of this opportunity to steal whatever else they might be given an opportunity to appropriate.

The men were traced to several cities west of Chicago where, it is said, they were carrying out a similar programme. Finally they were found in this city.

ROTARY CLUB'S BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Los Angeles branch of the National Rotary Club was held last night at Levy's. Covers were laid for 100 members. W. Ora Morton was toastmaster. John W. Mitchell, who spoke on "What Los Angeles Needs," and Charles Welbourne on "Is Our Present City Administration Conducive to the Best Interests of Business?" Capt. A. E. Mueller's subject was "Aerial Navigation." The Rotary Club was organized one year ago and now numbers 175 members.

SHARPER EXPOSED.

A sharper at shaking dice was successful in fleecing the Hotel Lankershim cigar stand out of $32 worth of cigars last night. He started on a round of the hotel cigar stands, and was headed off at the Alexandria stand. He had perfected a trick whereby he held one dice between a finger and the end of the box so that he could have it fall with any number he desired on its upper face. By this means he ran up a heavy score.

San Pedro-South Park.

CITY SUING RAILWAY TO PULL UP TRACKS.

THE municipality began proceedings yesterday in the Superior Court to revoke the franchise of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation on San Pedro street and South Park avenue, south of Thirtieth street, on the ground that this branch of the road was illegally constructed.

This stretch of track has been a center of litigation for eight years. When the first rails were laid the city stopped the construction work by force of arms. The railway completed the branch under the protection of a restraining order.

The courts subsequently decided that the company had no right to establish its line. The city officials are seeking to take advantage of this fact to cancel the franchise.

The line is a valuable feeder for the great local system, and the discontinuance of it would affect a large number of people.

John C. Lynch procured a franchise from the city on May 11, 1897, to construct a street railway south from the Plaza by devious routes along San Pedro street and South Park avenue to the south boundary of the city. He assigned his rights to the defendants in this action.

The Council on October 24, 1898, extended the time for the completion of the road until May 11, 1899. No work was done on the line south of Thirtieth street until May 1, 1903, when construction was begun. Fifteen days later policemen drove away the workmen, and were promptly sent back to their beats by a temporary injunction.

The Superior Court later dissolved the order and held that the company had forfeited its rights to the franchise by having failed to build the road in the specified time. An appeal was taken and the higher tribunal upheld the trial court. Meantime the line had been completed.

CHARITY DAY GETTING WARM

GREAT ARRAY OF THEATRICAL STARS VOLUNTEERS.

Daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture Will Begin Next Monday Night at Her Concert—Sothern and Marlowe and Many School Children.

An army of workers, of which the school children will form the greatest part, will be in the field for the Associated Charities on Saturday, May 6, prepared to sell bits of pasteboard to every man, woman and child in Los Angeles for "sweet charity's sake."

The list of volunteer sellers of tags is growing rapidly, and Secretary Sewall is kept busy recording the names of those who have already volunteered to help in the good cause.

As in years past, the theatrical people will assist. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ferris, who carried off high honors last year in the sale of tags, have again volunteered their services, and will have with them in their big automobile Miss Julia Marlowe, Edward H. Sothern and several other stars.

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of Secretary James Wilson of President Taft's Cabinet, will also be a tag seller. Miss Wilson will give a recital at Simpson Auditorium next Monday evening, and has generously offered to give a liberal percentage of her receipts to the Associated Charities. In addition, she has consented to sell tags with her autograph atttached on Tag Day.

Mrs. Florence Leslie offered her services yesterday to the committee and will sell from an automobile, accompanied by a number of bright and pretty girls.

Music will be one of the distinct features of the day. Arrangements are being made by Secretary Sewall for two street parades, accompanied by bands, and students of the high schools are arranging for additional parades accompanied by their bands.

President Frank and the secretary are completing plans to have every school in Los Angeles interested, and to have fully 25,000 school children in the ranks of tag sellers. Keen rivalry between the schools for the honor of selling the greatest number of tags is already apparent.

HIS NOSE WAS PULLED.

Railway Company Sued for Indignities Perpetrated by Conductor on Passenger Who Was Thrown Off.

In a complaint filed yesterday in Justice Reeve's court damages are asked for pulling the plaintiff's nose. Ralph Reese is the complainant, and the Los Angeles Railway Company is named as defendant. Reese asks four kinds of damages. He states that on April 3 he was subjected to indignities by the conductor on a car he boarded, on Main street, near Fifth. He swears he tendered as fare a stop transfer, which was refused, after which he was struck with an iron controller handle. More than this, the conductor pulled his nose and threw him off the car, breaking his nose and a blood-vessel in the back of his throat.

The Stick-at-it Characteristic and the cumulative force of hard work reap richer rewards than genius. All men cannot have brilliant minds, but almost everyone can cultivate continuity of purpose and develop a large capacity for work. All great business successes have been the results of ceaseless and unremitting labor rather than the outgrowth of unusual intelligence. An ordinary amount of common sense and a little energy employed in reading and using The Times classified advertisements will put you ahead of your fellows.

Don't lag behind—get in front through the medium of Times "Liners." These busy little ads exploit residence and business property, acreage, stocks, bonds, leases, automobiles, buggies, live stock, household furnishings and a variety of other things that can be bought at low prices and resold on a money-making basis.

For the week ending Saturday, April 15th, The Times printed 16,161 agate "Liners," or 2755 more than the aggregate number printed by the four other Los Angeles papers combined, and 7677 more than its nearest local competitor.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

In a letter to the Mayor, forwarded yesterday afternoon, Attorney George P. Adams petitioned for the removal of Park Commissioner Silent on the ground that he is not a qualified elector of the city. Silent denied the charge.

An odd contest was begun in the Superior Court yesterday when a father commenced suit to secure the custody of a little girl whom he had relinquished to the second husband of his divorced wife.

Man who boasted to wife No. 2 at time of getting divorce from No. 1 is likely to have no wife at all soon, if proceedings instituted yesterday bear the desired fruit.

A striking unionite, who brutally assaulted a free workingman because the latter would not quit his job, was fined $15 by Police Judge Frederickson yesterday.

At the City Hall.

ADAMS SEEKS SILENT'S HEAD.

HE FILES CHARGE THAT PARK MEMBER IS INELIGIBLE.

Petitions Mayor for His Removal on Ground That He Is Not Qualified Elector of City—Council Talks Bluntly on Central Park Reconstruction Work.

Attorney G. P. Adams forwarded to the Mayor late yesterday afternoon a letter petitioning him to remove Park Commissioner Charles Silent, on the ground that he is not a qualified elector of the city. The letter, addressed to the Mayor, is as follows:

"Knowing how unyielding you are in your position that no one shall serve on your commissions who is disqualified, as instanced in the case of Gen. Sherman of the Water Board, and Mr. Haupt, member of the Public Utilities Commission, I desire to call your attention to the case of Charles Silent, president of the Board of Park Commissioners.

"Sec. 114 of the charter of the city of Los Angeles, as amended at one of the recent elections, provides that the Park Commissioners shall be appointed by the Mayor and that 'no person shall be appointed a Park Commissioner who is not a qualified elector of the city of Los Angeles.' In pursuance of that provision, as you no doubt supposed, you appointed Silent as one of those commissioners.

"Sec. 1083 of the Political Code of the State of California, defines the term 'qualified elector,' and among other things says that one who shall have been resident of the State for one year, of the county ninety days, and of the election precinct thirty days, 'and who has conformed to the law governing the registration of voters shall be a qualified elector.'

"Bergevin versus Curtiz, 127 Cal. 86, points out the difference between a 'qualified elector' and an 'elector,' and says 'the words qualified elector' are used in the sense of elector who has the right to vote. It appears plain that the Legislature recognized the fact that there might be electors who were not so qualified.'

"From an examination of the Great Register of this county, I find Silent was not, at the time of his appointment, has not since been, and is not now, a 'qualified elector,' either of the city of Los Angeles, where he does not reside, nor of Glendora, where he does reside. It therefore appears that he was not, at the time of his appointment, and is not now, qualified to hold the office of Park Commissioner.

"As he is an attorney, we may fairly assume that he is familiar with the law under which he was appointed and claims to act. If so, he knew at the time of his appointment, that he was not eligible to hold office. If he did not know it, his ignorance will neither excuse him nor you.

"I am a qualified elector of this city. I have never been a candidate for an office for which I had not the qualifications required by law, nor for any other office, but I take interest enough in the welfare of the city, State and nation to register and to vote.

"As a qualified elector of the city, I have a right to, and do, demand that Silent's appointment as Park Commissioner be revoked, and that your Honor appoint some one who is not incompetent."

When his attention was called to the protest, ex-Judge Silent stated:

"At the last election," said ex-Judge Silent, "I neglected to register and this may be assumed to be a basis for complaint. But I am a resident of the city and live with my family at my Chesterplace home and am eligible in all senses."

The Mayor intimated yesterday that he is satisfied that Silent is eligible. He also intimated that the charge will not result in Silent's removal.

Adams is a brother-in-law of Charles Harmon, the park foreman dismissed last week by the Park Commission on the ground of insubordination.

Knowing that many members of the Council are hostile to the Park Commission's plans, largely made by Silent, for the reconstruction of the parks, Silent went before that body yesterday to ask an emergency permission to order the monolithic concrete seats for the plaza at the new fountain in Central Park. The request had the support of the Supply Committee and was granted unanimously, but before this action questions by Gregory and Betkouski led Silent to make a warm answer to the questions and incidentally defend the policy of the Park Commission, especially as to the Central Park work.

Gregory asked if the cement seats would be useful in the night if they absorb moisture from the fogs and dew. Silent said they are to be impervious to moisture and would be useful. In addition they cannot be defaced nor broken and will be immovable. For the walks in the park, he said, wrought iron benches to the number of fifty had been asked for and that if these benches were suitable the number would be doubled.

Betkouski said he would vote for the benches just to "see how far the Park Commission would go." He declared them "monumental failures," being big, clumsy, hard, uncomfortable and inartistic. He also alluded to the cocos plumosis palms transplanted there, for which the Council voted $1175, and described them as "the worst looking things" he had ever seen. No extension of Central Park treatment to other parts will be tolerated, he said.

Silent replied that at this time of the year when every canyon, hill and plain is fresh with the beauty of native verdure Central Park is struggling to burst into a semblance of verdure through thick and ill-nourished trees that are not representative of the region. That Central Park is too small for any large treatment but must be regarded as a thoroughfare, is Silent's positive conviction and he prophesied that the Council and others who are now so ready to condemn the transformation of the park to an austere character will soon give approval. The trees had been neglected, the soil impovished and because "anarchist lunatics" wanted to dance the most valuable trees in the park had been surrounded with nine inches of gravel and literally killed.

As no member defended the Park Commission Silent left with the impression that the commission must continue its work in the face of adverse criticism, but will ultimately find vindication.

O'BRIEN'S TRADE.

GETS FOREIGN BOOKS.

The Library Board got its appropriation of $500 for the purpose of entertaining the delegates to the American Library Association yesterday after Councilman O'Brien, whose change of vote made it possible, "got his."

According to O'Brien's open statement his mind was changed by the agreement of the Library Board to expend $500 of its funds in the purchase of literature in foreign languages. To satisfy O'Brien, four members of the board were present and agreed to the following expenditures, as O'Brien boldly told his colleagues:

German, $175; French, $100; Spanish, $100; Italian, $50; Scandanavian, $75.

Betkouski asked O'Brien why he omitted Celtic books and Stewart demanded that the Russians, who have been such a burden to the Housing Commission, be included.

"There is a campaign approaching," observed the sarcastic Stewart, "and it will doubtless redound to the interest of the enterprising member."

The polyglot list was received with snickers and jests but when the members found O'Brien serious, Stewart demanded that the agreement be made a matter of record in the minutes. He said he wanted the consideration for O'Brien's "change of heart" preserved.

As the Library Board will spend much more than O'Brien asked in foreign literature anyway there was no difficulty in meeting his wishes. In fact the Library Board snickered a whole lot while he was so seriously stating his hard gained concession. The word "bunco" was not used in discussing the agreement but vague synonyms were employed.

Stewart and Whiffen alone opposed the appropriation. Whiffen declared it was a bad precedent and he now sees no reason why the associated anarchists of Los Angeles should not entertain their "friends" and reasonably ask the City Treasury to foot part of the bill.

The moving fact in making the appropriation was the fact that the city is really the host of the Library Association and will be doing very little by its expenditure. In addition it is hoped to obtain a librarian of the professional stature required while so many are in the city.

STREET NAMES.

MANY TO BE CHANGED.

The City Engineer has been instructed by the Board of Public Works, at his suggestion, to submit ordinances changing the names of many streets north of Benefit street and east of Hoover street. All the changes suggested are of streets that are continuations of other streets. The changes suggested are:

Hoover, between Benefit and Glenn, to Talmadge street.

May, between Benefit and Sunset Drive, to Bates avenue.

Wilton, between Benefit and Prospect, to Myra avenue.

Connell, between Benefit and Sunset Drive, to Manzanita avenue.

Blount, between Benefit and Clayton, to Defreest street.

Melrose, between Benefit and Bowens, to Hyperion avenue.

Clyde street, which is a continuation of Melrose, from Rowena, to north terminus, to Hyperion avenue.

In addition he will suggest the changing of the name of Myra street, or avenue, to Lexington avenue, between Hoover street and Holmby avenue and Parmley place and Fairmount avenue to Mariposa avenue, for similar reasons.

POLICE SOUVENIR.

SOLICITING TO GO ON.

Because a valid contract exists between the Police Relief Association and the publishers of a police souvenir book the Police Commission did not stop the soliciting for that work at their meeting yesterday.

Capt. Haupt, president of the association, was present and explained that the promoter is to get 50 per cent of the receipts, but out of this he is to pay all expense and commissions to agents.

E. H. Geissler, representing the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, presented a protest against the scheme. This document said the indorsement of the association had been refused because half the proceeds do not go to the relief fund at all. The members, he said, were always willing to give liberally to any fund to aid the police, but they do not relish half the amount being diverted.

Capt. Haupt explained that the association had entered its contract under the belief that it had full approval of the commission, and that it could not break it now without great loss. Commissioner Wellborn, who opposed the enterprise, said the contract was less improvident than he supposed and moved that the association be permitted to continue with its soliciting, providing it carefully avoided those who may have dealings with the police or the Police Commission.

The Mayor said if the Commission had known of the 50 per cent. feature the souvenir would have been prohibited. As it is the association is "to do the best it can" to get out of its difficulty. The commission announces it will not again permit any such enterprise in any department under its jurisdiction.

To Widen Maple Avenue.

In order to give the South Main-street Improvement Association a chance to procure a majority of the frontage on Maple avenue, between Adams and Tenth streets, for the widening of the street, the City Engineer has recommended that the proceedings for paving Maple avenue be suspended for six weeks. The Board of Public Works approved the recommendation yesterday.

Ratify Bank Sale.

The Council yesterday, on telegraphic advice from City Treasurer Hance, in New York, that he had delivered $1,224,000 of aqueduct bonds to Kountze Bros., head of the purchasing syndicate, passed an ordinance ratifying the sale. By the sale the city treasury now has about $3,500,000 on hand and the aqueduct fund is ample to finance the work until the end of the year.

More Land Than Water.

The Consolidation Commission, which is now without anything to consolidate into city and county government, held an executive session at the Mayor's office yesterday, and discussed the area over which it will be most beneficial to the city to distribute the surplus aqueduct water. The Commission found that approximately 100,000 acres more than can be supplied is expecting to share in the surplus distribution.

Charges Against Backus.

Charges against J. J. Backus, Chief Building Inspector, were filed by C. O. Hawley, a Fire Commissioner yesterday. They relate mostly to fire escapes and variations of buildings. The Board of Public Works has referred them to Backus for his answer.

At the Courthouse.

PRETTY TOT IS SOURCE OF WAR.

FATHER AND STEPFATHER BOTH WANT THE CHILD.

Odd Mix-up Follows Marriage, Divorce, Remarriage, Adoption and Death, in Which Parent at First Consents to Custody of Daughter by His Supplanter.

Pretty Lavinia Cameron, 11 years old, is the center around which a hard-fought legal war is waging before Judge Rives. It was begun yesterday and will be concluded today.

The girl's father, Jerome Cameron, is seeking to defeat the application of Ben Ellis, the child's stepfather, for permission to adopt her.

Cameron and the girl's mother were divorced several years ago and the latter was given possession of her daughter. When she married Ellis, the child was taken into their home.

Several months ago the mother died. Ellis then expressed a desire to adopt her. For the sake of the child, Cameron agreed to forswear all of his rights and allow her to take a new name, as she had grown fond of Ellis during the last few years.

At the last moment, Cameron determined to exert every legitimate means of defeating the application. His attorney asserted yesterday that they had learned that Ellis was not a fit person to become her guardian.

TOO MUCH TALK.

AND MAYBE OF WIVES, TOO.

Because Charles S. Porter celebrated the news that he had received a final decree of divorce from wife No. 1, by telling wife No. 2 of his good luck, he may be rendered spouseless.

Lulu Sampson, who alleges that she married Porter while ignorant that he was already a married man, yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court asking for an annulment of the marriage.

The parties in the present action were married on December 5, 1906. They lived together without any domestic troubles for more than four years.

On February 4 of this year he is alleged to have gone home in high spirits, and announced to his wife that she was the only spouse he possessed.

She was as startled over the information as he was elated about it. She avers that she made inquiry and found that he had a wife in San Francisco when he married her, and that they were not divorced until January 24 of this year.

USED GUN ON WIFE?

SAYS HUSBAND BEAT HER.

Hettie E. Ford yesterday filed suit for divorce from Fred L. Ford, her spouse for thirty-two years, alleging that for a number of years he has been guilty of extreme cruelty to her. There is about $10,000 worth of property involved in the case.

It it said that Mrs. Ford charges that her husband has threatened her life with a revolver, has beaten her and has exhibited unusual cruelty.

According to her acquaintances, she is broken in health because of this treatment of her, and as a result is so disabled from work that she will be a charge upon her relatives unless she is granted a liberal share of the community property, which he is accused of being prepared to dispose of.

AUTOMOBILE WOES.

OWNERS DESIRE BALM.

F. F. Mead yesterday filed suit in the Superior Court asking for $1000 damages to recompense him for the injury he suffered when a Pacific Electric car ran down his automobile.

Mead purchased the car in March and determined that his wife should learn to run it immediately. He hired a chauffeur and sent her out for a spin with their small son. Mrs. Mead handled the wheel in good shape, under the tutelage of the expert driver, until they started to cross the railway tracks on Ocean Park avenue, Long Beach.

The engine went "dead" just as the chassis straddled the tracks. An electric car came speeding along and the occupants of the automobile leaped out. Mead alleges that it cost him $309.15 for repairs, that the machine had deteriorated in value $253.35 and that the use of the machine was worth $437.50 while it was being fixed up.

O. H. Kiefer also desires to have the court adjust his automobile troubles. When he purchased a new Thomas Flyer he insured it with the Marine Insurance Company. On the night of December 11, 1910, someone stole it from his garage. It was wrecked east of the city. Kiefer has sued for $1722.35.

George Priddy yesterday commenced an action against J. N. Teague and George Teague for $3171 damages for personal injuries. J. N. Teague was the owner of the machine. His son, George, took him out for a spin on Central avenue on September 11, 1910, and they ran over Priddy. The latter asserts that he is permanently injured.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ASK DISSOLUTION. The W. D. Newerf Rubber Company yesterday filed a petition in the Superior Court for a dissolution.

CRACKED HIS HEAD. R. S. Schirmer was placed on trial before Judge Willis yesterday on a charge of having assaulted Brooks Hardy with a deadly weapon. Hardy was Schirmer's tenant. On May 26, 1910, they quarreled over the payment of rent and Schirmer is alleged to have hit Hardy on the head with a hammer.

BOOMERANG FOR DOLLY. Daniel B. Schenck, station agent for the Southern Pacific at Covina, was yesterday granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Dolly L. Schenck by Judge Conrey. Mrs. Schenck commenced the action, but the matrimonial status was shattered on Schenck's cross-complaint. A similar decree was granted in the suit of Edna Tarias against Loredo Tarias.

CAN MAKE SWAP. Judge Monroe yesterday sustained a demurrer to a complaint which was filed in the suit of F. E. Evans against the city and the Pacific Electric Railway. He refused leave to amend. Evans sought to restrain the railroad and the city from consummating a contract whereby the company was to get a right of way on Baxter street and was to give the municipality in return ten feet on each side of Aliesandro street between Fargo and Baxter streets.

WANTS BALM FOR HURT. The trial of the suit of C. V. Story against Howard Green for $16,439.20 for personal injuries was begun before Judge Dooling yesterday. Story was riding a motorcycle on April 17, 1910, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Green. He alleges that he was injured for life in the accident.

WILL SWITCH JUDGES. Judge M. T. Dooling of San Benito county, who has been sitting in this city for three months to assist in cleaning up a grist of back work, will leave for his home Saturday. His place will be taken by Judge Stanley A. Smith of Downeyville, Sierra county. Judge Fred B. Wood of Amador county, who has presided over extra session No 2, will be supplanted by Judge Wm. M. Conley of Madera county on May 1. Judge E. N. Rector of Merced, who assisted here for awhile, will be back today to finish up some cases which were begun before him and not finished.

WANTS HIGHER AUTHORITY. Ed Strayer, who was convicted before Justice Williams of having conspired with A. A. Olivera to defraud Albert Cohn, a grocer, of some eggs, has appealed from the decirion and a sentence of 180 days in jail. Judge McCormick will review the case.

SUES MONEY SHARK. The suit of Sarah Page, executrix of the estate of David Bradley, against J. W. Watson, a money lender, who is awaiting trial on a charge of embezzlement, was heard in Department Eight yesterday. Bradley gave $1770 to Watson to loan last fall. A few weeks later he died. The executrix is endeavoring to reclaim the money. Watson's defense is that Bradley loaned the money to him and that he has a period of three years in which to return it.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Taxpayers' League, directors H. S. McCallum, L. A. Phillips, H. M. Chapman, P. E. Bowen, J. C. Davis, H. J. Brainerd, C. H. Barefoot, D. Didrickson, Roger M. Andrews, L. V. Brunner, F. J. Land, A. J. Carey, Louis Webber, W. A. Morton and C. F. Hughes; the Dyer-Brady Co., directors M. A. Dyer, Harry Brady and Frank Hamilton, capital stock $25,000, subscribed $300; Alhambra Construction Company, directors Frank Kelly, David W. Edwards, R. M. Woolpert, J. D. Foss and A. A. Tennyson, capital stock $1,500,000, subscribed $300.

DEVELOPMENTS PROMISED.

Englishmen, Who Alleged They Were Fleeced, Say Charge Filed Covers More Serious Transactions.

That the complaint issued against Christian Jantzen, in which he is charged with trading worthless securities and titles to lands for a ranch in Fresno county valued at $80,000, is devised merely to hold him until more serious charges are preferred, was the statement yesterday of George Jude, who, with two other Englishmen, Herbert B. Shephard and C. P. Hurditch, assert they were victimized by Jantzen. The hearing was begun before Justice Reeve.

Jude stated that E. A. McDonald will come from Tacoma today to testify that Jantzen forged a deed to property in that city. Other witnesses are expected to appear for the prosecution, which is being conducted by Deputy District-Attorneys Horton and Richardson, and give testimony of a similar nature.

Jantzen's friends insist that he is

The Oil Industry.

STORY IS CAUSE OF MUCH MIRTH

Mythical English Syndica Plays Leading Role.

Many Oil Men of Californ Holding Their Sides.

General News of Intere From Oil Fields.

Some California oil men are laug ing and others are groaning over th recent publication of a story to the e fect that an unnamed English synd cate had closed a deal for the pur chase of the "Wautauga" oil fields Utah and a "large tract of land California." It was characterized "one of the largest deals in the hi tory of the California oil industry, and it was solemnly stated in the ar ticle that the man representing th English syndicate had, in the cours of his rather strenuous career, bee instrumental in placing "$500,000,00 of English capital" in American min ing and oil properties.

One of the funny things in connec tion with this Monte Cristo fairy stor is that it was published by a news paper that maintains a so-called cen sorship over its advertising columns pretending to exclude therefrom th advertisements of mining and oil com panies that are not on a dividend-pay ing basis.

Another thing that is calculated t excite the mirth of the merry-minde is to paraphrase the ancient game o "Who's got the button?" into the question, "Where is the Wautauga oi field of Utah?" It might also be added "Where is any oil field in Utah?" I is true that in the San Juan country o the Mormon Empire there are two o three oil wells that are producing enough oil to lubricate the drilling machinery, but the district is a natural de sac without rail, pipe line o other transportation.

When figures and facts are used in stead of imagination, it is seen tha there would have to be a daily pro duction of at least 25,000 barrels of oi before enough money could be raise to finance a pipe-line outlet from th Utah fields. And maybe the moneye men wouldn't come across then.

It has become a fad with some writ ers, when facts and figures are want ing, to make goats of mythical Eng lish syndicates. There is already suf ficient English capital invested in Cali fornia oil properties to show the fait of the over-sea cousins in the State' biggest industry, and it doesn't do the business any good to flirt with glitter ing generalities.

UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP.

OAKLAND-McKITTRICK.

The Oakland-McKittrick Oil Com pany, which has been operating for some time on section 6, 30-22, three miles from McKittrick on the North McKittrick front, has recently changed ownership. Arthur H. Rice and Nor ton Bobo of Honolulu, capitalists o the islands, are at the head of the new company, and B. E. Rice is the super intendent.

There is at present but one well o the property, and this has reached a depth of 600 feet. It is the intention of the new owners to drill severa other wells if events justify their ex pectations, and at any rate a thor ough test well.

IN THE LOST HILLS.

PLANS OF ASSOCIATED.

Late reports indicate that the Asso ciated Oil Company is preparing to drill another well in the Lost Hills east of the anticline, and it is expected tha this hole will do much toward provin up the field. This well will be drille in the southeast quarter of section 1 26-20.

The Associated will continue its oper ations until the field is either prove or disproved. At present there appear to be a tendency on the part of th smaller companies to await the out come of operations of the bigger fel lows. The Lost Hills excitement is a low ebb.

PALMER'S PRODUCTION.

HAS BEEN INCREASING.

Wells 1 and 2 of the Palmer Oil Com pany are together flowing 10,000 bar rels of oil per day, the gas pressur not being quite so strong as it was las week. This is the minimum amount o flow, however, since No. 2 fully cleare itself of sand. Wells 3 and 4, whic are also proven gushers, are shut o awaiting storage and transportatio facilities for their output. Well No. is nearing completion, and well No. is about 1050 feet deep.

Three steel tanks of 55,000 barre capacity each are being put up, and th rattling of the riveting machines ha scared all the coyotes away from th field. The total steel tankage will b 215,000 barrels. Fifty teams and me are finishing the new No. 4 reservoi which will have a capacity of 250,0 barrels, and in a few days will begi work on reservoir No. 5.

Steady progress is being made i wells 1, 2 and 3 of the Palmer Union Well No. 1 has terrific gas pressure, an is making considerable sand which re tards the work of finishing up, but on this is cleared it is practically certai that a very large production will en sue; more, according to the indication than that of any one of the Cat Canyo gushers now flowing.

The engineers for the Palmer an Palmer Union pipeline, which is t carry the production of the properties to deep water at Avila, are still in th field. Actual construction work on th line will be commenced in the near fu ture. The Union's pipeline is now i good shape and taking its share of Pal mer oil. The Associated line is bein repaired by a large force of men, an will soon be able to continue its con tract with the company.

News Notes and Personals.

E. J. Snyder, operating superinten dent of the Associated Oil Company with headquarters on the property o the Pioneer Midway now owned by th Associated, is making an inspection o the company's leases in the McKittric field.

William Brown, general surveyor fo the Associated Oil Company, has move his family to the camp of the Pionee Midway in the Midway field.

H. B. Guthrey of Los Angeles, largely interested in California oil properties has secured a thirty-year lease on portion of the Spellacy-Thomson hold ings on the Panuco River, Mexico. He expects to begin drilling operations within the next sixty days.

The Union Oil Company is preparin to put down a water well on its prop erty at Junction, twenty-five miles northwest of McKittrick.

Well No. 1 has terrific gas pressure, and is making considerable sand which retards the work of finishing up, but once this is cleared it is practically certain that a very large production will ensue; more, according to the indications, than that of any one of the Cat Canyon gushers now flowing.

The engineers for the Palmer and Palmer Union pipeline, which is to carry the production of the properties to deep water at Avila, are still in the field. Actual construction work on the line will be commenced in the near future. The Union's pipeline is now in good shape and taking its share of Palmer oil. The Associated line is being repaired by a large force of men, and will soon be able to continue its contract with the company.

News Notes and Personals.

Herbert E. Baughman, who has for some time been in charge of the McKittrick branch house of the J. F. Lucey Supply Company, is visiting his old home at Alliance, O.

E. J. Snyder, operating superintendent of the Associated Oil Company, with headquarters on the property of the Pioneer Midway now owned by the Associated, is making an inspection of the company's leases in the McKittrick field.

William Brown, general surveyor for the Associated Oil Company, has moved his family to the camp of the Pioneer Midway in the Midway field.

H. B. Guthrey of Los Angeles, largely interested in California oil properties, has secured a thirty-year lease on a portion of the Spellacy-Thomson holdings on the Panuco River, Mexico. He expects to begin drilling operations within the next sixty days.

The Union Oil Company is preparing to put down a water well on its property at Junction, twenty-five miles northwest of McKittrick.

PIONEER ROOFING

Pioneer Roofing is not an experiment, but a PROVEN success. Many large buildings in Los Angeles, and other Southern California cities, are covered with Pioneer Roofing: The Higgins building, Second and Main streets; the New Arlington, of Santa Barbara; the Grant Hotel, of San Diego. And many other large office buildings and hotels of Los Angeles.

But Pioneer Roofing is not confined to this class of structures. There is a PIONEER ROOF for every building—whether it be a business block, a bungalow, an out-house—anywhere that a sunproof, rainproof roof is required. Pioneer roofing is a "home product"—made in Los Angeles. Keep your roofing money at home. Samples and booklet upon request. Address department 31.

THE KING JAMES BIBLE.

In common with the world at large Los Angeles Christians are making preparations to appropriately observe the tercentenary of the King James edition of the English Bible next Sunday. In this great city of churches, and having the two largest non-denominational Christian associations in the world, the fitting announcement is made that all denominations will participate in the important anniversary.

The King James Bible enters upon its 301st year, the acknowledged greatest seller of all books; its influence upon the literature of the world incalculable; its impress upon things secular as well as religious all-pervading. Throughout the entire world the anniversary will be marked by appropriate and elaborate ceremonies and, foreshadowing the future by the past, the King James Bible will hold its place in the hearts and minds of Christian people to the end of time. There is a general prejudice against modernizing the beatitudes of the scriptures, as witness the limited adoption of the revised version of a few years ago. Christian worship has, in a measure, been built around figures of speech, many of which have no equal in modern literature, and the orthodox Christian, who accepts the Christ of the New Testament, can see no reason for relinquishing the revered old forms after they have become the warp and woof of his worship; and all of which are, at any rate, subservient to the divine origin and vicarious sacrifice.

There are religious carpers, perhaps, who, having made a hobby of the scriptures, to know rather than to do, who complain that men do not read the Bible, but there probably are few men, whether avowed Christians or not, who do not frequently consult the pages of Holy Writ.

FAVOR A NEUTRAL ZONE.

The proposition to establish a neutral zone several miles in width on the border between the United States and Mexico is meeting with favor from the governments of both countries.

The plan is to exclude from such zone all armed men, whether Mexicans or Americans, except when it may be necessary for the regular forces of either power to enter the zone for the purpose of enforcing its neutral character. If, for instance, a body of adventurers from the United States should appear opposite Mexico at a point where the United States had no military force, the Mexican troops would have a right to cross the line into that part of the neutral zone lying within the United States and capture the intruders or drive them out of the neutral zone, using whatever force might be necessary for such purpose.

Equally, if a body of Mexican insurrectos should appear within the neutral zone at Juarez or Agua Prieta or Calexico or Tia Juana or at any point in Mexico opposite the United States our troops would have a right to cross the line into Mexico and capture or drive out all armed men who were in the Mexican part of the neutral zone. Neither our troops nor those of Mexico would—except for the purposes named—camp or enter into the neutral zone of their respective countries.

If such an arrangement had been entered into some weeks ago it would have saved the lives of Americans who were killed in the United States with bullets fired from guns in Mexico.

Neither of the statesmen of the two republics wants from the other anything that an honorable man may not ask and an honorable man grant. The Times desires that our own people may be safe from assault or harm from any quarter and it ardently hopes that the present insurrection in our sister republic may speedily be enumerated as among the things that are past and gone.

CHINESE EXCLUSION.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco has addressed a memorial to President Taft, which is indorsed by the Board of Trade, the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Association, the Downtown Association, the California Development Board and the Association for the Improvement and Adornment of San Francisco. In this memorial the petitioners do not complain of the present exclusion laws; they only ask that they be fairly administered. They do not ask that Chinese laborers, skilled or unskilled, be suffered to come into this country. They ask that the commercial relations between China and the United States be encouraged and extended instead of being discouraged and limited as they are now by the drastic administration of the law by minor officials at San Francisco. They call attention to the fact that "the stoppage of immigration of Chinese of the exempt class to the United States, and the stoppage in transit through the United States of Chinese traveling between China, Mexico and Central America, and other foreign countries, will seriously affect, and in time destroy the commercial relations between the United States and China, and result in the establishment of such commercial relations between China, Germany, England and France, forever losing to the merchants of the United States this valuable distributing and consumptive territory with its population of over 400,000,000."

They ask not for any change in the existing laws or regulations, but for a more just and equitable interpretation of them so that Chinese applying for admission may be permitted to be represented by counsel at all examinations, and may be permitted to land under bond and have an interpreter to act with the government interpreter, and that they have five days instead of two days in which to perfect an appeal from an adverse decision.

They ask that the Department of Commerce and Labor promulgate a regulation directly prohibiting officers of the immigration service from asking Chinese women and girls seeking admission into the United States questions of an improper character and of a character which would not be asked of a woman of the European race under similar circumstances.

They ask that no Chinese person detained at any immigration station of the United States pending a determination of his or her case be continuously imprisoned in any building, without being given an opportunity for a reasonable time daily to exercise in the open air in grounds provided for that purpose.

They ask that all applications for admission of Chinese persons, or applications for transit of Chinese persons through the territory of the United States, be considered and determined without undue delay.

They ask that during the unavoidable detention of Chinese at immigration stations of the United States pending a determination of their cases, they shall be treated with respect and kindness, and as human beings, and not as criminals or as objects of loathing and detestation.

These requests are so reasonable and so just that it does not seem possible that they will be refused.

An illustration of a most unfair working of the exclusion law as enforced by a court afflicted with Chinaphobia was afforded some years ago in Honolulu. A wealthy Chinaman who was a citizen of the Hawaiian republic by right of denizenship, and who became a citizen of the United States by virtue of the treaty of annexation, wrote to Shanghai to have a Chinese girl of the higher or "little-footed" class to whom he was betrothed before leaving China married to him according to Chinese law and sent to join him at Honolulu. The ceremony of marriage was performed at Shanghai, the bridegroom being represented by his mother. Such a marriage was valid under Chinese law, and it is a universal law of civilized nations that a marriage that is valid under the law of the country where it is solemnized is valid anywhere. The bride came as a first-class passenger on a Pacific Mail steamer. On her arrival at Honolulu, instead of being greeted by her husband, she was seized by the United States officials and imprisoned at the quarantine station. Her husband employed counsel, who caused a writ of habeas corpus to issue, and she was brought before the Federal Court. Her counsel contended that, as the wife of a citizen of the United States who, even as a Chinaman, was a building contractor with a large business and ample capital and was not within the prohibition clauses of the exclusion act, she was entitled to admission and could not lawfully be deported. The judge overruled this contention on the ground that the marriage had never been consummated, and that he would not recognize the validity of a marriage by proxy. The hour for adjournment came and, it being Friday, the court adjourned to Monday morning. The woman was in the custody of the United States Marshal and could not be returned to the quarantine station. The Marshal reported to the court that he had no place suitable for her accommodation; that the jail was full of sailors sleeping three in a cell. The husband offered bail in any amount. The court refused bail, but suggested that the Marshal might deputize some responsible Chinaman with a family to take charge of the lady until Monday. This was done. The next morning, accompanied by her custodian, she met her husband at the office of her lawyer. That resourceful gentleman accompanied the party to the Registrar's office where a marriage license was obtained. A clergyman was procured, the office of the attorney was turned into a Gretna Green, and a marriage ceremony was performed. The custodian of the lady could see no reason for separating the newly-married pair, and the husband was invited to be a guest at the house of the Chinese Deputy United States Marshal.

On the assembling of the court on Monday morning the attorney presented in evidence the certificate of marriage and offered to make proof that it had been "consummated." The judge lost his temper. He refused to admit the marriage certificate in evidence, refused to listen to proof of "consummation," roasted the Marshal for complicity with an attempted fraud upon the court, threatened to send the lawyer to jail for contempt and ordered the bride to be deported to China on the next steamer, which was to sail three days thereafter. He intimated, after he had cooled down a little, that he would not refuse bail for her in case her counsel desired to take the case to the Court of Appeals in San Francisco. The lawyer assured the husband that the San Francisco court would be sure to reverse the judgment of deportation and offered to take the case there without any further fee. Then the husband arose in his wrath and, like the game sport he was, refused to appeal. "No," said he. "My wife good woman. She lub me. She mally me twice. Same steamer that bring her here bring four Japanese bad woman. They stay all lightey, but my wife must be sent back. Damn such a law. Damn such a judge. Damn such a countiee. I sell out my business. I go back to China with my wife." And he did.

The Chief Rebel.

A WHOLESOME CRITIC.

Col. Tom Lewis, who died here Tuesday after a residence in this city of twenty-five years, was known to hundreds of persons as an excellent business man, but his closer friends knew him as an exceptional critic of the best literature. In Kentucky he was a manufacturer of hats. In Los Angeles he was a dealer in realty. In his leisure hours he was an omnivorous reader of good things. Few men in the West had so fine an appreciation of what was worth while in fiction of all classes.

BILLY'S SCAREHEAD.

Undaunted by the turning down which he received by the election of Senator Martin as Democratic leader in the United States Senate, Billy Boy has inaugurated a new campaign in his own behalf. He has stuffed a suit of his old clothes so that their rags seem bursting with embonpoint and the arms seem plethoric with swelling muscle. He has artistically gashed a pumpkin rind with ferocious eyes, a cruel nose and a wicked mouth. He has placed therein a glowing electric light. He has situated this horrid head on the stuffed rags of his suit of the vintage of 1896, and to the Democratic crows who seek to enter and devour the corn in the field that Bryan claims as his own he says, "Beware, this figure is Wall street; it does not favor your caws. Read the Commoner and avoid Wall street." In the Commoner, which is just now commoner than dirt, there appears a double-leaded, black-face editorial which reads: "It behooves Democrats to be on their guard. The friends of predatory interests—the beneficiaries of special privilege and governmental favoritism—are always at work. They never sleep. With them politics is a business, because they make the government a business asset. They are laying their plans to capture the Democratic National Convention and nominate a candidate who will be satisfactory to Wall street. The times require a stalwart, fearless, progressive leader—which the same it is me. Beware of Wall street. It will eat you up alive. It will bribe you with money to nominate somebody else than ME."

If Billy Boy is telling the truth, if Wall street really intends to stand at the entrance of the National Democratic Convention with a roll of long green of large denominations ready to peel them off and give to Democrats who will vote for some other candidate than Billy Boy, won't there be fierce fights in the State conventions among the unterrified to secure election as delegates to the national convention? Will not they say, "We do not fear the scarecrow. He is a liberal old stuffed effigy is Wall street. He admires our caws. He will treat us right. We will stand now and forever for the seven grand principles of Democracy—the five loaves and the two fishes.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

There lived a man in someone's town—his name need not be written down—who talked and preached of right and wrong, and always stood for virtue, strong. He liked to show the shining way to every guy who roamed astray, and he was full of texts and saws, and vital truths and moral laws. And folks who heard him talk and preach would always say he was a peach. His next door neighbors didn't rise to boom and praise him to the skies. They said: "His chickens come and scratch the stuffing from our garden patch; he knows they're driving us to drink, he knows what all his neighbors think, and yet he lets his doggone hens go skiting blithely from their pens to knock our gardens upside down—he is the meanest skate in town." The world is stocked with solemn frauds who deal in sounding moral gauds and platitudes and good advice, and helpful hints fresh off the ice; they wag their jaws and wield their pens—and let their neighbors fight the hens. To treat your neighbor right will count for more than any gross amount of bulging words when we are called, and to the bar of judgment hauled.

LITERARY FELLOWS.

"The author of genius," said William Dean Howells at a dinner in New York, "expresses the thoughts of his time. He speaks out those things that his generation has all along been thinking—but thinking silently, and, perhaps, a little mistily. An author of transcendental genius speaks the thought of all time. For example—one summer at Sunapee I loaned a volume of Plato to a lean, shrewd farmer. When the volume was returned I said: 'Well, how did you like Plato?' 'Fust rate,' the farmer answered. 'I see he's got some of my ideas.'"

Homer E. Woodbridge of Colorado Springs, Colo., points out in the New York Evening Post that Kipling's well-known poem, "Recessional," is heavily indebted to tradition. Hence is Mr. Woodbridge's complaint: Of course, its chief debt is the Bible; it is full of scriptural phrases. It owes something also to familiar hymns, such as Watts's "O God, Our Help in the Ages Past." A friend recently called my attention to the resemblance in thought between the first two lines of the second stanza.

The tumult and the shouting dies,
The captains and the kings depart, and some lines in Lowell's "Commemoration Ode:"

Great captains with their guns and drums
Disturb our judgment for the hour,
But at last silence comes;
These all are gone.

I recently noticed that another line in the poem,

Dominion over palm and pine,

seems to have been borrowed from Emerson's "Woodnotes;;"

And grant to dwellers with the pine
Dominion o'er the palm and vine.

If we add these lines to the ones showing the influence of scripture or hymns, there will remain barely three or four lines in the poem unaccounted for;; and it would be rash to say that even these owe nothing to tradition.

Robert W. Chambers, author of the "Firing Line" and other selling novels in which he successfully portrays the American idle rich and how they kill time and make love, was recently a guest at a banquet in New York, and told this story about artistic temperament: "I have little patience with it, and think its synonym is selfishness," began Mr. Chambers. "The poet Wordsworth used to compose his sentences in bed, at night. Nudging his wife in the small hours, he would say:

"'Maria, get up, I've thought of a good word.'

"And Mrs. Wordsworth would rise sleepily, light a candle, and write at her husband's dictation for ten or fifteen minutes.

"A couple of hours later Wordsworth would wake her again.

"'Get up, Maria. I've got a good word,' he would repeat.

"But one night Mrs. Wordsworth put a stop forever to this nocturnal dictation. Her husband, awaking her with the usual 'Get up—I've thought of a good word,' was startled to hear her reply:

"'Oh, get up yourself! I've thought of a bad word.'"

That is a safe story to tell. There is now no chance in Wordsworth coming back and saying, "I am misquoted."

BOSS LISSNER MISREPRESENTING CALIFORNIA.

[From the San Diego Union.]

That a man 2000 miles away may venture to make statements that would be received with derision by his neighbors at home is strikingly shown by the speech of Meyer Lissner in Chicago a day or two ago. Just how his audience there were impressed by his remarks is not recorded, but some of his assertions were of a sort to make Californians gasp with amazement. There is frequent complaint in this State that eastern people often misrepresent it. But Meyer Lissner in one brief speech has succeeded in making more erroneous statements about California than fly-by-night correspondents who periodically "write up" the State have produced in a decade. Here is one of his assertions that may have been accepted as undefiled truth by the Chicagoans, but will be received with amusement here:

"Out in California the government is now in the hands of the people. We have come to recognize that, in State, and especially in municipal government, party politics should have no claims."

How long, it may be asked, have Hiram Johnson and Meyer Lissner been "the people?" That the government of the State is in the hands of those two men is a truth which will not be strongly disputed, even by most of their followers. Nor is the assertion about party politics warranted by facts. The Lissnerites, it is true, have adroitly disorganized the Republican party in the State, but they have built up a machine that calls itself Republican which is more of a party tyrant than any that has ever before dictated in California. And while party names are eliminated in municipal campaigns, the latter are now characterized by dirtier politics than ever before. These are facts that are clearly recognized in this State and they will not be changed by the flapping of Meyer Lissner's reform wings in Illinois.

Another amazing part of Lissner's speech is that which deals with the election of John D. Works to the United States Senate. This is a topic which most of Lissner's followers prefer not to discuss. There are some transactions whose infamy becomes the more apparent, the more they are considered. The theft of the Senate seat for Works is one of them. Even Meyer Lissner himself, with all his effrontery, would hardly care to go about California telling people that Works's election was pious duty faithfully performed. But in Chicago he ventures to say:

"The election of Mr. Lorimer is said to have cost at least $100,000. I know it to be a fact that the election of John D. Works to the United States Senate by the California Legislature cost just $13.65, and this amount was spent for telegrams."

But Lissner could have told his hearers many other things he knows to be facts in connection with the choice of Works. He evidently preferred to allow them to infer that, because the cash outlay for Works was only a few dollars, he obtained his seat without the aid of other forms of persuasion equally as effective for the result as coin itself.

SAYINGS OF GREAT MEN.

Shakespeare: It's none of your business how old Ann is!

BERNHARDT'S "L'AIGLON."

MAJESTIC PERFORMANCE OF A MARVELOUS ARTIST.

Inspirational Power Exhibited by This Woman, Nearing Seventy, Probably Unparalleled in Any Line of Human Endeavor—Age Shows in Voice.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

Nearly 2000 persons watched a brilliant company of ladies in the Baden drawing-room of Marie Louise, last evening, yet scarcely saw them at all.

It was at the Mason Operahouse, and this amazing and wholesale pre-occupation was due to a universal question—how will Bernhardt appear?

But, suddenly this speculation upon an aged actress was put quite out of our minds. The reader to the ex-Empress, in Rostand's "L'Aiglon," had just enunciated, "Courage, enfant dechu d'une race divine," when there stole into view, at a portal, a slender boy, whose appearance and demeanor engrossed every attention. The Eaglet, weakling son of the mighty Napoleon I, blessed with his father's imagination, but nothing else, was here actually embodied. There seemed to be youth in every slender line; there seemed to be youth in the eager face; there was eternal youth in the soft, appealing eyes; but with it all there was a suggestion of melancholy, of frailty, of desire to do, but of no supreme will to act, that the boy might have stepped from a canvas which depicted him as the central figure of some great tragic painting. We who have read—in translation—the soaring verse of Rostand, and have swept with him to his inspirational heights, never realized until that moment last evening what a majestic, forlorn, towering, yet puny figure was this Eaglet, whose father was a deceased God, and whose mother should have been the giggling wife of a lackey.

And the voice! There was a thrill in that voice which I am sure no other human being ever put into the Eaglet's lines.

There was virility in it. It was a man's voice in spite of all that poor weakness. It was the voice of a puny, hot-house boy who might have been a six-foot, thundering grenadier had he been born in a peasant's cot, and thrown as a babe into the stress of the world.

A woman? Every line denied it. There were ages of suffering and centuries of refinement in the face—yes, but it was just the face that Napoleon's boy would have, a face of dream after a day of battle. And with all the melancholy, with all the limning of fate inexorable, what youth, what ardor of boyish hope! It was tragedy for that reason; it was sadness at the spring of life, parching lips that were fevered before they had tasted, the irony of an aspiration mockingly flung back before even the venture of an expression.

Could this weak-potent, dream-man be a woman after all? Can you by any artifice convert a lamb's face into the countenance of a lion-cub? Well!

And if it is merely impossible that this Eaglet of ours shall be a woman, what shall we say at the suggestion that the Eaglet is not only a woman, but a woman nearing seventy years of age?

Ridiculous, idiotic, pitifully futile, the mountain of consummately asinine assertions.

There is only one answer.

Bernhardt.

As the Eaglet entered, and was perceived by our rank and fashion, the literary zealots in the balcony and the economical theater-goers in the gallery, the expected, explosive flash of recognition of course stopped the play.

It was significant that amid the great manual rain all the people upon the stage rose and bowed, too; according to the author and the stage manager they were supposed to pay the Eaglet homage, but it seemed to mean much more than that. It was as though nightly this company of blase professional folk got to their feet of their own accord to salute the queen of all actresses.

Such is the spell cast by Sarah Bernhardt's personal magnetism.

Like electricity, the component parts and especially the potential elements of "personal magnetism" are very hard to define, and much harder to isolate.

We vulgar, short-spoken Americans have coined a new word to replace this somewhat scientific phrase. We say that the magnetic one has "the punch." And if such a word may be applied to so universal an artist, Bernhardt has "the punch" par excellence.

In the brilliant "mais" speech at the opening of the second act, and in the Eaglet's rhapsodic description of Ulm and Austerlitz in act the first, Bernhardt threw such an enchantment over the auditorium that the whole audience seemed to sway with her bodily gestures, and to breathe only at the ends of her long phrases.

As the long play progressed, the exaltation of Bernhardt rose. Her splendid, famed lyricism was flung out glori-

It was as though nightly this company of blase professional folk got to their feet of their own accord to salute the queen of all actresses.

Such is the spell cast by Sarah Bernhardt's personal magnetism.

Like electricity, the component parts, and especially the potential elements, of "personal magnetism" are very hard to define, and much harder to isolate.

We vulgar, short-spoken Americans have coined a new word to replace this somewhat scientific phrase. We say that the magnetic one has "the punch." And if such a word may be applied to so universal an artist, Bernhardt has "the punch" par excellence.

In the brilliant "mais" speech at the opening of the second act, and in the Eaglet's rhapsodic description of Ulm and Austerlitz in act the first, Bernhardt threw such an enchantment over the auditorium that the whole audience seemed to sway with her bodily gestures, and to breathe only at the ends of her long phrases.

As the long play progressed, the exaltation of Bernhardt rose. Her splendid, famed lyricism was flung out gloriously in the declamatory speeches Rostand has written. The big, young actors around her she seemed to sustain on the pinions of her etherial inspiration.

Such was, is, and probably ever shall be the soul of this great actress.

But minus the wonderful spirituality, the intense mind and the indomitable will, what would we have?

A face growing rapidly lined and seamed and wrinkled—but behind which the spirit of youth still flames with such a flare that in the glow of her smiles the wrinkles seem to become invisible.

A voice harsh and worn, if it is taken either above or below a single register—but so exquisitely manipulated in that small compass that she seems to speak almost always in a passionate monotone which is an audible rainbow.

A body frail and small—and old.

Bernhardt has, indeed, aged rapidly since her last visit here. No longer is she able to put down the handmarks of time when her countenance is at rest. No longer is she able to fling her climaxes with such utter abandon.

But—

The infinite art of Bernhardt, which is in all and behind all, and is without any question the greatest thing the theater has ever known, is still present in pristine vigor and enthusiasm. For Bernhardt's soul the year's at the spring, and ever will be.

Bernhardt in motion might pass for any age she would claim. Contrary to all precedent, with her the years stand forth only when she ceases to move.

There is neither time nor place to discourse seriously and analytically on each of the six acts of Rostand's monumental effort. Suffice it to say that the play would hold small interest were it not for great interpretative talents—not that it is small, unbeautiful or unworthy; it is large, vast, and it has very much of worth and beauty, but it is prodigiously long, and the poetic speeches—the original is in rhymed verse—would easily tire were it not for

Ailments of Men
Happily Overcome
SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Undoubtedly the following prescription will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring in "nervous exhaustion," weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

First get 50 cents' worth of compound fluid balmwort in a 1-oz. package, and 3 ozs. syrup sarsaparilla compound; take home, mix and let stand 2 hours; then get 1 oz. compound essence cardiol and 1 oz. tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom). Mix all in a 6 or 8-oz. bottle, shake well, and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring followed by a drink of water.

By mixing it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's shortcomings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, the above home treatment is given. It contains no opiates or habit-forming drugs whatever. Mix it at home and no one will be the wiser as to your affliction.

Our First Spring Clearance of Stylish, Ready-to-Wear Apparel

Don't jump to the conclusion that, because the prices are lowered, there must be something "wrong" with the garments concerned. There isn't; lowered price never means, at Coulter's, lowered quality. These sales are simply our legitimate clearances of spring stocks, and they are just as well worth their original prices as they were the day they entered the store; in fact, many of them haven't been in stock over a week, being special purchases sent on to us by express within the last fortnight:

Suits at $25

We cannot too strongly emphasize the fact that these are brand-new suits, taken from regular stock, and arbitrarily reduced; or they are garments bought from our regular suppliers at less than usual prices. Many suits are hand-tailored; all are strictly plain styles, suitable for business wear.

Colors are white, navy, black, light gray, tan, dark gray, black and white stripes, mixtures in every combination that is good; both smooth and rough suitings. The size range embraces suits from 34 to 40 measure; and there are a hundred or more garments at this one price; reduced from $35, $40 and even higher.

Novelty Imported Suits Reduced

Dozens of novelty suits, which are particularly good for spring wear in Southern California, join the sale at sharply reduced prices, as follows:

Many of these garments are genuine imported models, and cannot be duplicated hereabouts; hardly any two of the entire collection are alike—

$78.50 suits now $68.50
$85.00 suits now ..$75.00, etc., etc.

Gowns Take New Prices Too

Our imported gowns—and many from America's best makers—go on sale now at prices which will permit many a woman to buy the gown she has felt hitherto to be out of her reach. Space only for a few prices:

$175 gowns now $135
$165 gowns now $125
$115 gowns now $87.50
$98.50 gowns now $82.50

And so on down to some very charming models for as little as $22.50.

Special Sales in Children's and Misses' Section

We exercise just as much care in the selection of clothing for girls as we do in that for grown-ups; these values are truly exceptional:

MISSES' ONE PIECE SILK DRESSES; in foulards and fancy stripe satins; made just as girls best like them, with kimono sleeves and newest styles throughout; made to fit girls of 14 to 18 years; a good $15 value, for $9.75

MISSES' FULL LENGTH PONGEE COATS; semi-fitting styles, with fancy Persian collar and cuffs; remarkable values at $7.50

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S HATS in every good spring and summer style; prices begin at $1.50.

Events in Local Society

A FASHIONABLE assemblage gathered at St. John's Episcopal Church last evening to witness the wedding of Miss Marion Macneil and Dr. Bertnard Smith, which was performed by Bishop Joseph H. Johnson, assisted by Dr. Lewis G. Morris, the church rector. Since the betrothal was announced, several months ago, society has looked forward to this event with pleasure. The handsome gowns worn by the many guests were equally as elaborate as the exquisite creations worn by the young women attendants.

This was an American beauty wedding, and the church looked like a beautiful flower garden. Not another flower was permitted to adorn even the tiniest corner at the church after the home. The bride's table was gay with a Venetian vase filled with the bright blossoms, and smaller vases graced the smaller tables surrounding this. Graceful masses of these choice red flowers greeted members of the bridal party and intimate friends at the beautiful home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hugh Livingstone Macneil, where supper was served at the conclusion of the impressive service at the church. A feature was the musical programme arranged by Waldo M. Chase. Preceding the ceremony, a nocturne by Matys and an Andante by Thorne-Guilmant, both selections for organ, violin and harp, was rendered. Then as the bridal party entered, the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" was sung by a double quartette, including Mrs. Bertha Vaughn, Mrs. T. H. Ostrom, Mrs. E. C. Crossman, Miss Katherine Ebbert, Jackson Gregg, J. A. Stockman, T. H. Ostrom and Harry Clifford Lott. During the ceremony a "Prayer," by Bonnetti, was played by Miss Myrtle Bellet, harp, and Arnold Krauss, violin. At the conclusion the Mendelssohn Wedding March was given. The bride wore a gown of soft white satin, entirely covered with real lace brought from England by her grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Slauson. Her veil was fastened in a bonnet effect, and she wore diamond and pearl ornaments. The three maids, the Misses Alice Elliott, Sally Utley and Lucille Clark, were garbed alike in pale pink satin veiled in marquisette embroidered in the same shade. These frocks were completed with short bridesmaid veils and bouquets of American beauties.

Mrs. Macneil wore an elaborate robe of new pink satin embroidered in rhinestones.

Dr. Robert Law Cunningham was best man. The groomsmen were James Utley, James Page, Morgan Adams, Stuart O'Melveny, Royden Vosburg, Clinton Judy, Dr. Arthur Curtiss of Chicago; Volney Howard, Rudolph Dalton of East Orange, N. J., and Holden Borden.

The bride was graduated from Marlborough and later attended Miss White's school, Paris. She has been abroad eight times. At the conclusion of a week passed at the Macneil rancho at Azusa, Dr. and Mrs. Smith will sail for Europe where Dr. Smith goes for medical work.

Miss Rilla Wrench

New York and Dr. Leon Joseph Roth of Los Angeles, whose engagement will be announced today in the East.

Miss Walsh, Hostess.

A dinner of fifteen covers was given by Miss Virginia Walsh this week in compliment to Miss Jane Rollins and Louis Tolhurst, whose engagement was recently announced. The hostess' house guest, Miss Aimee Raisch of San Francisco, was present as special guest. Tulips, lily of the valley and maidenhair ferns were utilized in decorating. Bisque figures of brides, grooms and cupids were given as favors, and water-color sketches of brides and grooms marked plates for Miss Marjorie Utley, Miss Juliet Borden, Miss Sally McFarland, Katherine Kearns, Miss Sally Bonner, Harry Borden, Paul Herron, Paul Grimm, Irwin Widney, George Reed, Neal Pendleton and Clark Bonner.

California Club.

More than 250 guests gathered yesterday afternoon at the California Club in response to invitations issued by Mrs. Walter J. Trask of South Figueroa street and Mrs. Willard Stimson of Hotel Alexandria, who entertained with a musicale. The rooms were festooned with garlands of white climbing roses, which were used in profusion. The programme was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford Lott, who selected the following quartette: Mrs. Bertha Vaughn, Mrs. Estelle Heartt Dreyfus, Roland Paul and Hugo Gilliam Schmidt. The principal number sung by this group was "Florina," by Arthur Whiting, a clever musical setting of Oliver Herford's "Heard in the Garden." Other selections were "Under the Greenwood Tree," by Bilvy, and "Lovely May," by Edward Kerman. An orchestra under the direction of Charles G. Latsky played during the refreshment hours.

Assisting in receiving, the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. John A. Fairchilds, Mrs. F. C. Klokke, Mrs. Frank W. Burnett, Mrs. Clinton N. Sterry, Charles Sardini-Wood, W. S. Hook, Sr., Mrs. Van Nuys, Mrs. T. L. Duque, Mrs. Stephen S. Hubbel, Mrs. Charles Rivers Drake, Mrs. Henry Vanderleck, Mrs. Frank H. Moore, Mrs. Herman Janss, Mrs. William M. Caswell, Mrs. Walter B. Kinne, Mrs. Willard J. Doran, Mrs. Clara T. Stimson, Mrs. Jack Jevne, Mrs. Arthur Braly, Mrs. Carroll Allen, Mrs. Ben E. Gibbon, Mrs. J. W. McKinley, Mrs. Frank M. Kelsey, Mrs. Nathaniel Myrick, Mrs. Norman S. Sterry, Mrs. W. A. Innes, Mrs. Loren D. Sale, Mrs. George H. Letteau, Mrs. West Hughes, Mrs. Helen Steckel, Mrs. George L. Cole, Mrs. Martha Taggart, Mrs. O. A. Stevens, Mrs. A. L. Cheney, Mrs. Thomas J. Fleming, Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mrs. W. H. Holliday, Mrs. J. M. Montgomery, Mrs. Albert Crutcher, Mrs. Charles C. Parker, Mrs. James S. Henton, Mrs. Fred O. Johnson, Mrs. William F. Johnston, Mrs. Walter R. Leeds, Mrs. John G. Mott, Miss Mary E. Spencer, Miss May Owen, Miss Nora Sterry, Miss Caroline Trask, Miss Juliet Borden, Miss Mildred Burnett, Miss Emma Conroy, Miss Alice Cline, Miss Jane Rollins, Miss Clarisse Stevens, Miss Annis Van Nuys, Miss Kate Van Nuys, Miss Leta Vanderleck, Miss Virginia Walsh, Miss Florence Wood, Miss Pinita Drake and Miss Rae Belle Morlan.

Mrs. Story, Hostess.

Mrs. Walter Perry Story of No. 7 Chester place entertained this week with the second of a series of luncheons planned for her friends. Eighteen guests enjoyed the repast, and later the performance at the Orpheum. American beauties enlivened the drawing-room, while a mound of wistaria blossoms graced the table. Cards with the hostess' monogram in gold marked covers.

En Route.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Hoffman, who for the past year have made their home at the Trebor apartments, left last week for New York.

Club Afternoon.

Mrs. Newton Carmean had as guests Tuesday members of the Westside Leisure Hour Club, whom she entertained at the home of Mrs. Fred Kaufman of No. 1510 Reid street.

Easter Luncheon.

An Easter luncheon and five hundred party was presided over recently by Mrs. E. E. Henderson of No. 2136 Estrella avenue. Daylight was excluded and the lights shaded with fluffy yellow tulle. Jonquils and Easter lillies formed the table centerpiece; places were designated with tripods of yellow candy tied with ribbon of the same shade. Easter eggs bearing the guests name in gold rested in the ends of the streamers. Prizes were given to Mrs. P. W. Bresee, Mrs. Baum and Mrs. M. Wellheimer. Others present were Mrs. Perris Johnson, Mrs. A. V. Nelson, Mrs. William Saurett, Mrs. James Colgan, Mrs. T. Wright, Mrs. Frank Jay, Mrs. H. H. Clarke and Mrs. Joseph Goldsmith.

Thompson-Burkett Wedding.

Of interest to many friends is news of the marriage of Miss Annette Burkett, daughter of Mrs. L. C. Chester of No. 416 South Grand avenue, to William Sumner Thompson of Chicago, which took place Saturday last at the home of the bride's mother. The Rev. J. H. Stewart of Highland Park read the service in the presence of relatives and intimate friends only. Miss Burkett, who was unattended, wore her going-away gown of light brown marquisette. She carried a shower of lily of the valley. The home was decorated with apple blossoms and Easter lilies. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will visit Denver and other places, passing three months in the East, before returning by way of Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

Theater Party.

Jack Brunning was host at a theater party at the Mason last evening given as a farewell to Herbert Engstrom, who will leave soon for a three months' visit in Chicago.

Recent Wedding.

One of the pretty weddings of the week was that of Miss Gertrude McClellan and Earl Chapin Bump, who were married by Rev. Father Glass at St. Vincent Church. The bride, who who unattended, was attractive in a tailored gown of pearl gray cloth and a picture hat of the same shade, with coral trimmings. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McClellan of Wichita. She has a host of friends both in her home town and here, who will be surprised to hear of her marriage. The groom is the son of Mrs. Anna M. Bump of Ocean Park, and is an enterprising young business man of San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. Bump will be at home after May 1 at the Frances, San Diego.

Debutantes to Entertain.

The luncheon to be given today by the debutantes at the California Club will be a brilliant event.

Interesting Betrothal.

Announcement is made today of the engagement of Miss Rilla Elizabeth Wrench of New York and Dr. Leon Joseph Roth of this city. Dr. Roth left yesterday for the eastern city, where the ceremony will be read next month.

Return to Chicago.

Mrs. Louis W. Felt of Chicago and her daughter, Miss Beatrix Felt, who have been the recipients of many social compliments during a few months' stay in Los Angeles, started on their homeward journey Tuesday evening by way of San Francisco. Many friends went to the station to say good-bys.

Detectives Recover Money in Hotel Safe Which Is Believed to Be Part of Sum Stolen From Registered Mail Pouch in Kansas—Trial Comes Up Today.

John J. Rohe, alias John Jacobs, alias Charles Anderson, whose preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Van Dyke is set for this morning on the charge of stealing a registered mail pouch containing $1500 from the platform at Ellis, Kan., March 28, was a fleeing unionite, until rudely arrested by Postoffice Inspector Martin, at the King Edward Hotel.

Documents found in possession of Rohe show that he was a member of the order of railway conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen, with passes giving him transportation on account of such affiliation. It is alleged that he was a member of the Grievance Committee, representing the National Order of Firemen, until he took it into his head to get rich quick and appropriated the registered mail pouch.

Rohe admits everything in connection with the theft, except the stealing of the valuable package. He admits he was on duty at Ellis, the night the pouch disappeared, and that he left that city three days later, for the reason that his wages had been garnished for debt.

At the time of the arrest, he gave an order to Inspector Martin for $415 in the safe at the King Edward Hotel. He explains the presence of so much money by the statement that he gambled on the tourist sleeper out of Salt Lake, and won it.

The officers have traced Rohe since his departure from Ellis, on March 31, until his arrest in this city Monday. He passed some time in Denver, Salt Lake, San Francisco and Oakland, and was so careful of his money that he had written on the outside of the envelope containing the bills the number and size of each denomination.

The prisoner is a well-appearing man, about 40 years old, and an excellent talker. He is being held until a certified copy of the indictment returned against him at Topeka can reach the city.

ORDINANCE IS CONFISCATORY.

CITY RESTRAINED BY COURT FROM ENFORCEMENT.

Suit Is Brought by Sign Painter Who Claims That Valuable Property Is at Stake in Billboard Matter—Wins Point in Preliminary Skirmish—Demurrer Overruled.

Thomas H. B. Varney yesterday won a point in his efforts to defeat the city billboard ordinance. He brought suit and asked for an injunction restraining the city from enforcing the provisions of the ordinance. The city demurred. Judge Dooling, who presides over extra session No. 1 of the Superior Court, overruled the demurrer, and gave the city ten days to answer.

Varney declares in his complaint that the ordinance is unconstitutional; that it will confiscate property rights of his valued at $200,000, and that it will throw many men out of work.

In deciding upon the demurrer the court said:

"Lack of time and the presence of other matters prevent me from setting out in extent the reasons for the conclusion reached by me in this case. That conclusion is that the ordinance in question, known as the billboard ordinance, is an unwarranted interference with the rights of property, and that the provisions thereof are directed against billboards not as structures, but as means of advertising.

"Notwithstanding this fact, I would not direct an injunction to issue were it not averred that the defendants threaten to and will destroy plaintiff's property.

"On demurrer this must be taken to be true. As to the penal provisions, I do not think a court of equity should be called upon to protect plaintiff from them, as upon arrest he can quickly determine the constitutionality of the ordinance on habeas corpus, more quickly indeed by the court of last resort than in this proceeding. But the destruction of his property is another matter. The demurrer will be overruled and the restraining order continued in force until the cause is heard."

BANKRUPTCY PETITION.

George T. Henninger, a carpenter of Ocean Park, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday. In his schedule of accounts his liabilities are given as $3206.70 and his assets at $2206.70, his debts exceeding his assets by just $1000. His assets consist largely of amounts alleged to be due on contracts for building construction.

UNDER HEAVY BAIL.

John W. Watson, charged with the embezzlement of $1700, upon the complaint of John A. Mediar of No. 325 Towne avenue, was arrested yesterday morning by Deputy Constable Jack Adams, and arraigned before Justice Summerfield. Bail was fixed at $10,000, and the preliminary examination set for May 1.

Facts About "Inner Player" Pianos

"Inner Players" Come in Conover, Cable, Kingsbury Pianos

The different combinations are sold here at same prices as they are in the East, where they are manufactured, and on easy terms; full value allowed for your old piano.

Let us demonstrate 20 minutes and we will prove to you:

(a) "Inner Players" pump easier than other players, regardless of price.

(b) "Inner Players" are more accessible than other players.

(c) "Inner Players" are the only players guaranteed five years, the same as the pianos.

(d) "Inner Players" can be softened down to a lower degree without skipping notes than other players.

We have these players operating successfully all over our territory—in the extreme heat in Imperial valley, in Phoenix, Ariz., El Paso, Texas, and up in the extreme damp northwest—Portland, Ore.; Seattle, Wash., etc., etc.

Why should you pay more for other untried instruments?

Ask for literature and a demonstration. No trouble to show our instruments.

"Imagine those pictures in this, of a[illegible] windows," was the exclamation as several ladies gathered before a display [illegible] the windows of one of the most exclusive tailors on Broadway. "Do you suppose he is making the harem skirt?" one of the ladies continued in awe wonder. "Sure enough," thought I, "[illegible] he?" Determined to know, I boldly walked in and "ashed the man."

"No, madame," he replied with decision. "I am not making, and I do not expect to make this kind of garment. Oh, yes—I have had some call, to be sure, but not from the kind of ladies for whom I can afford to make striking clothes. You see, I would not wish to have certain kinds of people wearing my suits and advertising the fact that those were from my establishment." I saw at once that there was a professional honor, a jealousy of the high tone of his trade, here—just as there is—well, in newspaper work. There are certain things which one will not do for money. I had not thought before of this ethical side to so practical a business as tailoring—I had thought of it as simply a question of so much for making a suit—regardless of persons; but I got a peep beyond, when I talked with this gentlemanly tailor.

He explained about the pictures of the latest Parisian craze. "I arranged, when in Paris last season," said he, "to have forwarded to me during each season these advance illustrations of the latest styles invented by the celebrated couturieres, and these are received here even before the garments are shown in Paris." So, you see, we are up to date in Los Angeles. It costs goodness knows how many francs per plate, to have these sent in this manner—for you see they are executed by real artists in water color, and must necessarily be directly from such places as Worth's, Poiret's, Paquin's and other of the high-class places, and it means something to be in touch with these houses.

The Harem.

Then the tailor showed me his collection of such plates, and I took particular notice of the so-called "harem" as it is actually produced and worn in Paris. It is far from the extreme affair which has generally been presented as the harem. It is in fact little more than the slit skirt of last season, with the slit transferred from the sides to the back and front. That skirt was, you remember, invented by the Y.W.C.A. of New York as a solution of the too scant skirt. There was, needless to say, nothing immodest about it; nor is there about the "harem" of those Paris plates. The skirt is slit, front and back, for, say, a foot or so, and beneath you see a glimpse of an underslip either to match, or—if you wish to be a bit more striking—of a contrasting color and material. A few such costumes have been made for use here, but Los Angeles women, although stylish, are especially conservative in dress.

"Soft" Tailored Suits.

"We are making," continued the tailor, "many 'soft' tailored suits of silks in various weaves." He explained that these suits were less severe in lines and detail than are the cloth or suiting costumes and, while they were really quite as strictly tailored, they admitted of more ornamentation and were a boon to the woman who either does not fancy the plainer suits or to whom such suits are not becoming.

He showed me a model which is extremely chic and which admits of many variations. It was of handsome light weight suiting in white with a hair stripe of black. The plain skirt was made entirely of this material and the short jacket to accompany it was of flag blue, in a jaunty cut and having a collar of the white and black stripe of the skirt, to bring it into harmony.

New Table Ornament.

In one of the best jewelry stores I noticed a new style of center piece for the dining table. It was handsome and was moreover interesting because of its various uses and the possibility of transformation. It looked, at first glimpse, like what we used to call an "epergne"—except that it had no tall standard, but rested directly upon the table. The main body was of chased silver, and in the center was a silver stand containing a vase of etched crystal. Extending from the silver body were four branches, which also held etched crystal vases. These, filled with flowers, would make a charming center piece for luncheon; but there are still further possibilities, for these may be removed and the silver holders which remain, form candelabra. With pretty shades above each candle you have still another and entirely different center piece for the evening table.

Spring Dish.

New Shoes.

One of the high-class hoe stores on Broadway had just received a shipment of the very latest styles in shoes when I happened in there, yesterday. There were some beautiful examples of the bronze satin high shoes which are so fashionable this season. The shape was particularly elegant, the vamp being all in one without tip or ornamentation, and the arch of the instep ideal. There were also black satin in the same style and some in dark brown. Then there was a line of cravenette—but without the close surface which makes this goods uncomfortable for warm weather wear. The colors in this line were very good—light grays, tans, [illegible] one with the plain vamps

You see, I would not wish to have certain kinds of people wearing my suits and advertising the fact that those were from my establishment." I saw at once that there was a professional honor, a jealousy of the high tone of his trade, here—just as there is—well, in newspaper work. There are certain things which one will not do for money. I had not thought before of this ethical side to so practical a business as tailoring—I had thought of it as simply a question of so much for making a suit—regardless of persons; but I got a peep beyond, when I talked with this gentlemanly tailor.

He explained about the pictures of the latest Parisian craze. "I arranged, when in Paris last season," said he, "to have forwarded to me during each season these advance illustrations of the latest styles invented by the celebrated couturieres, and these are received here even before the garments are shown in Paris." So, you see, we are up to date in Los Angeles. It costs—goodness knows how many francs per plate, to have these sent in this manner—for you see they are executed by real artists in water color, and must necessarily be directly from such places as Worth's, Poiret's, Paquin's and other of the high-class places, and it means something to be in touch with these houses.

The Harem.

Then the tailor showed me his collection of such plates, and I took particular notice of the so-called "harem" as it is actually produced and worn in Paris. It is far from the extreme affair which has generally been presented as the harem. It is in fact little more than the slit skirt of last season, with the slit transferred from the sides to the back and front. That skirt was, you remember, invented by the Y.W.C.A. of New York as a solution of the too scant skirt. There was, needless to say, nothing immodest about it; nor is there about the "harem" of those Paris plates. The skirt is slit, front and back, for, say, a foot or so, and beneath you see a glimpse of an underslip either to match, or—if you wish to be a bit more striking—of a contrasting color and material. A few such costumes have been made for use here, but Los Angeles women, although stylish, are especially conservative in dress.

"Soft" Tailored Suits.

"We are making," continued the tailor, "many 'soft' tailored suits of silks in various weaves." He explained that these suits were less severe in lines and detail than are the cloth or suiting costumes and, while they were really quite as strictly tailored, they admitted of more ornamentation and were a boon to the woman who either does not fancy the plainer suits or to whom such suits are not becoming.

He showed me a model which is extremely chic and which admits of many variations. It was of handsome light weight suiting in white with a hair stripe of black. The plain skirt was made entirely of this material and the short jacket to accompany it was of flag blue, in a jaunty cut and having a collar of the white and black stripe of the skirt, to bring it into harmony.

New Table Ornament.

In one of the best jewelry stores I noticed a new style of center piece for the dining table. It was handsome and was moreover interesting because of its various uses and the possibility of transformation. It looked, at first glimpse, like what we used to call an "epergne"—except that it had no tall standard, but rested directly upon the table. The main body was of chased silver, and in the center was a silver stand containing a vase of etched crystal. Extending from the silver body were four branches, which also held etched crystal vases. These, filled with flowers, would make a charming center piece for luncheon; but there are still further possibilities, for these may be removed and the silver holders which remain, form candelabra. With pretty shades above each candle you have still another and entirely different center piece for the evening table.

Spring Dish.

For the spring dinner table many variations of the usual vegetables are needed and none are better than the onion. A different way of preparing them is as follows. Boil until slightly soft six medium-sized Bermuda onions. Carefully cut a small piece from the top of each and take out the center portion of the vegetable. Chop fine this "meat" and add to it a tablespoon of butter, a half-tablespoonful of salt, a bit of paprika and a half of a pimento cut fine. To these ingredients add two tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs and return to the onion shells. Dust grated cheese over the tops and bake one-half hour. Serve with a cream dressing such as used with plain boiled onions.

New Shoes.

One of the high-class hoe stores on Broadway had just received a shipment of the very latest styles in shoes when I happened in there, yesterday. There were some beautiful examples of the bronze satin high shoes which are so fashionable this season. The shape was particularly elegant, the vamp being all in one without tip or ornamentation, and the arch of the instep ideal. There were also black satin in the same style and some in dark brown. Then there was a line of cravenette—but without the close surface which makes this goods uncomfortable, for warm weather wear. The colors in this fine were very good—light grays, tans, [illegible] one with the plain vamps and others with ornamental tips of suede or buck.

The very latest thing in pumps was seen here. It is of satin in white or in black, with a heavy cord of silk. Extremely dressy and pretty these are, with their square bows of ribbon. The same thing is seen in evening pumps for men.

At last there is to be a standard of coat lengths established before the advent of each season; or at least this will be the case if we may judge by the action of the Garment Designers, who met in session recently in Chicago. To avoid contradictory and confusing variation in this matter of the length of coats, a committee of twenty-five was appointed to bring before the meeting a recommendation for the coming fall. It was recommended that fancy coats of tailored suits to be twenty-six inches in length and the more practical styles twenty-eight inches long. Each designer will take the matter up with his factory, and it is likely that the standard will be adopted. Every woman knows what a boon it would be to have a widespread knowledge of this important matter before the season opens. I suppose I receive in this department more inquiries as to this point than regarding any one detail of dress.

Notes of Fashion.

Have you seen those charming bonnets in the window of one of the Broadway stores? Deliciously quaint, I call them—savoring as they do of the old. Goday's Ladies' Book, but having the modern touch. How attractive will be the young face half hidden in the depths of one of these.

A hair ornament of the very tiniest of pink ribbon, coiled rosebuds and tiny green velvet leaves, mounted on two strips of ribbon-covered wire, make the daintiest addition to the girl's evening toilette.

Parasol handles are shown in closely-woven colored beads of dark blue or garnet. Some of these handles are merely plain, straight shafts so covered; others are finished with ornamental ball ends.

The newest method of marking the smart handbags of black velvet, which are so beautifully finished with frames of French gilt silver, or gunmetal, is with monogram or single letters, set in metal to correspond.

Quaint pages' caps are worn with stunning effect with shawl scarfs of tapestry and brocades, and the velvet brocaded evening cloaks.

Changeable velvets are used for evening wraps; brocades, too, are very much worn, especially those that show designs in gold and silver.

In these days of head dresses an attractive coiffure adornment is made of small pearls, which are strung in lattice style to form a Juliette.

Filet lace is excellent on velvets and filmy materials. It can be combined with linens for summer wear or with heavy cloths for winter.

MISSIONARY FOLK HOLD MEETING.

CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN'S ANNUAL DEMONSTRATION.

Effective Pageant Illustrates Women's Lot in Other Lands. Dr. William Horace Day Entertains With Stereopticon Lecture on His Foreign Travels.

At the session of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Congregational Church, held last night in the First Church, a most effective missionary demonstration was given, under the title of "A Pageant—the Darkness and the Light." Four young girls, in costume, appeared on the platform singly, and recited the horrors of child wifery and dual marriages in the different countries they represented. As they finished their parts, and stood waiting on the platform, a procession of sixteen young ladies, in white surplices, entered from the corridor, and singing as they marched, crossed the platform, and marched out on the opposite side, the four foreign representatives joining the procession.

This was followed by an interesting stereopticon lecture by Dr. William Horace Day, on "The Levant," in which he gave many illustrations of Constantinople, Corinth and other cities, mentioned in the missionary journeys of the Apostle Paul. The large auditorium was filled.

The gathering is the twenty-third annual meeting of the societies of Southern California, and was called to order at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The forenoon session was devoted to a greeting to the delegates by Mrs. Warren F. Day, reports of officers and an address by Rev. R. B. Larkin, missionary superintendent.

The afternoon session was devoted to routine business and a demonstration by the Japanese branches of the Congregational Church and Japanese children from Bethlehem Institution.

This morning there will be a missionary symposium. Miss Jones of North China will tell of the work at Paotingfu; Miss Rice of Turkey, will tell of the Church of the Forty Children; Mrs. A. H. Grace, of the "Hopeful Side of India's Womanhood."

The final session will meet at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon, when Mrs. William Horace Day will give "Some Impressions of Turkey." Mrs. George H. Clark will outline the young people's work; Mrs. George S. Hinckley will give a demonstration of the model mission circle; Miss Mary C. Cunningham will conduct a study in the Bible.

A large number of delegates are in attendance from all parts of Southern California, and the work of the women is shown to be in interesting state of activity.

Mrs. F. Estrada, wife of one of the government officials at San Simeon, Mex., arrived at the Hollenbeck yesterday. Parker Barrett and party are registered at the same hotel from Bakersfield.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

It is a privilege to listen to so perfect a public speaker as Mrs. Eleanor Bingham, who addressed the Art and Travel section of the Ebell Club yesterday. Her magnetic presence, well-trained voice and dramatic presentation of the story of the Holy Grail as depicted by Edwin Abbey in the Boston Public Library, held everyone spellbound.

Mrs. Bingham traveled abroad for years with Mrs. Potter Palmer and has been privileged to see most of the things worth seeing in the world of art. She is a favorite speaker on the Chautauqua platforms throughout the country and she certainly possesses to a strong degree that magnetism that always draws and holds an audience. She spoke of art as the true sister to every other thing in the wide world. It goes hand in hand with literature. The preacher and poet give us word-pictures with as much power as the artist portrays scenese on his canvas.

Whereas Wagner gave us "Parsifal" and "Lohengrin" from the story of the Holy Grail, and Tennyson gave us "The Idylls of the King," Edwin Abbey gave to the world a new rendering when he painted the mural decorations in the Boston library. When asked why he selected this subject, the great painter replied: "Because I believ it to be the great epic poem of the English-speaking people. It is to us what the Iliad and the Odyssey were to the Greeks."

It will be remembered that it was this same American artist who was chosen to paint the famous coronation picture of King Edward VII, which the King himself declared to be the greatest coronation picture ever painted.

Mrs. Bingham took her audience with her as she explained each picture in turn, and copies of the originals were shown as the lecture progressed.

Work Hand in Hand.

The Arroyo Chamber of Commerce at Highland Park has invited the women of the Ebell Club of that section to take charge of a big mass meeting which is to be held tomorrow evening in the Presbyterian Church at the park. The purpose of the gathering is to discuss matters of civic interest to Highland Park—the public schools, the public library and the street car service.

The Ebell women have risen nobly to the occasion and have secured two speakers on each of these three important subjects. Supt. J. H. Francis and Guy Eddlee will speak for the schools, Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst and Robert Marsh for the library and Messrs. C. H. Randall and Phillips for the street car service.

Cinderella on the Stage.

The Cambria street school wants a stereopticon outfit, and toward that end a delightful entertainment was given last evening at the Walker Theater under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association. A spectacular playlet, "Cinderella in Flowerland," was given, some 150 young people and children appearing in this favorite story of fairyland. The characters represented flowers, fairies, butterflies, sunbeams and raindrops and the stage effects were charming. Mrs. Cora Belle Howes, a dramatic reader recently from Detroit, trained the young people for the production. The performance will be repeated on Saturday afternoon and the proceeds will, it is hoped, be sufficient to purchase the stereopticon outfit.

Looking Backward.

The Hollywood Club took a long look backward to pioneer days in the Cahuenga Valley yesterday when Mmes. Cornelius Cole and G. T. Gower—both pioneers of that section, told them about affairs that happened there long before a woman's club was thought of. Mrs. W. F. Hubbard also gave some interesting reminiscences of garrison life on the frontier. Mmes. E. J. Wilbur, Meta Devlin, E. J. Waldron and J. F. Redhead were the hostesses of the day.

Ruskins in South America.

The Ruskin Art Club left Argentina and entered Uruguay yesterday. For a month past they have been studying South America and have gone over Chile, Bolivia and Paraguay. Miss Sue Barnwell and Mrs. G. W. Maxwell were the speakers yesterday morning. Next week, Brazil will be the topic and Mmes. F. H. Snowden and L. T. Hay the speakers.

Will They Walk?

Today the Ramblers of the Wednesday Morning Club are booked for a tramp to Sawpit Canyon, Monrovia. It is scarcely to be supposed that these athletes will walk to Monrovia, however. Doubtless, following the fashion of Mark Twain in his famous "Tramp Abroad," they will ride most of the way—at least as far as Monrovia.

ETTY YOUNG AMERICA GOES FAR TO EARTH'S ODD CORNERS.

First Lone Girl Tourists of South America.

ss Helen Ford, on left, and her no less intrepid sister, Miss Gertrude, whose wanderings into the unusual corners of the earth brought them the distinction of being the first unchaperoned young ladies to cross the Andes. Their twenty-thousand-mile trip ended in the Arcade station yesterday. Both are well known in social circles of San Francisco and Los Angeles.

CCORDING to the erudite geography, it's 25,000 miles around the world, if you go in a straight line. ecording to the no less erudite and nsiderably more attractive Misses ord, the San Francisco society girls no just blew into Los Angeles from eir casual stroll into the far corners the earth, it's ever so much farther an that. That is, supposing you fol- the route which these intrepid ung travelers left in their adven- rous wake.

When Miss Helen and Miss Gertrude rd dropped their chunky suitcases the Arcade Station yesterday, it rked the end of as unusual a trip winsome young America ever ven- ed upon. The pretty sisters scorned th a great and consuming scorn the ten paths of tourists and deter- ned that, if they could not get along cept under the expansive wing of a k's tourist man, they'd stay at me.

As one result, their twenty-thousand- le, six months' trip brought them distinction of being the first girls r to tour South America unaccom- ied and unchaperoned. That is not simple as it looks for, gallant as is ir reputation, the Latin natives of south half of the hemisphere do understand the insouciant independ- nce of the wholesome and healthy erican college girl.

They didn't make it unpleasant for or anything like that, of course," d Helen, the younger of the pair of be-trotters. "But, because their n girls are never allowed to do so ch as dream of going about alone, y're apt to look a little askance en others do it. We weren't afraid, cause we're used to standing on our t. But," she added with a reminis- cent little move, "I'm not sure that it's a trip I'd recommend to other unaccompanied girls."

From San Francisco, which they left last fall, the girls traveled with considerable deliberation southward all along the Coast. Where the spirit moved them to do so, they had no compunctions in leaving the steamer to its fate and wandering inland to parts of the southern continent where the face of an American girl had never been seen before. One of the incidents of the downward trip was a visit to the cell of the defaulting Angeleno bank teller, Wilson B. Evans, in durance vile at Acapulco.

"But," said Gertrude with soft consideration, "we didn't tell him we knew he was a—a—what he is. You see, we didn't like to embarrass him."

From Valparaiso the girls struck straight across the Andes for the east coast, encountering a real-for-sure railroad wreck and other thrilling adventures en route. From Buenos Ayres they went north along the coast to Rio and thence across to the mainland of Portugal. The thing which chiefly impressed them in Lisbon was the rather poorly kept remains of of King Something-or-other, former monarch of that turbulent place, and their observations touching upon other parts of the tourist-ridden continent are hardly less original.

For the present, the wandering ones expect to remain quietly in the city with their mother, Mrs. H. A. Ford, who has taken apartments at No. 610 South Figueroa street for their especial benefit. Later they may return to the Bay City albeit, remarks Miss Helen with a big sigh, it will probably be only to use it as a starting place for fresh adventures.

Two Upper Floors of Fine Broadway Office Block Are Leased by Sierra Madre Organization.

The entire two upper floors of the magnificent office block to be built at the northwest corner of Eighth street and Broadway by the Los Angeles Investment Company will probably be occupied by the Sierra Madre Club, an option on an extended lease for the space having been taken by the club management yesterday.

Definite steps are under way, not only for the consummation of this lease, but for the arrangement and appointment of the two stories to be rented.

The club will have fully 22,000 square feet of floor space, provision being made, not only for large general rooms but for private dining-rooms and dormitory facilities. The option is for a five-year lease with privilege of renewal for twenty years additional.

The Sierra Madre Club was organized about two and a half years ago, the first meetings being held at the Angelus Hotel. The present quarters on the upper floor of the Columbia Trust building were entered a year and a half ago.

The officers of the club are E. A. Montgomery, president; Capt. W. R. Wharton, secretary and general manager, and Col. Spellacy, vice-president. The club membership is at present about 400.

Burning of Gosport

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

FIFTY years ago today the destruction of property at the Gosport navy yard, near Norfolk, the total value of which was nearly $10,000,000, was attempted by a force acting under orders from the government at Washington.

Large ship houses and other principal buildings were fired. Seven ships were scuttled or burned. Many guns were spiked. A mine of gunpowder was laid in the drydock. The huge shears used for handling guns, spars and machinery fell in the conflagration across the deck of one of the burning ships, the Germantown, crushing her like an eggshell.

The roaring flames from the shiphouses and ships lighted up the waters of the sluggish Elizabeth River before the yard—which flows from the Dismal swamp—and illuminated the towns of Norfolk and Portsmouth with a yellow glare.

While the work of destruction went on, the moon, riding high in the clear heavens, spread a peaceful radiance over the quiet country round about. But the people of Norfolk and its vicinity paid no heed to the beauty of the heavens.

Intense excitement reigned in the town. Nobody slept. Armed men marched through the streets. Mansion and tavern kept open house. Crowds talked excitedly of the work of destruction going on across the river, and debated the possibility of saving some of the property there.

Train of Disasters.

The desruction here was in keeping with the train of disasters that had been daily widening the breach between North and South since the fall of Sumter.

On April 17 Virginia had seceded. On the 18th the arsenal at Harper's Ferry with 15,000 stand of arms had been destroyed and abandoned by the Federal garrison. On the 19th had come the collision in the streets of Baltimore between a mob and the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment.

The situation at the Gosport Navy Yard had for some days been the cause of anxious concern to President Lincoln and his Cabinet. On April 11 the government had ordered Commander James Alden to the yard to secure the best ship there, the Merrimac, steam frigate, and proceed with her to Philadelphia.

This officer had found the ship unprepared to sail. By the time steam was under her boilers, Virginia had seceded, and the aged commandant of the yard, Commodore C. S. McCauley, refused to allow the ship to depart, believing she was needed for the defense of the yard.

Commander Alden returned to Washington. Orders were at once issued to the steamer Pawnee, but just returned from duty with the abortive Sumter relief expedition, to proceed at once from the Washington navy yard to Gosport, there to save or destroy all government property possible, as circumstances might demand.

Pawnee Arrives Too Late.

Arriving Off Fort Monroe on the afternoon of the 20th, the Pawnee took on board the Third Massachusetts Regiment, which had arrived there that morning from Boston by steamer. The soldiers had no rations, but they entered on this duty with the utmost alacrity.

Obstructions had been placed in the channel at Sewall's Point, below Norfolk, by the sinking of several vessels, but the Pawnee passed them safely and arrived at the navy yard at 8 o'clock.

As she ranged past the frigate Cumberland, anchored off the yard, she was hailed. No answer was given. A voice could be heard, saying, "Shall I fire?" Again the hail was given. The answer "Pawnee" brought a cheer from the deck of the Cumberland.

Capt. Hiram Paulding, commanding the Pawnee, found that he had arrived too late to save the ships at the yard. They had been scuttled four hours previously by order of Commandant McCauley, who had believed they could not be gotten past the obstructions in the channel.

The work now before the Pawnee's men, in accordance with their orders, was one of destruction.

The Massachusetts soldiers and a small force of marines were landed. There were in the yard more than 2000 cannon, and a force of laborers were set to work to disable these by spiking them or breaking their trunnions. Trains of powder were laid in the ship houses and workshops. Forty men were told off from the volunteer regiment to carry powder into the pump gallery of the drydock to form a mine. Other details rolled cannon balls into the water. Others were busy breaking and throwing overboard arms.

All night the force worked. In the midst of their labors a fire broke out in the barracks. It was allowed to burn.

Destruction Checked.

Meanwhile Commodore McCauley refused to leave the yard. He believed it his duty to defend it to the last. His young son, a lad of tender years, sought out Capt. Paulding and "with tears streaming down his face" reported his father's determination.

An officer was sent to the old commander and he was shown that t

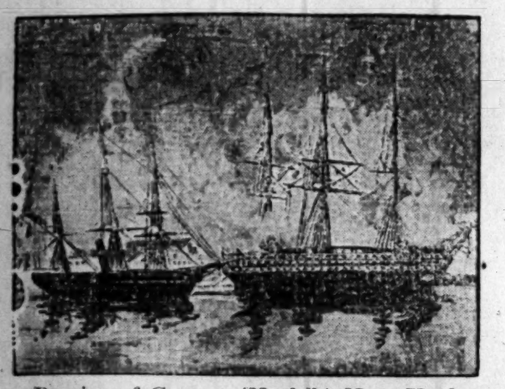
April 20, 1861—Spectacular Destruction of the Navy Yard at Gosport, Near Norfolk, and Valuable Ships and Stores, by Federal Forces.



Burning of Gosport (Norfolk) Navy Yard.

The sketch shows the old Pennsylvania and the ship houses in flames, and the war steamer Pawnee towing out the Frigate Cumberland.

[Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.]

FIFTY years ago today the destruction of property at the Gosport navy yard, near Norfolk, the total value of which was nearly $10,000,000, was attempted by a force acting under orders from the government at Washington.

Large ship houses and other principal buildings were fired. Seven ships were scuttled or burned. Many guns were spiked. A mine of gunpowder was laid in the drydock. The huge shears used for handling guns, spars and machinery fell in the conflagration across the deck of one of the burning ships, the Germantown, crushing her like an eggshell.

The roaring flames from the shipbouses and ships lighted up the waters of the sluggish Elizabeth River before the yard—which flows from the Dismal swamp—and illuminated the towns of Norfolk and Portsmouth with a yellow glare.

While the work of destruction went on, the moon, riding high in the clear heavens, spread a peaceful radiance over the quiet country round about. But the people of Norfolk and its vicinity paid no heed to the beauty of the heavens.

Intense excitement reigned in the town. Nobody slept. Armed men marched through the streets. Mansion and tavern kept open house. Crowds talked excitedly of the work of destruction going on across the river, and debated the possibility of saving some of the property there.

Train of Disasters.

The destruction here was in keeping with the train of disasters that had been daily widening the breach between North and South since the fall of Sumter.

On April 17 Virginia had seceded. On the 18th the arsenal at Harper's Ferry with 15,000 stand of arms had been destroyed and abandoned by the Federal garrison. On the 19th had come the collision in the streets of Baltimore between a mob and the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment.

The situation at the Gosport Navy Yard had for some days been the cause of anxious concern to President Lincoln and his Cabinet. On April 11 the government had ordered Commander James Alden to the yard to secure the best ship there, the Merrimac, steam frigate, and proceed with her to Philadelphia.

This officer had found the ship unprepared to sail. By the time steam was under her boilers, Virginia had seceded, and the aged commandant of the yard, Commodore C. S. McCauley, refused to allow the ship to depart, believing she was needed for the defense of the yard.

Commander Alden returned to Washington. Orders were at once issued to the steamer Pawnee, but just returned from duty with the abortive Sumter relief expedition, to proceed at once from the Washington navy yard to Gosport, there to save or destroy all government property possible, as circumstances might demand.

Pawnee Arrives Too Late.

Arriving Off Fort Monroe on the afternoon of the 20th, the Pawnee took on board the Third Massachusetts Regiment, which had arrived there that morning from Boston by steamer. The soldiers had no rations, but they entered on this duty with the utmost alacrity.

Obstructions had been placed in the channel at Sewall's Point, below Norfolk, by the sinking of several vessels, but the Pawnee passed them safely and arrived at the navy yard at 8 o'clock.

As she ranged past the frigate Cumberland, anchored off the yard, she was hailed. No answer was given. A voice could be heard, saying, "Shall I fire?"

Again the hail was given. The answer "Pawnee" brought a cheer from the deck of the Cumberland.

Capt. Hiram Paulding, commanding the Pawnee, found that he had arrived too late to save the ships at the yard. They had been scuttled four hours previously by order of Commandant McCauley, who had believed they could not be gotten past the obstructions in the channel.

The work now before the Pawnee's men, in accordance with their orders, was one of destruction.

The Massachusetts soldiers and a small force of marines were landed. There were in the yard more than 2000 cannon, and a force of laborers were set to work to disable these by spiking them or breaking their trunnions. Trains of powder were laid in the ship houses and workshops. Forty men were told off from the volunteer regiment to carry powder into the pump gallery of the drydock to form a mine. Other details rolled cannon balls into the water. Others were busy breaking and throwing overboard arms.

All night the force worked. In the midst of their labors a fire broke out in the barracks. It was allowed to burn.

Destruction Checked.

Meanwhile Commodore McCauley refused to leave the yard. He believed it his duty to defend it to the last. His young son, a lad of tender years, sought out Capt. Paulding and "with tears streaming down his face" reported his father's determination.

An officer was sent to the old commander and he was shown that to remain was folly. No sacrifice now could undo the work of the day. The yard was doomed.

So in the small hours of the morning, with his boy marching bravely at his side, the commandant went on board the Pawnee.

By this time all was ready for firing the trains of powder. A small detail was sent ashore in two boats for the purpose. The Pawnee, with the Cumberland in tow, started down the stream. At 4:20 a rocket hissed upward from her deck. It was the signal for firing the trains.

In five minutes flames were glowing inside the ship houses. In one was the line of battle ship New York, many years on the stocks and unfinished. She burned like tinder.

The fire was not long in communicating with the rigging and spars of the vessels at the yard and in half an hour the flames were roaring in a great conflagration, with the old sloop of war Pennsylvania, outlined in fire, a gigantic set piece in the center of the scene.

In Norfolk was a force of about 1000 Virginia volunteers, under Maj.-Gen. William B. Taliaferro. The Federal naval officers had thought the force much larger. On the departure of the Pawnee the Virginians rushed to the yard to save what they could.

They confined the fire to the ship houses. They found the drydock mine unexploded. Hundreds of cannon were undamaged. Powder by the ton—about 2000 barrels of it—was in the magazine. Vast amounts of shells, shot, machinery, arms and stores had remained untouched.

These valuable supplies were doubly valuable to the Confederacy, while in the ships, notably the Merrimac, which could be easily raised, they had prizes which at that time no money could have secured for them.

For tomorrow: Volunteer troops save the frigate Constitution at Annapolis.

ALLEGED GOLD BRICK MEN HEAR STORY TO FLEECE.

Widow Who Narrowly Escapes Being Their Victim, Testifies at Hearing How Her Sympathies Were Aroused by the Story of Poor "Old Tom," the Sick Miner.

A "gold" brick, a "silver" bar, a bit and brace, alcohol lamp and other paraphernalia were exhibits yesterday in Justice Summerfield's court, when C. W. Caddagan and X. Henry Holler were heard on the charge of trying to sell the brick to Mrs. Ida H. Kendall. They were held to answer in the Superior Court.

Mrs. Kendall testified that telegrams had been sent to her husband, Cornelius Kendall, deceased two years ago, from Mexico and San Diego, at his old address in Toledo. These were signed Tom Moore, who purported to be an associate of Kendall in the mining business, in earlier days. They intimated that a strike had been made, in which Kendall was to share.

Through his Toledo partner, Daniel Shaw, they were sent on to Mrs. Kendall, who was at the Lankershim Hotel, and Moore was apprised of her address.

She met Holler by appointment at the Hotel Green, Pasadena, where he told her that "Old Tom," the miner, was in poor health, and must be taken care of. Her sympathies were enlisted for the supposed comrade of her husband's mining ventures, and she later went to see him at a cottage in Ocean Park.

There she found Caddagan, posing as Moore, with limbs bandaged and the air of a sick man. She told how she had been shown the brick, how she bored into it, and then how the borings were fused into solid masses by Moore. The implements with which this was done were produced in evidence.

Mrs. Kendall was told that the brick was worth $24,000, of which half belonged to her, because it had come from a mine in which her husband had had an interest. This was described as a fabulously rich proposition.

Mrs. Kendall refused to pay the money, however, suggesting that the brick be taken to an assay office to be tested. To this the men would not consent.

Mrs. Kendall told an uncle of the matter that night, and he employed detectives Jones and Boyd to follow her to Ocean Park next day where Caddagan and Holler were taken into custody.

From the questions put by Attorney Allender, who is representing Holler, it is inferred that much of the blame will be thrown upon Caddagan.

AUGH TURNED ON ATTORNEY.

ICKET CARTOON GOOD JOKE, DECLARES VENIREMAN.

Unionite Lawyer, Whose Dilatory Tactics Is Delaying Selection of Jury to Try Conspiracy Case, Fails to Draw From Prospective Juryman Answer He Expected.

Only five jurymen were accepted to ear the trial of the thirty-five union- e pickets in Police Judge Chambers's ourt yesterday, and the drawing of ad- itional jurors will be resumed this orning at 10 o'clock.

Neither the prosecution nor the de- ense will venture a guess at the ngth of time that will be required to y the case. Both sides declare that e selection of a jury has been ex- ptionally slow. Two days has been nsumed.

R. J. Williams of No. 804 West enty-third street furnished amuse- ent yesterday when questioned about e newspaper articles he had been ading.

"Do you take The Times?" Attorney rriman asked Williams.

"I have for years," Williams nswered.

"Did you see the cartoon and articles the paper Wednesday morning?"

"I saw the cartoon, but because of he instructions given by the court hen court closed Tuesday, I did not ad it."

"Well, Mr. Williams, will you tell what you thought of that cartoon?"

"I don't mind telling you. I thought was a good joke."

The spectators were convulsed with aughter, and even Judge Chambers ndulged in a smile and chuckle.

Williams was immediately chal- nged by Harriman, and before the aughter had subsided, he had been xcused from jury service.

As the jury remained at the close court last night the members are: C. Johnson, No. 1822 West Twelfth reet; J. Grundy, No. 2633 San Ma- ino street; E. W. Krebbs, No. 954 alencia street; W. H. Black, No. 816 est Eleventh street; G. M. Thomp- on, No. 2212 La Salle street.

The trend of the questioning showed ainly the attitude of the unionites. heir attorneys sought to determine whether the juryman would take the w into his own hands and decided pon his verdict without considering he nature of the evidence.

The unionites contend that the law iolated by the thirty-five pickets is ot a reasonable one, and though the uestion to be decided by the jury s whether or not the law was violated, hey wish the jury to decide whether r not they favor the law.

Circumstantial evidence proved a reat stumbling block to many of the ersons questioned. Time and time again rosecutor Eddie was forced to stop ome regular questioning as to qualifica- ions and explain the value of cir- umstantial evidence.

Though it took the defense a day nd a half to settle on the five men, he prosecution required but three ours to accept them as jurors.

The original venire of 100 men has ot been exhausted, but a new one ill be drawn if the jury is not ob- ained today.

innocent of attempt to deceive. There are rumors of an agreement between him and the complaining witnesses, made at the time of the first transaction. It is said that this will be produced at the trial, if he is held to answer.

Charles F. Stokes of No. 419 South Grand avenue, a real estate dealer, told of bringing together Jantzen and Hurditch, both of whom had property listed with him, in October, 1910. An agreement was finally drawn up for the trade, in which Jantzen was to exchange property, mortgages and securities in California, Washington, Ohio, New Jersey and Kentucky, for 640 acres of land owned by the Englishmen in Fresno county.

After this Jude found that the mortgages on Kentucky lands, amounting, according to Stokes, to about $25,000, were worthless. He insisted that Jantzen make another agreement, which was done.

Jantzen seems to have declared that the new titles, to land in this State, were good, and that the property was adjacent to producing oil fields.

BRUTAL FISTED UNIONITE FINED.

POLICE JUDGE MAKES SHORT WORK OF HIM.

William Coates, Who Struck Unoffending Free Workingman Because He Would Not Join the Ranks of Violence, Is Arrested and Receives His Medicine.

William Coates, striking unionite, was fined $15 by Police Judge Frederickson yesterday afternoon for striking a free workingman who about two weeks ago stepped into a lunch wagon on Main street to get a sandwich.

Thomas Smiley, an employee of the Union Tool Company, is the man Coates attacked. Smiley was on his way home at No. 2043 East Seventh street, on the night of the 10th inst., when he was approached by Coates as he stopped to get a bite to eat.

Coates reminded Smiley that he had not quit his work when ordered to do so, and Smiley answered that Coates was correct and that he, Smiley, had no intention of quitting at any time.

The answer enraged Coates and he applied several epithets to Smiley. The latter ignored them, though the language made his blood boil. When Smiley attempted to walk past him, Coates struck him on the point of the chin, flooring him.

Smiley regained his feet and walked hurriedly away with the unionite cursing him.

Smiley complained to Deputy District Attorney Doran the following morning and a warrant was issued for Coates. He was arrested yesterday morning and taken into Police Court where it took but a few minutes to find him guilty.

EASY FOR HIM.

PARENTS WON'T PROSECUTE.

When the case of N. Learned, a Boyle Heights school teacher, was called in Police Judge Frederickson's court yesterday no witnesses appeared. The prisoner was released.

Learned was charged with an offense against several of his girl pupils. It was expected that the trial would be sensational. But, fearing notoriety and desiring to save the names of their daughters, as well as themselves, from being bandied about in a police court, the parents of the pupils did not press the charge.

IT LOOKED GOOD.

LADS STEAL GRAPE JUICE.

Complaints charging petty larceny were filed in Police Judge Frederickson's court late yesterday afternoon against Clark Ifland and Fred Bursch, each about 18 years old, who are believed to have stolen a case of grape juice from the Pilgrim Congregational Church, Forty-sixth street and Normandie avenue, Tuesday night.

A church social was in progress at the time and the boys are said to have entered the kitchen of the church and taken the grape juice. Detective William Moore was passing the church as the boys emerged, and he placed them under arrest.

OFFENSE IS SERIOUS.

BETRAYS CONFIDENCE.

W. W. Hicks of No. 2204 Fargo street, charged with burglary in order to commit a more serious offense, was held for trial in the Superior Court under $1500 bail yesterday afternoon by Police Judge Frederickson.

He is said to have agreed to remain in the home of M. F. Ferguson, No. 1953 Allesandro street, on the night of April 12, while the family was away, and to have broken into the rooms where the children were sleeping. The cries of a young woman, who was taking care of the children, summoned assistance and Hicks was arrested.

OLD MAN'S TRIAL SET.

Yuma Citizen Is Charged With Perjury in Connection With Imperial County Land Frauds.

The trial of Hiram W. Blaisdell of Yuma, charged with perjury in connection with his testimony in the Imperial county land frauds, disposed of in the United States District Court more than a year ago, has been set by Judge Wellborn for May 16.

It is understood that strenuous efforts will be made on the part of the accused to have the hearing postponed on account of his ill health. Blaisdell is quite an old man.

The hearing of the cases against Blaisdell, Frank N., and David H. Chaplin, jointly charged with fraud in connection with Imperial county land frauds, was one of the most bitterly contested and long drawn out of any recent litigation in the Federal courts, the hearing consuming about four months.

As a result of the hearing, Blaisdell pleaded guilty and was fined $4000, which was promptly paid, while the Chaplins were sentenced each to nine months imprisonment. The charge of perjury now pending against Blaisdell grows out of that hearing.

FINED FOR STABBING DOG.

F. C. Shoemaker of Vernon was fined $50 yesterday by Justice Forbes for stabbing and maiming a dog belonging to C. H. Ringer, also of Vernon. The complainant was Officer Fullerton of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Testimony of witnesses showed that Shoemaker had drawn the dog to the edge of an inclosure, in which it was confined, and had stabbed it in twenty-nine places with a knife. He said the dog had bitten him some time ago and this was his revenge.

And we want this advertisement to appeal to a few broad-gauge people who are open to conviction and who will investigate the many wonderful opportunities which this date-growing land of ours offers.

378 acres of fertile, well watered land, within 1-4 mile of the Government Experiment Station at Indio, in the Coachella Valley, constitute our tract. And we have organized a company for the purpose of growing dates strictly along the lines which the experts at that station say will be most productive.

Theirs has been the experimental work. Theirs have been the years of labor and thought and study. They know how to raise this immensely valuable crop, profitably. They will give us all the assistance in their power. They will help us select our trees, plant them, care for them, get the best results out of them.

And up to the time that the trees mature and become capable of earning $500 per acre, they will see also that we are able to make a good percentage on our investment out of cotton planted between the rows of trees.

WON'T STAY CRUSHED.

Anti-Suffragists Refute Former Judge's Address on Denver Issue by Writer's Pamphlet on Corrupt Vote.

Members of the Southern California Association opposed to Woman Suffrage refuse to feel that their arguments against the enfranchisement of women were crushed by the address of Attorney Henry P. Dillon before the Votes for Women Club Monday night.

Mr. Dillon is quoted as having said that the women of Denver voted in favor of the saloon element because the prohibition clause in the ticket had been introduced as a trick by which the politicians of the State endeavored to retain possession of the water supply of Denver. Members of the Anti-Suffrage Association laugh at this statement, after having read Richard Barry's pamphlet entitled "The Truth Concerning Four Woman Suffrage States."

Mr. Barry says that the two questions before the people of Denver were: "Should the town be wet or dry?" and "Should it have its own water or let the corporations own it?" All adults could vote on the temperance question, but only taxpayers had a voice in the question of the water franchise.

The saloon element spent much money to keep the town wet, and the corporations to get the franchise. Since half of the voters on the prohibition ticket were women, while only one-third of the ballots cast on the franchise were by women; and since the town remained wet while the municipal ownership of water carried, Barry draws the conclusion that the male vote remained incorruptible in the face of the big campaign fund, while the female vote did otherwise.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

On motion of Deputy District Attorney Arthur Keetch, the charge of felony embezzlement against W. H. Eaton was dismissed by Police Judge Frederickson yesterday afternoon.

VICTIM INSANE FROM BRUTALITY

IS FOUND WITH HANDS TIED IN ROOMING-HOUSE.

Proprietor Confesses He Is Responsible for Her Condition, and the Girl's Mother Will Also Be Charged With Contributing to Her Sad State by Keeping Silent.

After the victim, whose condition was such that hospital treatment was imperative, was attended to, Joseph Esner, who conducts a rooming-house at No. 323 South Hope street, was placed in the City Jail yesterday afternoon on a charge seldom equaled as to depravity.

Leona Fye, 13 years old, was rescued by Humane Officer McLaughlin, and it is believed that she will never recover from the effects of the treatment she received at Esner's hands. She is now a raving maniac, and a victim of St. Vitus's dance.

She was found in a room in the house conducted by Esner, her hands tightly tied with a piece of cloth torn from the bed sheets.

How long she had been the subject of Esner's brutality the police are unable to say. Their attention was attracted to the place yesterday afternoon when several residents of the vicinity telephoned to the Humane Society that a young woman could be heard screaming on the second floor.

Humane Officer McLaughlin was sent to the house. He heard the screams as he entered the door and made his way from room to room until he found the one in which the girl was confined.

Because her mind had become affected, she could not make a comprehensive statement, and the officer telephoned for the police ambulance. The girl was then transferred to the County Hospital and Esner taken into custody.

At the Central Police Station, he first evaded the questions asked him, but finally admitted that he was criminally responsible for the girl's condition.

The mother is said to have known of the treatment her daughter was receiving and not to have made any protest. McLaughlin stated that steps will be taken today to have the woman answer jointly with Esner for having contributed to the young woman's delinquency.

"THE FONTANA ORANGE GIRL"

If you have in mind the ultimate ownership of an orange, lemon or grape fruit grove, don't fail to take advantage of this special low rate excursion to the much-talked-about Fontana groves in the celebrated Rialto section. Go and see the hundreds of acres that are being planted and maintained by us for people in Los Angeles and other localities. See where you can buy a select five-acre grove planted to your choice of orange, lemon or grape fruit trees for only $300 cash, the next payment on the principal four years later and the balance in yearly installments; $25 monthly will cover scientific maintenance (which includes cultivation, irrigation, pruning, etc.) also cost of water, taxes and interest on deferred payments. A share of select water stock (worth $175 per share) is included with every acre. Tremendous profits are being made in the citrus business. Orange groves are increasing in value every year. The entire industry is established on a sound permanent basis. Advertising campaigns are increasing the demand for citrus fruits. Prices are getting higher. The orange land area is very limited. NOW'S the time to buy a young planted grove on a basis of only $400 per acre. In a few years, it may be worth as high as $2500 an acre or more, and should produce 15% to 25% dividends. The Rialto section is beautiful—it is ideal for a permanent home—has all social and educational advantages. Buy now and erect a cozy bungalow in four and five years when your grove begins to produce an income. Unplanted land may be purchased for $250 an acre on the same easy terms.

S.S.S. A REAL CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

So simple a thing as cloths dipped in hot water and applied to an aching joint, will often temporarily relieve the acute pains of Rheumatism. But everyone knows that such treatment would never permanently cure the trouble.

The usual cause of Rheumatism comes from weak kidneys, constipation, indigestion, etc., forming impure accumulations in the system. These sour and ferment, causing uric acid, which is absorbed from the stomach and intestines into the blood. This causes a partial fermentation of the circulation, which changes it from a thick, rich fluid to a thin, acrid stream, depositing inflammatory matter into the muscles, nerves, and joints. The longer the blood is allowed to remain in this impure cond the more severe will Rheum become. Gradually the mu harden and lose their elast the joints begin to stiffen, an quently calculous deposits knots at the finger joints.

There is just one way to C Rheumatism, and that is to cl the blood of the uric acid po S. S. S., by removing every pa of the cause and PURIFYIN blood, cures Rheumatism pe nently. S. S. S. eliminates uric acid because it is the gre of all blood purifiers. It fi out every trace of the sour, in matory matter, cools the acid ed blood, furnishes the materi multiplying the rich, nutri corpuscles of the circulation, and by its fine tonic effects assists the sy to rapidly overcome the effects of the disease. Special book on Rheum and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA,

I had Rheumatism for twenty years, sometimes being entirely laid up by it. It grew worse until my right knee was nearly twice its natural size, and was drawn up considerably shorter than the other one. A friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I commenced. Before I had been using it long I was greatly relieved, and continuing the medicine I soon found that I was entirely cured. MRS. IDA M. PALMER. 196 Fulton St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

While at work in the swampy regions of Southeast Georgia, I contracted Rheumatism, and was completely helpless for about 4 months, and spent over $150.00 with doctors, but got worse every day, and finally quit them and began S. S. S. I took several bottles, and was cured sound and well. My health is now splendid, and I weigh 175 pounds. I can recommend S. S. S. to all suffering from Rheumatism. S. C. LASSITER. AN INTERESTING MOTION PICTURE ENTERTAINMENT FREE TO ALL AUTOMOBILISTS AND OTHERS INTERESTED.

Complimentary Tickets May Be Secured at the Office of The B. F. Goodrich Co., 406 W. Pico St., and all Auto Dealers.

You are cordially invited to attend a novel and interesting entertainment consisting of a series of motion pictures vividly portraying those scenes in the great rubber forests of Brazil that have to do with the gathering of crude rubber by the native South American Indian. All motion views of the operations necessary to build an automobile tire, starting with the crude material and working up to the finished product.

ALSO THE FAMOUS ATLANTA AUTO RACES AT ATLANTA SPEEDWAY.

There is not a dull moment from the start to the finish of this entertainment, which takes about an hour to present. It does not constantly flaunt before you the name of any particular tiremaker, and can be appreciated and enjoyed by all. Doubly interesting, of course, to the user of automobile tires.

WOLVES GIVEN DEEP HOOKING.

Castleton Blanks Them With Little Effort.

Kilroy Hit Hard and Often in Two Innings.

Happy Hogan Alarms Fans by Stealing to Second.

Vernon, 7; Oakland, 0.

After being held to a five-hit game on Tuesday, Vernon opened up on the Oak henvers yesterday and sloughed them far enough around the lot in the second, third and fourth innings to win a game so easy that it seemed like a shame to take it away from anyone.

Young Knight, who passed the game away on Tuesday, was stuck in again yesterday and in the second inning Stinson and McDonnell stung him for doubles and Wolverton promptly yanked him out when he had retired the side. The next one he tried was Kilroy, who has something of a rep, but he lost this for awhile in the third and fourth when Vernon spanked him for nine swats and six runs. Then when the game was hopelessly lost, he began to pitch good ball.

Castleton was doing that all the time and not one of the Oaks were able to get as far as third base. Only three reached second base and when they were able to slap the ball they considered themselves lucky. He wound it around their necks, curved it over the corners and kept them jumping sideways every minute.

It was a very one-sided contest and devoid of particular interest, for when the Vernons began to hammer the ball against the left field fence it was all off. The Oaks did not have a chance to make any fancy plays or circus catches, for the hits were clean and the other things were right in their hands.

FALLEN HERO.

Patterson furnished the only real stunt of the afternoon when he tried to catch Maggert's foul in the eighth inning. The ball came down near the grand stand and both Patterson and Sheehan ran for it and when near it both hesitated. Pat saw that Sheehan was not going after it and made a dive, but he slipped in the mud near the stand and banged into the ground and the stand at the same time, falling on his head and shoulders, but he resumed play at once apparently none the worse for the accident.

It was another case yesterday of the pitcher, for Wolverton's were punched a dozen ways and Hogan's made the Oaks look like a lot of Jap players. If one of them was lucky enough to get on a base, he had the time of his life trying to get to the next one and none of them got near enough to the finish to even give an imitation of being dangerous. Castleton started in bad enough for the Oaks and the further he went, the better he became. In the last six innings but twenty batsmen faced him, two of this bunch reaching first on singles. He fanned two in the first inning.

You cannot beat this kind of flinging and of course the Oaks didn't. They simply walked hopelessly up to the plate, shut their eyes and took a swing at the ball. If they hit it, it generally landed in some fellow's hands.

This was the whole gahe for the Oaks, but the Vernons found it a lot different. After they had soused Knight for two doubles in the second, Kilroy took a chance in the third.

In this Carlisle started with a fly to right and Ross singled to left and stole second. Patterson fanned and when Brashear tried to make a home run the best he could do was a double high on the left fence that scored Ross. Stinson cracked the ball to left and Brash galloped to the plate and McDonnell followed this with another single, but was forced at second by Burrell.

HOGAN ALARMS FANS.

Hap Hogan began the third with an infield single that Hetling could not get and after Hap had stolen second, Castleton fanned. Carlisle banged a single through to center and Ross cracked one to right that scored both Hogan and Carlisle. Ross ran to second on the throw in and scored when Patterson dropped a Texas leaguer over Wares's head. Pat got to second on Brashear's infield out and scored when Stinson bounced a single over the pitcher's head. Kilroy thought it was raining and one would have to be a pretty bold man to have asked Wolverton what he thought.

Nothing more happened after that

MOKUDA, THE JAP, LIKE A LEAGUER.

WHITTIER BOYS MANAGED TO WIN THE GAME.

They Gained, However, a Deep Respect for the Little Brown Ball Players—Japanese Showed Marvelous Quickness As Infielders But Were Slow Base Runners.

BY RANDALL HENDERSON.

Whittier High School, 3; Japanese, 1.

Although the Washeda team haughtily declined to come south, we had a Japanese ball game anyhow, yesterday. The Whittier High School boys managed to nose out a victory, but they closed the game with a deep respect for the little Japs.

The most peculiar thing about the Japanese team was that it was not peculiar. Except for the slant in his eyes and the deep gutteral accent of his rooting, the Japanese player is as much like an American player as one pea is like another in the pod.

He even wears his cap at the same rakish angle, and grabs up handfuls of dust in the same way.

Mokuda, the 115-pound pitcher for the brown boys, has only been in this country three months, but he whirls his arm exactly like a leaguer, looks at the umpire with that same affected amazement at about every sixth ball that is called, and spits on his glove with identically the same regularity that marks the best professional that ever entered the box.

The Japanese boys batted fairly well, but invariably hit grounders. Not a single fly was knocked into the outfield during the entire game.

As base runners they do not class with American boys. Their legs move fast enough, but their stride is too short.

As fielders, they are as quick as lightning. Their professional twist gives the impression of even greater swiftness than the ball really attains.

They say the Washedas were handled by silent signals. These boys kept up a constant chatter of Japanese.

Manager Saisho, who is about the only member of the team who can speak English, was asked if they ever used silent signals. "Use silent signals?" he replied, "No, we no use silent signals. What good use silent signals? No one understand Japanese talk. Only use them in Japan. No good in this country."

Rose Is Sad.

FISH ARE SUFFOCATED IN FAMOUS TROUT STREAM.

THIS seems to be contempt of court.

Justice Harry Rose's trout have been smothered. It was a last year's storm, however, that did the Othello act.

"My favorite trout stream," said the judge yesterday, "is Deep Creek, one of the tributaries of the Mojave River. I was just getting ready to go out this season when I received word that the trout were nowhere to be seen. I understand that the heavy rains of last year brought down such immense quantities of mud and sand that the trout were literally smothered. They couldn't get air to breath."

Justice Rose is fishing later than usual this year. He explains:

"The rains have been so heavy and the streams so swollen that the trout have been feeding on the bottoms and the fishing has been rotten.

"It should be pretty good from now providing the weather does not turn too warm. A few very hot days would melt so much snow on the mountains that the trout streams would be badly swollen again and the fishing as poor as at present."

The judge expects to start the latter part of the week on a fishing trip. He believes that striped bass fishing should be good this year.

"These fish were originally brought to California from the Potomac. They did well in the North but did not appear to thrive in Southern California. They seem to be catching on now. I am in constant receipt of reports to the effect that the bass are doing finely in the streams where they have been planted around here."

Adams Makes Up Lost Time.

George P. Adams, who is the most famous duck hunter, is going back to his first love, which is trout fishing.

He will start this morning for one of the trout streams in the mountains back of San Bernardino.

"I am just as crazy over trout fishing as I am over duck hunting," he said yesterday, "but I find upon examination of the records that I have been on only two trout fishing trips in the last seventeen years.

"I am certain not getting my share of the fish. I expect to be away about four days. They tell me that the fishing ought to be pretty good from now on throughout the season."

Love's Labor's Lost.

HAP HOGAN IS ACE HIGH IN FINNEY'S AFFECTIONS.

"WHY have I got it in for Hap Hogan?" queried Umpire Finney.

"Not me, for I haven't. I don't hate him and never did, or any other ball player. As far as I am personally concerned I don't care if Vernon wins every game or loses every one and that goes for any team in the league. I get paid so much per month for umpiring and it makes no difference to me where I work.

"But I want to say that none of the players have any right to run over an umpire and try to show him up, when they are wrong more than half the time and know it. Nine-tenths of them think they are being robbed when they are called out on a close decision.

"I fined Hogan once up North. What did he call me? You mean, what didn't he call me. I hate to fine players because it means taking their money away from them, but what can an umpire do? I hate to put them out of the game, too.

"As a matter of fact, if I put too many of them out I'm liable to be put out myself," and the little ump smiled very knowingly at this. "No umpire can see everything and they are just as liable to make mistakes as a player is, for we are all human. Do you ever see me run up to a player and call him everything I can think of when he makes an error? And yet the men do that to umpires when they think we make a mistake.

"I don't hate any of the boys for there is no reason why I should. Ginger is a good thing in every game but the trouble is that some of the players carry things too far. That's why they get into trouble with the umpires."

Umpire Ed Finney, against whom Happy Hogan and his Hooligans have sworn the Omerta.

Same Old Talk.

POWERS OF DANVILLE FAVORS NEW LEAGUE.

"I BELIEVE that there will be a third great league formed during the next year or so. There is room for it and a demand for it in many cities," said John F. Powers, Jr., of Chicago, owner of the Danville, Ill., baseball team, who is spending the winter and spring at the Hollywood hotel.

"Comisky of the Chicago Americans and Murphy of the Chicago Nationals have each acquired wealth during the last five years. I dare say that each one could be rated in the millionaire class and the mark not be greatly missed. They made it all in baseball in Chicago.

"I have heard prominent business and baseball men speak of a third big league, and I firmly believe that it will become a fact shortly. New teams would prosper in New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh. All are good baseball towns, and none get enough to satisfy them.

"Then again, there is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the minor leagues in the treatment they receive from the National and American leagues. They appreciate that as far as the individual baseball player is concerned the system of drafting is a good one, but it leaves them absolutely at the mercy of the big leagues. The minors secure a good player, and about the time they have rounded him into good playing form he is drafted by the big leagues.

"I am not prepared to say that this should be stopped, as I think that on the whole it helps baseball, but the owners of the minor league teams must be considered. Especially the Class A leagues, to which the Pacific Coast League belongs. These organizations gain absolutely nothing from the big leagues, and are absolutely at their mercy in the way of good players. There is a tendency to become outlaws among many of them. At present

Dingley Misses Curve a Dashes Into Brush.

Cole Favorite in Small C Event at Redlands.

Fiat the Choice in Mile H Free-for-All.

REDLANDS, April 19.—[Exclu Dispatch.] Bert Dingley in the P Hartford almost wrecked his fast on the mile-high course today.

While making seventy-five miles hour up the stretch that leads to C Blanca, in Yucaipa Valley, he forg slight turn just over a raise in road and dashed straight ahead, pl ing up the brush at the side of the r as the Pope almost turned turtle.

The tire on the right rear wheel to pieces when he struck and ha not been for superior handling of car it would now be a total wr Dingley is chosen by the wise one win the race and to shatter last ye record of the Apperson by at least minutes.

The Cole, Stearns and National rived this afternoon and are do great work in the trials. The Natio is fast and has been moving close eighty miles on the stretches.

The small-car race promises to l close finish with the Buick, Stea Cutting, Schacht, Cole and E.M.F. doing about the same time in try-o The Cole is the favorite, with Stearns a close second choice.

The big-car race will have the P National and Fiat. The Fiat is favorite in the big speed event, tho the National seems as good on hills, but the man at the wheel not shown the skill required so far, though he may improve.

Much money is being wagered on race, especially as to time. One of $250 was made that the time w be under twenty minutes. Work the road is going on each day, so by Friday at 1:30 o'clock, when Buick leads out, the course should better than ever before.

Up to date, seventeen motorcy have been entered in the race to C Blanca, and from the trials last ye time should be lowered one and half minutes.

The record for the mile-high climb course is now held by the person Jackrabbit, which was dri by Harris Hanshue. This speedy cut all existing records in the cl last year. If any other car cuts Apperson's mark the fast machine be seen in the climb next year. Apperson will probably have a cha to start next year.

One of the handsomest trophies fered for the series of events is Chansior & Lyon trophy. This has been put up by the Los Ang accessory firm for the car making best time in the stock events. Chansior will be on hand to w the motor win his trophy.

Excitement is already running h in anticipation of the great mile-h hill climb to be pulled off here on day by some of the most promin drivers in the country, driving t favorite cars. The course is from corner of Brookside and Eureka str to Oak Glen, at the upper end of calpa Valley, a distance of eight miles over a road of steep gra sharp curves and other features w make it one of the sportiest cou in the country.

All day today the course has b kept clear and has been well patr to give the drivers and riders an portunity to try out their cars motorcycles.

The course will be kept free for racers tomorrow and from now u after the events on Friday aftern the garages will be the busiest pl in town, and greasy, goggle-eyed d ers will be the idols of the hour.

LUCK TURNS FOR ANGELS.

Murray's Wild Heave Starts Trouble for Beavers.

Fullerton and Friene Yanked Out of the Box.

Henderson Pitches for First Time in Years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, April 19.—[Exclusive dispatch.] Six straight victories proved too much good fortune for the Beavers and Los Angeles got away with the long end of a 7 to 4 score. Fullerton, McCredie's midget, twirled, started the game for the Beavers and went through the first canto in a gallop. In the second, however, he developed a streak of wildness and piled up the bases by passing Daley, Delmas and Stadelle with one man out.

In this precarious situation Fred Abbott, the Angel backstop, hit sharply to Sheehan, who retired Daley at the plate, and Murray, in his effort to double the batter at first, soaked the runner in the shoulder, and before the ball could be retrieved by Chadbourne, Delmas and Stadelle had registered.

In the fifth the Beavers tied up the score, when Charley Friene also developed a wild streak. Rodgers, after scoring, scored on a passed ball, and Murray, who was hit by the pitcher, tallied on errors by Metzger and Abbott.

The Angels opened the sixth with Dillon up and he laced one to right center for two cushions. Delmas scored, but Fullerton walked Stadelle. Abbott singled, scoring Dillon, and McCredie flagged Fullerton and sent in Henderson for his first essay on Portland lot since 1906.

One man was out and two were on bases, with Pitcher Friene up. He wanted to Henderson, who made the proper play, all right, but his throw carried wide of Tommy Sheehan, and both Stadelle and Abbott scored on the wild heave. Akin popped to Rodgers and Metzgar fanned, but Los Angeles had scored three more runs, giving them a total of five.

In Portland's half, the Beavers scored two more by timely hitting and that was all for Portland. Dillon sent Friene to the cooler and substituted Akin, who held the Beavers safe. The Angels scored a run in the eighth and another in the ninth on a single, a passed ball by Murray, and a fielder's choice on the squeeze play by Metzger and Daley.

HOLDS DOWN SENATORS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—San Francisco avenged yesterday's defeat today by blanking Sacramento in one of the snappiest exhibitions of baseball the Seals have yet given. The score was 6 to 0.

Henley pitched a four-hit game and was well supported by fast fielding. The Seals landed heavily on the Senators' pitchers, totaling twelve hits.

STANFORD IS WINNER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PALO ALTO (Cal.) April 19.—The Waseda University baseball team of Tokio, Japan, was badly worsted in its first encounter with American players, being beaten by Stanford University by a score of 11 to 2, here today.

The Orientals proved to be clever at fielding and base stealing, but poor at throwing and batting. Stanford men found Pitcher Omura easy picking, making fourteen hits.

The Japanese showed the effects of thorough coaching, exhibiting a knowledge of the fine points of the game in bunting and sacrificing, and finished with but one error chalked up against them.

They were highly commended by the American players for their sportsmanlike conduct. Score:

CRICKET NOTES.

A special meeting of the Santa Monica Cricket Club has been called for Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at No. 201 Higgins building.

The present members of the Santa Monica Cricket Club do not feel that they have any claim upon them to pay up the back debts of the club, which were not contracted by any of the present members. At this meeting it will be definitely decided whether the name of the club will be changed and if any portion of the debt will be taken over by the newly re-organized club.

In the event of the club refusing to take over the bad debts, a ground will be located in this city for practice and matches. The majority of the members favor a pitch being laid down at some convenient locality near the city limits.

At Balboa Park, San Diego, yesterday afternoon, the Crescent City Cricket Club beat an eleven from the British warship Shearwater by sixty-seven runs.

The sailors collapsed in the first innings and could do nothing with the deliveries of Corkill and Gautteron. The former took four wickets for three runs, the latter four for six runs. The whole side was dismissed in twenty minutes for the meager total of eleven runs.

San Diego replied with sixty-nine runs for four wickets, at which point they declared. In a minority of fifty-eight runs the sailors went in again to face Page, King and Pennington. They fared disastrously at first. It was only when Butcher and Plaie became partners that anything like a stand was made. With their dismissal the balance of the team were soon disposed of.

PLATT AND MEIERS ESTABLISH NEW STATE BOWLING RECORD.

CHARLEY PLATT and "Doc" Meiers of Pasadena hung up a new State bowling record last Sunday afternoon on the Cosmopolitan alleys in the Southern California all-day tournament. Their record will probably stand for many a day.

In shooting off the doubles' tie against Taylor and Ballard, these two bowlers rolled a total of 486 in their last game, each man knocking down 243 pins. The finish of this match was the most sensational ever witnessed in the West. In the fifth frame of their third and deciding game Platt and Meiers were eighty pins behind, and their chances looked hopeless. Not to be daunted they went to work with a vengeance, striking out from this point, each bowler making seven straight strikes.

This is not the first time that Platt has distinguished himself in the bowling world. He was a member of the crack Los Angeles team which won the $1500 prize and championship in the recent Spokane meet of the Western Bowling Congress, and had the honor of shooting high single game for the Los Angeles boys. Last year he won high individual prize in the Interurban League, averaging 185 for fifty-four games. In the present class A tournament he leads his team-mates and is close to the top of the league percentage column. Platt shoots a cross-alley ball with a slight reverse, is a newcomer to California, but an old-timer at the tenpin game, having participated in four national bowling tournaments. He came from Sioux City, Iowa, and was a member of that State's champion five and three-man teams. Last year he added to his already long list of laurels by winning the individual Iowa State championship. In the Interurban League tournament, which closed last week, he finished second among the individuals with the excellent average of 183 and a fraction for forty-eight games. Meiers shoots almost a center-alley ball which takes a small reverse as it nears the head pin.

Take Your Choice.

BOTH FIGHTERS BIG FAVORITES.

Cleveland Fans Believe Their Boy Can't Be Beaten.

Will Wager Bale of Greenbacks on Ohio Lad.

Rivers Realizes He Is Up Against Tough One.

BY J. ALEX SLOAN.

Johnny Kilbane, the Cleveland lad, who is scheduled to fight Joe Rivers at Vernon on May 5, in the feather-weight elimination race, is a greater favorite in his home city than the Mexican is here, despite the wonderful confidence that the local fight followers have in little Joe to make good.

The Buckeye ring fans believe that no one can defeat Kilbane and they have a lot of respect in Ohio for Abe Attell, who won a decision over the "Cleveland" pet at Kansas City some time ago. The excuse is offered that Attell was favored by the referee, because he is champion.

Kilbane is unquestionably one of the cleverest boxers the game has ever brought forth, but he is said to lack the punch that Rivers has in either mit. But the Cleveland fight followers don't believe all they hear about wonderful little Joe and to show that they are sure of victory, they are going to send a bale of greenbacks across the continent to wager against a pile of California gold.

"Jim" McGlade, one of the best known sports in the country and a great friend of Barney Oldfield, the auto king, is one of Kilbane's chief backers, and he will bet his last nickel on the Cleveiander against any man in the world and Jim is regarded as a wealthy man.

Looking at the coming contest from the fighters' standpoint it seems unfortunate that the two boys should be brought together at this stage of their careers. Both have bright futures and one will have to go down to defeat in all probability as they will fight like of couple of wildcats while the fighting lasts.

Kilbane's record to date is almost an unbroken chain of victories, and Rivers has never lost a battle. Neither boy has yet cleaned up all the opponents in the featherweight circle, and to bring them together is taking a short cut to the title holder.

Rivers has not had as much experience as Kilbane, but in the fights he has had, his work has outshone the victories of the Cleveland lad.

It is hard to say who will rule the favorite in the betting at this early date, but it is a cinch that Kilbane will be well backed by eastern money.

Rivers realizes what he is pu against in the coming bout and yesterday made arrangements to increase his sparring partners to three regulars instead of two, besides others who will go on with him on special occasions. Kid Monger, Mike Fusco and Len Lauder will join the Mexican's camp Saturday and remain with him until the day of the battle. Joe Levy and Johnny Lewis will direct Joe's work.

Kilbane will arrive in the city Saturday and start to work immediately at Jack Doyle's quarters at Vernon.

BERT COY JOINS OAKLAND TEAM.

Bert Coy, the Vernon outfielder and pitcher who was released by Hap Hogan several days ago, was signed yesterday evening by Harry Wolverton of the Oakland team and may be played in his old place in today's game. Wolverton thinks Coy is a real ball player and a good hitter.

This does not mean that Right-fielder Bowser will be released. He will be kept on the team in hopes that he will "come back" as a hitter.

VERNON-OAKLAND GAME.

except McDonnell's and Sheehan's singles in the fifth and Sheehan's double and Castleton's single in the eighth. These pokes were not needed, but they helped to swell Vernons' total to six-teen hits. It wasn't what they call a bat fest. It was more like murder.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

Brashear tried to knock a home run in the third, but the best he could do was to get a double high on the left field fence near the score board. He made the same attempt in the third but his long fly was caught by Maggert near the center fence.

The fans who thought Hogan had a weak hitting team should have been at the game yesterday and seen it pole out sixteen swats. The boys seemed to be able to hit anything. Burrell was the only one who could not land on the ball.

Sheehan doubled in the eighth and ran to third on Castleton's drive to center. This made Steamboat bold and when he sneaked off third base a moment later he was thrown out by Mitze, the big fellow being too fat to get back to the bag in time.

Coy worked out with the Oaks in practice before the game and it may be possible that he will get a trial. He is a good fielder and a fair hitter and Wolverton might do a lot worse for he can get Coy for nothing, as he is a free agent, having been unconditionally released by Hogan.

Pfyl's hit that opened the second inning for the Oaks was a lucky scratch. It was a sharply hit ball that bounced high in the air, and was up long enough for Pfyl to beat it to first.

Raleigh was chased from the coaching line at first base in the fifth inning. Burrell was thrown out at first and when Finney said so Raleigh yelled so much that the ump tossed him on the bench. Raleigh showed his first pepper of the season.

McDonnell hit the first ball pitched to him in the third for a double through Hetling's lega. This bird found Kilroy easy.

Patterson was cheered as he went to the bat in the first inning and some fan gave him a bouquet.

Hogan made an infield hit to Hetling in the fourth inning and broke all existing records for the Hogan family in his run to first base. He paralyzed the community when he followed this with a steal to second. Mitze was so much surprised to see Hap attempt to steal a base that he did not throw the ball down in time. Wouldn't any catcher be nervous if such a thing was tried?

Finney had to jump high in the air in the fourth to avoid Carlisle's hard grounder that went between the ump's legs.

Sheehan made a long running catch of Hoffman's foul in front of the Vernon bench in the sixth inning and got the glad hand.

After Bowser allowed Sheehan's hit to left to get away from him, Wolverton changed Bow to right field and switched his other outfielders. This looks bad for Bowser, for a hook is sometimes pretty close when men are switched in the outfield.

In the eighth Patterson tried to get Maggert's foul near the grand stand, but slipped in the mud and fell, bumping his shoulder on the boards. He resumed play at once, however.

RUBBER TRUST.

It is the general understanding that there is a syndicate in Brazil which is gathering up Para rubber with the intention of forcing the price of crude back up again to a high point. An authority on the crude rubber market says he believes that if this syndicate continues its operations the demand for Para rubber will lessen to such an extent that permanently lower prices are inevitable.

Al Kaufman, the ponderous heavyweight who has been backing the footlights off the stage for several weeks at the rate of $1000 per week, as the "whitest hope' of all the "white hopes," declares he is anxious to meet any of the much-touted future greats and goes a step further by signing articles to meet Jim Flynn, the Colorado flame shooter for a ten-round Alphonse-and-Gaston rehearsal at Kansas City.

Kaufman and Flynn have met before and they were great in every angle of the fighting game but speed and science. Both declare that they have improved wonderfully and especially Kaufman, who insisted on showing the Kansas City fans the past week that his long rest from ring fire had resulted in his acquiring much fastness.

It has been several months since Kaufman appeared before an audience—in a ring. His specialty is telling the burlesque theater audiences how he will some day put it all over Jack Johnson. And give the devil his due, big Al is about the toughest-looking object on the fight horizon this side of the dark clouds.

In the East last fall Kaufman looked so good to a bunch of Yiddish theatrical promoters that they signed him up to a contract to do and say as they directed for two years at the rate of $25,000 per annum. And Al has been going along fairly well in the show harness, although he felt that he ought to be mixing it up more often in the ring if he ever expected to upset John Arthur Johnson off the heavyweight throne.

Flynn will serve as a fine trial horse for big Al, and if he has gained in speed at all he will show it better against the Pueblo fireman than any other man. Flynn never took any prizes for scaling a burning wall faster than his co-workers, but he is a good tough mixer who keeps boring in all the time and Kaufman will be able to show just what he has accomplished since he became a stage fighter.

The date set for the Flynn-Kaufman contact is May 5, and the winner will endeavor to stir up some fighting blood down in Sapulpa, where big Carl Morris, the Oklahoma engineer, is resting and reading that part of John L. Sullivan's biography which tells how to win the championship.

A ten-round match between Morris and Kaufman in Kansas City would draw a crowd equal to the gate of most any of the former world's championship battles. And my, how the Oklahoma farmers and railroad men and fight fans would swarm into Kawville to pay any old price for a seat.

WHERE WE GET OFF.

Al Kaufman, the ponderous heavyweight who has been backing the footlights off the stage for several weeks at the rate of $1000 per week, as the "whitest hope' of all the "white hopes," declares he is anxious to meet any of the much-touted future greats and goes a step further by signing articles to meet Jim Flynn, the Colorado flame shooter for a ten-round-Alphonse-and-Gaston rehearsal at Kansas City.

Let us hope that the desire to collect the dough will offset the fear down Oklahoma way and that the fight will be arranged.

The New York fight followers are clamoring for a peep at the crop of heavyweights and especially the "white hopes." The little fellows have been so busy collecting the coin and shooing the big fellows into the background that the season almost got by without any of the large men getting a chance. But to try the change out the National Sporting Club has arranged to stage a battle this evening between Al Kubiak, the Michigan heavyweight, and Joe Jeanette, the dusky trial horse, who helped to make Jack Johnson a champion. Should the fans fail for the big men an effort will be made to sign Al Kaufman and some other big fellow for next week. Kubiak and Jeanette are both out of the running as opponents for Jack Johnson, but they will serve as a test. Should Jeanette win, and there is no good reason why he shouldn't, then the "Boston Tar Baby," Sam Langford, will be pitted against him in all probability. Anyway, New York is bound to see a change in the class of entertainment before the spring bouts are ended.

Johnny Thompson, poultry expert and sometimes called the Sycamore cyclone is deadly in earnest over the proposed match with Hugo Kelley. Before Johnny would agree to mingle with the Windy City Dago he had to have 3000 cart wheels safely stored away in a Chicago bank as a guarantee with the privilege of taking a percentage if the house looked unusually good. After sewing things up this way the Chicago fight critics looked for Thompson to laugh his way into condition as few believed he was seriously inclined as a middleweight champion. But Johnny never was more ambitious in his life and feels sure that he can win over Kelley if he is in shape. He has secured the services of two of the best sparring partners that can be had around Chicago and taken them down to Sycamore, Ill., where he started his training at once.

The Racine promoters who gave Thompson the guarantee to fight Kelley are not such a bunch of "boobs" as they were "doped" to be when the match was made. If Thompson shows his good intention and displays a lot of interest in his training the bout will draw a big house.

Packey McFarland piled up a little more popularity in New York when he gave Tommy Murphy a severe ten round drubbing. Before the fight the Gotham ring followers were licking their chops in anticipation of a real contest but when the affair was over the record congregation were a disappointed lot. So much enthusiasm had been worked up over the battle that the promoters of the Wolgast-"One-Round" Hogan entertainment decided to postpone their show until next Wednesday night. When the two boys met before, one of the best limited round battles seen in the East in a long time, was witnessed. Naturally everyone looked forward to a better contest this time. But either McFarland has improved a lot or Murphy has gone back a lot. Packey won every step of the way and hit and landed where he pleased on the anatomy of T. Murphy.

Abe Attell, disabled featherweight champion, who has always shied at the footlights, has accepted a stage offer and says that it is not so bad when one's shoulder prevents him from doing the "legit." The only way to keep Abe from collecting is to put him in a hospital or where Johnson is passing the time.

Here's one from a Chicago paper.

"What a difference a few months make in things pugilistic. Jamie Jeffries blew into town the other day and there were no brass bands and he didn't turn the Masonic Temple around with his arrival. But before Jack did it, oh, what a furore he would have caused."

The same paper might have added that Jamie was on his way to Europe to enjoy a little outing and that he didn't care a whole lot about the Windy City or what they did there.

Sporting Comment

No Danger Here.

The sad rumor that Kaufman and Delaney are to split cannot be believed. If you can imagine Billy Delaney throwing away his meal ticket without having a better one in sight you've got finer a lot of brains to dress with than I have. Some of them think I haven't any.

Practice Needed.

Judging from the fact that there are about a thousand bullets fired in every war for every man killed, it is not an unwise thing for the soldiers to practice shooting at things. Whenever a man can hit a barn at 200 yards he should be considered a pretty fair soldier.

Moss Thinks Coming.

If Manager Wolverton of the Oakland Club thinks he has a pretty fair team that may win the pennant, he has one or two thinks coming that he has not called for. These will probably be there when he goes after them. There are a lot of thoughts in this round world that make us laugh, and Wolverton is probably entitled to his share of that kind.

Various Agreements.

The fact that Cyclone Thompson and Hugo Kelly have agreed to have special gloves made for their special bout, whenever it can be held, leads one to the belief that they have some kind of a special agreement to hit each other in certain places. They should knock each other's hands off so they can't sign to fight any more.

Chin Wagging Time.

The fact that Sarah Bernhardt gets but $1200 a night here for being the greatest actress that ever lived, while Ad Wolgast, an insignificant pug, received more than $8000 for a half hour's work, does not necessarily prove that there is more money in being strong in the back instead of in the head. It merely demonstrates that all young ladies who are studying acting should cut out their ambitions, go home and learn to be prize fighters. All of us can't be Jim Jeffries, but if we were we could get more money for being punched in the nose once by Jack Johnson than for being President of the United States for four years. If I had my life to live over again and worshiped money as nine-tenths of the people do, I'd rather be a Jack Johnson than a Lord Macaulay.

Smart After All.

If "the bunch" up in San Francisco has really appointed a programme seller as a substitute umpire for the Coast League, it was probably done for the purpose of having the fellow killed off some day by a pop bottle. There are lots of ways of getting rid of persons you are tired of having stick around.

Never Started.

If Pitcher Knight of the Oakland team is just "cantering" he should slow up to a walk. It looks to me more like he had never started.

RAIN AT PENSACOLA.

PENSACOLA (Fla.) April 19.—Wet weather was responsible for a postponement of today's races at Kupfrian Park. The card was declared off and new entries will be run tomorrow.

Polls Are Open.

MUST LIMIT ENTRY LIST.

Strict Rules of A.A.A. Task for Officials.

Pathfinder and Pacemaker to Have Work Cut Out.

Touring Cars, Roadsters, Coupes and Toy-tonneaus.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

"I must urge you to limit your tour to thirty cars. It is absolutely necessary that you start with a limited number of entries if you desire to have a successful tour. The Times Tour to Lakeside will be one of the greatest automobile reliability contests ever held in Southern California if it is planned as you have promised it would be. The A.A.A. rules are strict. There is much to look after. Keep the entry list down."

The above statement from Walter Hempel gives the idea of the prominent manager, who has handled more automobile tours than any other man in Southern California. Hempel places the number at thirty. This is an easy number to secure. The manager of the Lakeside Inn has just resigned the management of the Motordrome. He expects to pull off several big race meets on the two-mile speedway at Lakeside.

With the entry list limited to thirty cars, the non-contestants will have a chance to swell the ranks to possibly the forty mark. The officials are a unit in desiring a limited entry list and The Times management is forced to agree when the experienced autoists express their desires so forcibly.

Following is a list of the motor cars entered in The Times Tour to Lakeside to date. The cars will be started in the order named:

Cadillac, entered by Don Lee, driver, George Adair. Pilot car.

Stoddard-Dayton, entered by Atty. Edward G. Kuster, representative of the Contest Board of the Automobile Association of America.

Pierce-Arrow, W. E. Bush, technical committeeman of the A.A.A. Pacemaker.

National touring car, National Motor Car Company, driver, Robert Stanton.

Reo touring car, Leon T. Shettler, driver, Bill Curtiss.

Halladay touring car, Halladay Motor Car Company, driver, Warren Vance.

Overland touring car, Renton Motor Car Company, driver, P. A. Renton.

Mercer touring car, Thomas-Mercer Motor Company, driver, F. W. Force.

White touring car, McCarty-Parke Auto Company, driver, O. K. Parker.

Warren-Detroit touring car, California Automobile Company, driver, Volney S. Beardsley.

Ford, Mrs. Sydney Lee Grover, driver, Mrs. Grover.

Mercer roadster, Clyde Welsh, driver, Clyde Welsh.

E.M.F. touring car, Lord Motor Car Company, driver, Harry Lord.

Autocar, tourer, M. S. Bulkley, driver, M. S. Bulkley.

Kissel Kar, tourer, entered by Kissel Motor Company, driver, Clyde Leppo.

Flanders, entered by the Lord Motor Car Company, driver, Herbert Adams.

This afternoon the polls will be opened again from 1 o'clock until 3 o'clock, and the automobile editor will have the blanks ready for those who desire to sign and deposit the entrance fee.

CHESS NOTES.

H. M. Angell, the checcker expert, has played during his ten days in the city 230 games against all comers, with a loss of only thirteen, and sixty-five drawn. This leaves him a handsome credit score of 152 games won outright. Angell leaves next Sunday for his home in San Francisco, continuing in the meantime his offhand play at the rooms of the Chess and Checker Club of Southern California, in the Higgins building.

Appended is the tally of individual totals:

Angell 7, Kincade 0, drawn 1; Angell 17, McCallum 3, drawn 10; Angell 12, Porter 0, drawn 1; Angell 3, Wellington 0, drawn 1; Angell 2, Bird 0, drawn 1; Angell 30, Wigney 4, drawn 11; Angell 14, Hoag 1, drawn 2; Angell 7, Cardell 2, drawn 7; Angell 6, Briggs 0, drawn 5; Angell 11, Stevens 1; drawn 12; Angell 6, Weaver 0, drawn 2; Angell 9, Lannigan 0, drawn 1; Angell 23, Mackie 2, drawn 9; Angell 1, Scott 0, drawn 1; Angell 4, Browne 0, drawn 1.

Angell 152, others 13, drawn 65. Total games, 230.

Volney S. Beardsley is taking a ride with the Warren-Detroit "Wolverine" up the inland route to Bakersfield and Fresno. He will return on Monday.

How about that Jobbers' Association? Ask Waller Chanslor. He knows and will tell you just what the organization proposes to carry out.

You can make an early start and get to Redlands Friday morning in plenty of time for the automobile hill climb. The entry list is a good one.

The automobile dealers will give a banquet. Where? Why at the Alexandria, and it is to be a great one. Already Fred Pabst, who, by the way, has been named "Jouquin Miller No. 2," is preparing several poems. He says L. T. has no right to claim the honors as poet "lariat."

George Adair will handle the Cadillac on The Times Tour to Lakeside. He knows the way, knows every turn and has the route by heart. He is just the man, and perhaps he will finish with a perfect score.

How about the National in the Redlands hill climb? It's Stanton's first race. Perhaps he is a comer and perhaps he will win. How have you doped the race? Looks good to me.

O. K. Parker is planning some kind of a jolly-up for the boys who are his best friends. If you want to meet a live one look up O. K. He is the real goods when you are talking about mixers. He knows just how.

How about that Baldy race? Next please. Just wait until the Redlands hill climb is over. Who said the racing game is dead? You've got another think coming. Can't remember a year when the cars were moving so fast over race courses all over Southern California.

Ask Volney S. Beardsley what he thinks of the racing game. There is a real sport. He says he has sold more cars since the twenty-four-hour race than during any like period previous to the big world record breaking event. The Warren-Detroits are the real goods.

Don Lee is in San Francisco again. He has the flitting habit. Now he's here and now he's there. What was the use of his entering the hill climb. He has beaten the Cole and that is the car he would have met at Redlands. Once is enough.

F. O. Nelson was out to that fire on Fifty-fifth street Tuesday night. For once in his life he walked. F. O. is getting real desperate. Perhaps he was trying to save his Diamond tires.

Doc Green has six more Cadillacs to sell. The 1911 vintage, I mean. That is all he has left. Going some? Well, I guess he is there with bells, and they are ringing every day.

Harry Mason is going to Redlands. Of course he is after tire business, but he is going also on a pleasure jaunt. How will he go? Perhaps he will consent to ride with Joe Ollier in an E.M.F.

Wonderful Runner.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOSTON, April 19.—Husbanding his reserve power for a speedy finish, Clarence F. de Mar of the North Dorchester, Mass., Athletic Association, won the Boston Athletic Association's fifteenth Marathon race today and established a new record of 2h., 21m., 39 3-5s. for the twenty-five miles. The previous record, 2h., 24m., 24s., was made by Tom Longboat four years ago.

F. J. Madden, of South Boston, was second, only missing getting inside the record through an accident; Ed Fobere of Montreal was third, and Robert J. Fowler of Cambridge, fourth.

Although he is but 21 years old, De Mar is an old hand at long distance running. He finished second in the Marathon a year ago, and in the same position in the race to Brockton last fall. He has won several first prizes at shorter distances.

The weather was ideal, the roads perfect and the runners in splendid trim. More than 200,000 people lined the course. Two miles from the finish Madden, running strongly, after De Mar, was knocked into the gutter by a motor car, spoiling his chances of record breaking.

De Mar and James J. Corkery of Toronto were the favorites in the field of 143 entrants.

Thirty-six runners finished inside of three hours. The times of the first four runners follow:

Clarence de Mar, North Dorchester, 2h., 21m., 39 3-5s.

F. J. Madden, South Boston, 2h., 24m., 31s.

Ed Fobore, Montreal, 2h., 29m., 22 1-5s.

Robert J. Fowler, Cambridge, 2h., 29m., 31s.

GRAMMAR MEET.

Southern California Championship for Lower Grades to Be Decided in Meet at Venice Saturday.

Grammar-school athletes from all over Southern California are to gather on the Venice school cinder path on Saturday to compete in a championship track meet which is to be conducted by the Ocean Park grammar school.

The events will include every distance from the 50 to 880-yard run. Also the jumps, shot put and relay race. James Donahue is to referee the tournament. Already a large number of entries have been received and the meet promises to be a fast one.

In the evening the grammar-schcool swimming championships are to be held in the Venice plunge.

Joe Rivers is putting in his time laying a foundation for his siege of training which will begin in earnest Saturday. Little Joe proposes to overlook no bets in preparing for Johnny Kilbane and in order that the weight question will not bother him he is going to drop below the required figure and then build up for the bout.

...By and by the door opened; there ...as a shimmer of draperies—and—...o know how she looks when she ...eats in, in the first act of Camille. ...She just frou-froued in among us, ...and stood like a vision from a Burne...nes dream of a figure in a stained-...ass window—swayed toward us in ...that lily-like way of hers. And—...I think a person is immortal, or has ...something divine the matter with them, that can wear a kimono the way The Bernhardt can, and you never know what it's made of, any more than you do the draperies on the figures in the stained-glass windows!

The Real Thing rose and put his hand on his heart. The rest of us merely rose, only he essayed the hand and heart business. She just bowed in the way we call gracious when we like a person and believe in his greatness—otherwise we call it condescending. A flicker of a smile lighted her face for a moment, she swayed toward one, two, of us, in turn. We watched her like little animals waiting for a hand-out. Positively, I nearly remarked "bow-wow" when the inspired glance rested on me for a second, and I saw the little lady from the weekly paper distinctly wag the tail of her hobble gown!

CHARIOT OF FIRE?

Is she ever off the stage? No, say those who know her best. Won't she die on the stage, one wonders. Hold! Won't she, in one of her inspired death scenes, with a due sense of the fitness of things, just take a real potion, or hold a real asp to her breast? Though I have it to record sadly, that the last time I saw her as Camille she committed the anachronism of dying in a Morris chair!

But one can never tell. There are all a woman's wiles in her eyes—the wisdom of them from the witchery of the Serpent of the Nile to Camille, all the love and the hate and the passion and the sweetness, in their flickering shadows.

"My theory," she turned to the Real Thing, "is if you play parts long enough, and do nothing but think about them and dream about them and study them, by and by you are a reincarnation of those parts—you aren't you any longer—and you can be any one of them at your own spirit's command!"

Ah, I believe I have it now, that secret of hers. Listen. She passes so quickly from one mood to another, that you see the mood, but never the woman! Never for a moment is she still. You see the fire of passionate womanhood, the light mood of the child, the harsh mood of the tired woman, the hateful mood of the petulant young girl, the loving mood of the mother—but never, never the woman herself. Wouldn't it be fatal to her fascination if one did? It all seems so spontaneous. But aren't some of those impulses made to order? One fancies a crafty light, sometimes, in those wonderful green-brown-violet eyes, emitting all the passion of concentrated womanhood.

TRANSFORMATION SCENE.

Enter the photographer.

"Wait one moment," she says sweetly at last, transformed in a moment from a laughing child to a graceful woman. "And I find my lovely pose!" And she droops toward the carnations, as she does toward the camelias in Camille.

"How do you keep so young," some one asks, "work, interest, cosmetics?"

"Oh," she answers with upturned eyes, in which, do I behold a mischievous light, "'tis God!"

H-m-m, one murmurs. The cosmetics are palpable. But let it pass. 'Tis an easy way to keep from dissecting one's beauty, which is an artistic and merciful thing to do, anyhow. Anyway, isn't it true? The cosmetics don't do it. One moment she looks forty, as she gasps she is so weary; next moment she electrifies you with some charming gesture of youth, some fleeting expression of face, some tone of a gloriously young voice—and she's young. Yes, you know she's young!

The room is a mass of flowers. She surrounds herself with mystery, with silken draperies, with mirrors. There is in the flame of her glance that which hypnotizes. Or is it the hypnotism of her fame? One does not know. But when she behaves like a child, and won't have her picture taken, and runs laughing capriciously to the corner and turns her back, you believe she's a child. And when she's a tender, cooing woman, and kisses you on the ear, you believe she's that; and when she's a tigress, throwing the photographers out, you know she's that, too.

There are those whom it is life to talk to. Sarah Bernhardt is one of these.

"Do American audiences have a different effect on you from French ones—are they as inspiring?"

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH.

"Yes; more so, but in a different way. We are so critical. And you—you are so—so young! One does not see the persons blase, ennui, that we have. You inspire me, yes. I feel younger in America than anywhere. Your air is refreshing, and you have ze big-g-g stretches of country wizout people breathing the air all up. And you all have belief in everything. It is not so—alas!—wiz us!"

"And is it to be able to do one sort of part well, to be able to do all well?"

"Oh, oui, oui! If you can laugh, you can cry—is it not?"

And then the youth who had found her pet spaniel, which had been lost from the car, that morning, came in, and she made him sit on her lap, like the tumultuous, volatile, imperative Sarah she is!

"Do young girls besiege you in France, as they do actresses here, to know how to become a great actress?"

No; it seems French girls are nicely behaved, and have the right kind of schools, and don't besiege actresses—it's one of the things they "do better over there."

She is radiant as she talks about art and technique. Beautiful, too, yes, beautiful. She doesn't look like a preserved peach over at the Chamber of Commerce, as does the fair Lillian R., nor has she withered beauty, like that of a faded rose petal, that characterized the latter days of Modjeska. When she's old, she's flatly old—but, ah, that's not often! Every moment she coquettes with life. One moment she is a child, and laughs and throws a flower at you; next she's the intellectual, dignified woman, and next the coquetting girl, laughing across the flowers—those flowers she cannot "stand wizout."

There is the lunch table standing so long untouched while she talks to us, for there's store of good humor beneath her capriciousness. She grows weary; there's a petulant light in her eyes—the tigress look. She toys with a fork, which we feel she would be quite capable of throwing at our heads, and we depart.

SINGLE-CYLINDER TRUCKS.

Car Makes Run to Channel City and Santa Barbara Motorists Look It Over.

The recent trip made by O. Fitch from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara in a Reo truck has attracted considerable attention in the Channel City, two of these popular models having been sold last week.

The Reo truck has a 1500-pound capacity and is suitable for either light or heavy work. It is the ideal automobile for delivery service and can also be used by ranchers for carrying hay, grain and other farm supplies. It has the famous Reo one-cylinder motor which develops twelve horse power. The wheels are large with solid tires. A special study has been made of the spring suspension with the result that the truck rides over rough roads very easily and this will do much to prolong the life of the wagon.

STRICT RULES FOR ATHLETES.

U.S.C. RUNNERS MUST CUT SOCIETY IN FUTURE.

Leonard Martin, the New Varsity Track Captain Is to Encourage Summer Training and Strict Regulations Next Year—Coach Cromwell Willing But Skeptical.

U.S.C. track men who break training by going to the theaters or midnight social functions or are guilty of eating ice cream during season are to be suspended from the squad in the future. At least this is the standard that Leonard Martin, the speedy varsity sprinter who was elected captain for next year, said that he would like to see established.

"Len" acknowledges that it is a lot easier said than done and that unless the university student body stands back of him it can not be enforced. He wants a much higher standard of training rules to be in force during his captaincy and even the athletes agree with him that such a state would result in faster track men.

In referring to a set of training rules of this strict nature Coach Cromwell said that he would be heartily in sympathy with them but that in a city they are difficult to enforce. The athletes are so scattered that it is out of the question to keep a line on them. The most that can be done is to make the rules and encourage the runners to follow them. Whether willing to do this is largely a personal matter and depends upon the individual.

Another important feature that Martin expects to encourage among the athletes is the summer and fall training. All runners who expect to go out for the team next year are to be asked to sign up for light summer training. This can be carried on at the ranch or the resort or wherever the athlete may be spending his vacation.

The track athletes especially will be asked to carry on this summer work. The shot putter and hammer throwers and jumpers will likely be provided with weights and standards with which they can do their stunts.

In past years most of the track training has been crowded into the two or three months before the college schedule of meets begins. Captain Martin says that the training schedule next year is to begin as soon as school opens in the fall. Light work will be assigned the men in each event and they will be expected to train as consistently as they do immediately before the spring meets. Some runners can stand more training than others and these will be put through harder stunts, as the coach will be able to judge the character of each by his previous records.

From the number of old track men who have signified their intention of returning and the High School boys who have stated that they would register at the Methodist school next year, the outlook seems bright for a strong track team.

TELLS ABOUT MANY TOURS.

A series of southern tours with maps and detailed information is to be the special feature of the Automobile Blue Book series for 1911. These trips in Florida, Georgia, Alabama and the Carolinas have become popular among Eastern motorists during the last few years and the data given are the most complete that have ever been compiled. The first issue of the series, which is the New Jersey section, Volume 3, will be ready for delivery in a few days. Volume 1, which is the New York book, will come out next. The New England and Chicago editions are to follow. The Chicago book contains all of the popular western tours, while the southern touring department is to be found in the New Jersey edition.

TANK DRAMMER AT PANTAGES.

MANAGER WALKER THE DAMP NEARLY-STAR.

Vaudeville House Resembled Fine Day in Portland—And the Littlest Norrin Was Real Tank Surgeon. Derrick Required to Hoist Miniature Ocean Bottom Out of Trouble.

Pantages Theater was as wet as a fine day in Portland yesterday.

The Norrins' swimming tank, containing about 1500 gallons of water, sprung a leak in the bottom after the matinee, and before first aid to the injured could be administered there was water all over the stage and the basement, and Manager Carl Walker was about driven to drink, though not to drink the water.

This tank is twelve feet long, nine feet high and six feet wide, and contains approximately eleven thousand, six hundred and sixty-four pounds of water. Now that's some water.

How the leak started is a mystery, but as the stage doorkeeper was leaving the theater after the matinee, he noticed a stream of water running from underneath the tank, and in three seconds had aviated to Walker's office with the information.

When Walker arrived on the scene the stream had reached the proportions of a spring freshet. The tank is built about six inches off the floor of the stage, and the leak was just about in the center of the bottom—a splendid example of the true perversity of inanimate things. Walker sent the doorkeeper out for help, and got down on his hands and knees to try to reach underneath, and stop the flow temporarily with his hand.

The watter gave him the Minnehaha and he got, up looking like an accident at Ocean Park. He has, so far, been unable to give any specific description of his state of mind.

Returned then the doorkeeper with several stage hands whom, with true instinct, he had located at an ice cream foundry near by.

The assemblage now resolved itself into a committee of the whole and debated ways and means of healing the gaping wound in the tank, while the water continued sawing wood.

To raise the tank without a derick was out of the question, and to get a derrick would have taken too long—not to mention the fact that to get a derrick into the building it would have been necessary to unbuild the theater.

Somebody suggested stuffing a lot of gunny sacks underneath and ramming them so tight the water couldn't shove its way through. After a frantic search, three sacks were found that wouldn't have stopped a leak in a fountain pen.

By this time the runaway water was disseminating its aqueous ramifications throughout the temple of art. (That's what they call the theater when Alexander Pantages is in town.) Walker dispatched a messenger to the hotel where the Norrins are stopping and started to compute results.

He estimated that about one tenth of the water had escaped and already there was enough water in the theater to float a battleship. (How these theatrical men do exaggerate!) He figured that when the tank was empty the whole building would float out into the middle of Broadway, and began to dope out a line of advertising for "Maritime Vaudeville."

And all the while the water kept gurgling pretty litttle gurgs and dancing merrily down the stairs into the basement, making the cutest little noises, but nobody stopped to write poetry about it. It would have delighted the heart of a rancher to have sicked the proposition on a thirsty orchard, but eleven thousand pounds of water running amuck around a theater is no cue for the joybells.

At last Louise Norrin (the littlest one) rushed in.

"What's the mater with you fellows? Can't any of you swim?"

Without waiting to give a diagram of this remark she hurried to her dressing-room and in a few seconds was back in her bathing tights. She climbed to the side of the tank and asked for a roll of tarpaulin that was lying beside the structure. With this under her arm she dived to the bottom, spread the sheet out, held it a few seconds while the water forced it into place, and then rose to the surface.

Then about a hundred pounds of girl sat on the edge of a tank and delivered a brief lecture on tank surgery to about a thousand pounds of the meekest men ever assembled on one stage.

NEW TIGER COACH.

Occidental Finds Friend of Ed Merrill at University of South Dakota.

Joseph A. Pipal, for the last two years athletic instructor at the University of South Dakota, will have charge of all athletics at Occidental College after September 1, of this year. This announcement was made to the men of the Tiger institution by President Baer yesterday morning.

For a long time Dr. Baer and the members of the faculty have been searching for a suitable man to conduct the athletics of the institution. When it was known that the position was vacant, thirty-two men from all parts of the country applied for the place. Every applicant was thoroughly investigated and Pipal was finally chosen as the best qualified to meet the needs existing at the Highland Park school.

Pipal has had a large and successful experience as a coach of athletic teams. He is a graduate of Beloit College, where he played on all the 'varsity teams. He was a classmate of Dr. E. S. Merrill, who is at present coaching the Tiger baseball team.

After graduating from Beloit Pipal spent a year at Chicago under Coach Stagg. Since that time he has held a position as coach in several schools. He coached Doane College, Nebraska, one year; Bellevue College, three years; Dickinson College, three years; and the University of South Dakota for the last two years. His work at all these schools was satisfactory. During the time spent at the University of South Dakota, he has turned out championship teams in every line of athletics.

The new coach will leave the University of South Dakota at the close of the present school year. He is to have complete charge of all athletics. His reputation as a coach and as an advocate of clean athletics, has given the Tigers a hope that the hard luck of the past three seasons will be changed by the advent of this new coach.

REYNOLDS LAMBERT AGENT.

H. M. Reynolds, an enthusiastic automobile owner, and a firm believer in friction-driven motor cars, has purchased the agency for the Lambert line of friction-driven cars. He has closed an order with the Lambert factory for a shipment of cars, which should arrive here about the middle of May. Reynolds has high hopes for the future of the automobile industry and told a friend recently that the automobile business is still in its infancy. The Lambert line this year is interesting and includes a number of classy models.

POWERS FOR NEW LEAGUE.

there are several players who have been outlawed by the two big leagues, who want to play for the Pacific Coast League.

"If this outlawr idea should grow, and the minor leagues abandon their obedience to the two big leagues, it would mean larger salaries for the players, and eventually a better class of players.

"There are many cities in the Middle West and in the East which are good baseball towns, but they are entirely subservient to the demands of the big leagues in other cities. The American Association, which has some of the best baseball teams in the United States, could be easily amplified a little and become a league of the first water and a direct competitor to the American and National leagues. This would undoubtedly help baseball.

"The distance that the Pacific Coast cities are from the East or Middle West prohibits the teams here becoming members of a new league, but I think that the future will see some of the best baseball in the United States played on the Coast. It will be a fact if the teams are successful in keeping their good men and not compelled to deliver them over to the two big leagues."

Mr. Powers, who is accompanied by Mrs. Powers, will remain in Los Angeles for one year. He has recently purchased a piece of property in Hollywood and will shortly begin the work of building a handsome home. After the completion of the home he will spend every winter in California and his summers in the East.

EXCHANGE HANDICAP.

Plate Glass Wins Third Straight Victory—Racing Man and Commissioner Bounced.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NORFLOK, April 19.—Plate Glass won his third straight victory when he finished six lengths in front of G. M. Miller today in the Exchange handicap.

C. C. Smithson, a leading southern racing man, and his commissioner, A. J. Walser, were denied the privileges of the Hamestown Jockey Club. This was the aftermath of the race yesterday won by Stinger, which resulted in the suspension of Jockey McCabe, riding Besom, because of the latter's apparent hold-up when seemingly about to win the race.

The stewards announced they would not allow any horses to race under the care of Nat Byers, trainer of Besom, which finished third yesterday when he could have won, according to the officials.

Summaries:

Seven furlongs: Corinth won, Idle Michael second, Racewell third; time, 1:28.

Four and one-half furlongs: Overman won, Floridas Beauty second, Los Bos third; time, 0:56 2-5.

Five and one-half furlongs: Royal Onyx won, Mon Ami second, Grandissimo third; time, 1:06 2-5.

Seven furlongs: Plate Glass won, G. M. Miller second, Judge Monck third; time, 1:27 4-5.

Mile: Idleweiss won, Little Friar second, Capt. Swanson third; time, 1:42 2-5.

Mile and a sixteenth: Chepontac won, Lawton Wiggins second, Warden third; time, 1:49 1-2.

SUCCESSFUL MOTOR RUN.

Regal Wins in Texas Over Strenuous Route and Finishes Tour on the Rims of Wheels.

So successful was the Bering cup run in Texas this month that its promoters have decided to make it an annual affair. Seven hundred and fifty miles in the form of a huge square were covered by the twelve autos that entered.

Starting from Houston, the square shaped route shot northwest to Austin, southwest to San Antonio, southeast to Corpus Christi on the coast of the gulf and then northeast to Houston.

None of the cars finished with a perfect technical score. The pilot car, which was a Regal "30," was awarded first. The machine ran perfectly, but had one blowout within twenty miles of the finish. In order to reach the destination first the Regal finished on the rim. A spring was broken, but this did not impede the running of the machine.

New York Cotton Markets.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members of the New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth st., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—The feature today was the easier tone to the Liverpool market and indications for more favorable weather in the southwest. The trading in the local market was on a small scale and at this time market turned soft, but on each little dip of 5 to 6 points support was given by brokers acting for the leading spot and bullish interest which had the effect of steadying prices and discouraging short selling. However, the market has the appearance of being overbought and we believe liquidation will be sufficient to prevent any further sustained advance at the moment. We look for further decline.

Logan & Bryan's letter says:

"The cotton crop of the United States is grown in eight States and the inhabitants of about four others States permit a portion of their inhabitants to engage in its manufacture. Aside from these few people, the rest of the inhabitants of this country do not seem to realize that without cotton as an export the trade balance would be against us, they do not comprehend that it is the nation's greatest asset, and they mentally magnify the profit which accrues to the producer, and they greatly exaggerate the possibility of an increased cost to the consumer of an article, in which we of the United States are insignificant when compared with the rest of the world. The banking interests outside the cotton belt, most of all, have never appreciated the intrinsic merit of the staple, and have shown more or less indifference to the commercial bills which, cotton creates. The forgery of bills of lading for cotton is used as a stock argument against the price of cotton, when such a forgery in other commercial walks would have properly been classified as dishonesty. When the other forty States of this country awaken to the immensity of the financial contribution made by the eight-cotton producers a closer watch will be kept on the crop possibilities and a better understanding had of the ever increasing needs of the world for cotton and the mental antagonism against 15-cent cotton will cease. Those who have never seen a cotton field can easily prove on paper that the American crop can and will expand in size by leaps and bounds, but those who have seen the boll weevil at work and have watched the blistering summer sun wither the plant are much more conservative in their ideas. The South has always planted all the land to cotton she had labor to work and some of her crop failures have been from undertaking too large and too small an acreage. Until the South has an influx of immigration or until its people are educated to more intensified farming and such an education is the work of a decade, no material increase of yield may be expected. The eastward march of the weevil will more than counterbalance the increase of area which may come in the territory not yet infested. For the past ten years the eight States which employ fertilizer have about brought their lands to the maximum of fecundity and the added use does not always imply an added supply. It is exceedingly human for all people to be hopeful at the incipiency of every undertaking and those who plant and raise cotton are the most hopeful of the tribe."

Shipments of strawberries are going out in splendid manner this week. The commission men who are specialising in that line are not bringing their berries to Los Angeles first and then repacking for shipment as in former years, but most of them ship direct from the fields, refrigerating right there and getting much better and quicker shipments by the method. The berries are going as far north as Seattle and are distributed well through all of the territory west of the Mississippi. Idaho, Wyoming, Texas, Arizona and Nevada are the States that are getting the largest shipments. A few berries have been shipped all the way to Chicago. Locally the price of berries remains vry steady on account of the heavy movement of the crops to other sections. Guavas are practically off the market. Loquats have been rather slow in arrival this week.

The egg market was exceedingly firm. Receipts of the product were rather short by comparison with arrivals of the past week. They only totaled 351 cases.

The demand for butter continues very fair with the prevailing low prices. Arrivals were only 19,678 pounds. The demand was not the only cause for strength, but lighter arrivals for several days have caused firmness.

Receipts of cheese totaled 433 pounds. The demand for the commodity rested in Northern fresh, which brought 13¼ cents, Arizona product stock at 15 cents and Swiss imported at 25 cents, jobbing.

Potato arrivals were 2731 sacks. The demand for spuds was of a very lively character and prices continued strong. Receipts of onions totaled 200 sacks. The demand for them was fair. Other staple vegetables were without change.

The market on prunes increased 1 cent a pound on all gradings owing to the fact that there are few prunes left in the hands of the jobbers and the brokers have entirely cleaned up any stock they have had to sell. Other dried fruit is also firm owing to the increase in prunes.

Several of the nut varieties have advanced for the reason that they are practically all off the market. The demand for them is not of any proportion at this season. A few cocoanuts are arriving from the South Sea Islands. They are selling from $1 to $1.25 per dozen.

In vegetables fresh beans were one of the chief features. They are moving at 15 cents a pound. Cucumbers from Southern Texas are coming in and are bringing $2 per dozen on anything like fancy stock. Peppers of the hot variety are being shipped in from Florida. Other vegetables hold at the same figures.

WALL STREET IS CONFUSED.

UNCERTAIN AS TO OUTCOME OF MISSOURI PACIFIC AFFAIRS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—Wall Street was confused today by the situation arising from yesterday's crisis in the affairs of Missouri Pacific, which constituted the chief influence in the stock market. Uncertainty as to the outcome of the disruption on the road's directorate and the withdrawal of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.'s representatives, and vague fears of further complications gave rise to some uneasiness, but strong support which was offered defeated attempts to depress prices. Missouri Pacific was the strongest stock in the list, although a number of other issues made good gains. Although the advance of Missouri Pacific from 45¾ in January, to 63 in February, was based on the news that new interests commanding the financial world would assume control, definite severance of these relations brought no corresponding disturbance. The belief was general that discontinuance of relations between the Goulds and the Kuhn-Loeb interests would not interfere with plans for meeting the financial requirements of the system. A report which was spread late in the day that substantial banking interests had agreed to take up the responsibility of financing the road met with general acceptance, the more readily because the bankers mentioned in that connection are known to the identified closely with the Rockefeller interests. There were few variations in prices of stocks until the last hour, when the bears made a final drive. The market wavered and broke, but was supported as promptly and efficiently as in the morning. Stocks rose quickly to the best level of the day, Missouri Pacific making a net gain of 2⅝ and other issues showing substantial advances. London again bought freely in this market. Mexicans were higher from London on more cheerful advices as to the outlook. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,252,000. Government bonds were unchanged on call.

some extraordinary player. It is not likely that we shall see "L'Aiglon" often; our modern drama, quite the opposite, has a tendency to banish such works from public favor.

The interpreting company seems very fine. Often poor companies journey with great luminaries—in fact, almost always. Mme. Bernhardt and manager Connor, seem, however, to have steered clear of this pitfall. "L'Aiglon" is a one-part vehicle, hence the only man who impressed himself deeply on my attention last evening was M. Maxudian, a polished, resourceful, reserved and greatly experienced character actor, in a quiet, subtle and keenly intellectual depiction of Metternich, the very practical Austrian politician.

There are a number of beautiful women with the company.

After the performance, still feeling enthusiastic, Mme. Bernhardt released her newest piece, Maeterinch's "Sister Beatrice."

Then to bed a short while before dawn, and up this morning before many readers of The Times, to be a guest of the Bannings on an early trip to Catalina.

Such has been her existence for more than fifty years.

Tonight, "Camille."

Un Triomph.

ENCORE JEUNE EST BERNHARDT.

"L'AIGLON" PAR BOSTAND VU A MASON OPERAHOUSE.

Les Annees Montrent Peu de Marques Sur Grande Artiste. Possede Encore Charm—Garde Magnetisme et Emotions de Jeunesse.

PAR WILLARD H. WRIGHT.

Cinq ans sont passes depuis que nous avons eu le plaisir de gouter a l'incomparable genie de Mme. Sarah Bernhardt. Pendant sa derniere visite ses circonstances etaient loin d'etre favorables. Forcee, comme elle l'etait, de chercher un theatre independant, elle donna ses representations a Venice bien loin de la ville. Mais cette semaine les choses se passerent d'une toute autre maniere. Les representations ont lieu dans un des plus somptueux theatres de la ville—le Mason Operahouse. Pour a voir le public n'aura pas tous les inconvenients qui characteriserent sa derniere visite.

Malgre son age, Mme. Sarah garde une vitalite intarissable et des ressources d'une spiritualite presque divine. Sa febrile individualite se sentait encore quand elle joua le role du jeune duc dans "L'Aiglon" de Rostand. Elle res autour d'elle une atmosphere vibrante, presque fascinante, il n'y a aucun doute, qui a fait plus pour la mettre dans la position d'histrionique preeminence dans laquelle elle se trouve que tous les merites de ses nombreuses interpretations.

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, avec l'aide de quelque etrange et incomprehensible secret, a toujours semble plus divine qu'humaine. Ce quelque chose illusoire de sa nature—ce quelque chose d'inexplicable que nous appelons magnetisme, toujours etc. frappant. Je n'ai jamais vu que deux autres actrices qui semblaient posseder cette maniere exquise et intangible—Nazimova et la Duse; mais ils n'avaient pas pour moi l'irresistible fascination de la Sarah. Elle surpasse tout!—non seulement comme la plus capable des actrices de nos jours, mais aussi elle nous attire plus qu'aucune autre artiste par une force que nous avons appele "divine," en attendant un mot plus expressif.

Pour elle, les annees se sont suivi avec lenteur. Ils n'ont pourtant pas detruit tout a fait cette merveilleuse creature, qui a sue les laiser passer et garder sa jeunesse. Et pourtant ils ont laisse leur trace. Elle n'est pas la meme. Alas! "Quand meme" (sa deuxieme preferee) les nombreux hivers ont ete les couleurs d'ete. L'ouedeur de la beaute ne nous hante plus comme autrefois. Sa jolie taille, jadis si verdoyante, si mince et si sinueuse, a perdu de son ancienne elasticite. La merveilleuse jeunesse, qui s'echappait de son corps comme un parfum subtil, n'existe plus. Sa voix qui vibrait comme les sons d'une violoncelle et s'elevait a des hauteurs inconnues et retombait avec des ondulations exquises, a perdu sa qualite d'antin. Son visage qui nous attirait avec tant de force quand elle jouait Cleopatre, n'a plus le meme attrait. Les annees semblent avoir comprise la grande artiste, et avoir voulu lui accorder des privileges, quoiqu'ils ont laisse leur marque.

Mais malgre qu'exterieurement des changements ont eu lieu, le feu de sa natures. Aujourd'hui, la sorcellerie de creer est devenu plus puissant avec l'age, et ses conceptions sont plus pures. Aujourd'hui, la sorcellerie feminine de son art est aussi puissante qu'elle. Les emotions de printemps sont encore manifest. Elle sait faire sentir son assistance ce qu'elle ressent. Chacun de ses mouvements represente une nature en accord avec toutes les tristesses et profondeurs des sentiments humains.

Dans "L'Aiglon" elle etait captivante, irresistible, poignante et pleine de vie. Son art est eternellement jeune et glorieux. Il n'y a aucun signe d'age dans son couer. Hier soir a l'opera, son succes fut immense. Par moment on oubliait presque la fait qu'elle appartenait deja au crepuscule de la vie, elle etait superbe . . . vivante.

ABOUT ENOUGH OF HIM.

Husband Is in Jail for Shooting His Wife, and the Latter Files Petition for Divorce.

A petition for divorce was filed yesterday by Anna Hite against Jerome Hite. This action follows upon Hite's attempt to shoot his wife in June of last year.

Mrs. Hite was bookkeeper and cashier for the Woolwine Automobile Company. Her husband is asserted to have been violently jealous and suspicious of her.

On June 17, he left for Bakersfield on business. She went to pass the night in the room of Mrs. Florence H. Cheney. Hite came back unexpectedly at 1 o'clock in the morning and told her to return to their room. She refused that she would do so, if he would give up the revolver she knew he carried.

He consented, but when they were alone in the room, he raised the gun and fired. The bullet went through her upraised arm and lodged in her neck, inflicting a dangerous wound. Hite fled.

On July 16, he was arrested at Catalina, arraigned before Police Judge Rose, and later bound over to the Superior Court for assault with a deadly weapon. He is now in the County Jail. Mrs. Hite will be represented by Attorney Fleming.

LONG BEACH, April 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The article in The Times of April 16, on "The Cross and the Flag" recalls a suggestive incident.

In the summer of 1859, I was a midshipman on the United States sloop of war Plymouth. We were lying in the harbor of Brest, France, one Sunday morning, and as the hour for divine service approached I was standing on the quarterdeck near the taffrail when two quartermasters came aft. One took hold of the halyards of the ensign, and as the church call was sounded lowered the ensign a few feet, while the other bent on and ran up the church pennant, remarking as he did so: "There goes God Almighty's pennant. The only thing that ever flies above the Stars and Stripes."

General Uprising in Villages Throughout State Comes As a Surprise.

Army of Luis Moya, Operating in Northeast, Captures Small Cities.

Insurrectos Raid Haciendas and Drive Away Peons. Much Looting.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DURANGO (Mex.) April 20.—It is reported here today that following the capture of Papasquiaro by rebels, there has been a general uprising on the ranches and in the villages throughout that region. The number of rebels now under arms in that section is said to be about 2000.

It is reported here today that they have invaded haciendas at Boso and Guatmape, near Santiago, and driven off a large number of peons.

Should the rebels capture this city, the capital of the State, it would be no surprise to the residents. The city is not well garrisoned and the country hereabouts is not unfriendly to the insurrectos.

Operating in the region northeast of this city is the army of Luis Moya, and among the towns that have been 'en-

THE CITY. C. Kopp, a striking mikado, was "caught with the goods on" yesterday morning when he furtively tripped along Main street posting boycott cards on windows and poles. He was arrested and released on bail.

The eighth burglary of a series in which costly ostrich plumes were stolen was committed Wednesday night in the store of W. A. Miller, at No. 745 S. Main. The act appears to be part of a nation-wide scheme of thefts of valuable feathers.

Following the preliminary examination yesterday of Christian Jantzen, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by the exchange of land and securities alleged to be of little value, the defendant was held for trial in the Superior Court. His bail was unable to give the required bond.

The Board of Public Utilities having avoided making a report on the cross-town car line franchise, it is back in the City Council for a fight next Tuesday night.

The city prosecutor yesterday reopened the fight against a lumber company to force it to move one of its yards from a residence district.

John J. Habermann, a wealthy machinist, brought suit yesterday for recover from Charles Wheeler notes valued at $23,000 that he alleged to have been given by Wheeler in getting the notes assigned to her.

By a will filed yesterday in the case of the estate of Christian Hansen, the widow is cut off in favor of a strange woman.

The suit filed a few days ago by Ladd Twiss of Redondo Beach against his alleged kidnaper, Mrs. Nellie Hersey, will be followed by a felony complaint, charging her with abduction, says Otto Trebes, a bondsman.

Peter Fodlinger, a young Italian, ended his life by a revolver shot in an East First street barber shop yesterday morning. His act is believed to be due to despondency over his physical condition. Deeds to several pieces of real estate in Contra Costa county were found in his pocket.

The suit brought by the city of Los Angeles against the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company in an attempt to collect a license tax of $150 per month from the defendant for conveying water in bottles was decided in favor of the defendant by Judge Wellborn in the United States Circuit Court yesterday.

The directors of the Los Angeles Convention League at a meeting yesterday decided to try to raise $10,000 to aid in entertaining the American Medical Association when it meets in this city in June. The $10,000 is to be added to the $15,000 subscribed by physicians here, and the $3000 contributed in Pasadena.
